Northampton Supervisors Zero In on Budget

By Ron West

The Northampton County Board of Supervisors met Monday in an effort to close in on a final figure for the FY2017 county budget and tax rate.

With the latest reassessment, which in some cases has indicated as much as a 20 percent drop in property values, the tax rate will need to be adjusted to insure that the county has sufficient resources to meet its fiscal responsibilities. Based on the revenue projections, the new tax rate would need to be set at 82.53 cents per $100 of property value, if there were no additional funding requests by county agencies.

During the budget work session, the supervisors reviewed a number of funding requests. If all were approved, the tax rate would increase by several additional cents. The consensus of the board was to attempt to keep the tax increase as low as possible, yet fund essential services.

A request to fund additional Emergency Medical Services (EMS) providers was gradually trimmed from 12 to four by the board, with an eye on adding another four, if there is a proven need by the end of the year.

A decision on the School Board's request for an additional $391,000 was put on hold while the supervisors continue to review other funding requests.

While no final decision was made on the tax rate to be advertised, the board noted a desire to hold the tax rate to less than 2 cents above the adjustment required by the reassessment. That would put the new rate at about 84 cents per $100 of valuation.

The board has asked that once the rate is set, examples of the amount of taxes for given properties be published by the media.

In the only other business of the evening, Virginia Department of Transportation Residency Administrator Chris Isdell reported that the top priority of the county's Six-Year Secondary Road Plan is construction of a new road connection for Route 642 in Cape Charles at a projected cost of $11,475,000.

Isdell said the project will go out for bid by early summer, and barring any unforeseen delays, should be completed by the end of 2018.

Chincoteague's Collin Derrickson (left) celebrates after delivering a bases-loaded double in the top of the seventh inning to erase a one-run Nandua lead last Thursday as the Ponies won a key Shore District clash 7-4. Nandua's second baseman, John Kilmon appears to be less excited. The two teams play again Tuesday on Chincoteague at 4 p.m. See Page 24 for more details.

Range of General Assembly Actions Will Affect Shore

By Ron West

The annual Eggs and Issues event, sponsored by Eastern Shore Chamber of Commerce April 22 at Eastern Shore Yacht and Country Club, offered updates from state and county leaders on General Assembly bills, as well as local issues on the Eastern Shore.

State Sen. Lynwood Lewis stated that once again, the state budget dominated the recent General Assembly session in Richmond. As in the past, funding for transportation projects and education reform occupied much of the session.

Noteworthy among the education bills passed were efforts to provide more physical activity time for children as well as working to eliminate and refine some of the Standards of Learning.

Lewis noted the importance of Wallops, the spaceport, and the Navy to the Eastern Shore. The possibility of additional unmanned aerial vehicles (drones) at the Wallops facility offers an opportunity to bring additional jobs to the area, he said.

Del. Rob Bloxom spoke of the possibility of expanding the Port of Cape Charles as an extension of Hampton Roads as a way to grow the economy of Northampton County. Having an inland port would allow goods to be shipped via rail or truck without having to face the snarled transportation system found in Hampton Roads.

Bloxom said the development of programs at Eastern Shore Community College, such as the truck driver's course to help individuals earn a commercial driver's license, has the potential to train and place qualified drivers into transportation jobs.

Accomack County Board of Supervisors Chairman Ron Wolff noted numerous economic advancements that are benefiting the county. High on the list are developments at Wallops and the establishment of a new solar facility in the northern end of the county.

Wolff noted that the poultry industry, while controversial to some, is an economic driver in Accomack County, employing thousands in the processing plants and poultry houses, and creating jobs for technology workers, fuel sales, transportation services, and numerous other secondary jobs.

Wolff mentioned that the possibility that the federal government will limit access to Assateague Beach poses a problem for Chincoteague. A related issue could be limitations on the use and access to the waters surrounding Assateague and Chincoteague.

Northampton County Board Chairman Spencer Murray spoke of the need to regain the trust of the citizens in all levels of government — local, state, and federal. "If we can increase public trust and faith in our leaders, other issues and decisions will be easier," he told the gathering.

Public Comment Sought on Economic Plan

Local Coast Guard Leaders Honored

Story and photos by Ron West

Last week, Chief Bos'n Mate Nicholas Crews, officer-in-charge of Coast Guard Station Wachapreague, and Senior Chief Bos'n Mate Charles Gordon, the former leaser of Station Wachapreague and now officer-in-charge of Station Little Creek were among more than 20 members of the Coast Guard recently had the mantle of leadership placed promoted and honored at a ceremony conducted in Portsmouth, Va.

Known as the Chief's Call to Indocriation (CCTI), the ceremony serves as a formal introduction to the command and informs that command that a new senior enlisted leader is present and ready to accept the additional responsibilities of leader and mentor.

It also provides the new chief petty officer with a better understanding of the importance of camaraderie among chief petty officers to help further personal, unit, and organizational goals.

The CCTI program ensures that the history, heritage, and traditions of the Coast Guard will remain integral parts of it.

In the weeks and months prior to the ceremony, each chief was tasked with completing two projects, which would be displayed at the CCTI event.

Chief Charles Gordon with his projects

The first, known as a "Charge Book," is a decorative binder used to collect pieces of memorabilia relating to the CCTI. It contains instructive and encouraging charges and comments.

The second project was to construct a "Chief's Cover Box" to display their dress uniform cover (cap).

Each newly minted chief, regardless of background in woodworking, must construct each of the projects, which should be easily identifiable with the chief's specialty and background.

The winning cover box was judged to be the one built by Gordon.

The ceremony culminated with each new chief being pinned with the collar devices representing his or her rank.

All chief petty officers in the audience removed one of their own collar devices and placed it in a cover. Each newly promoted chief then selected one of the devices, which was placed on his own uniform by a family member, friend or mentor. Selecting a pin from those in the cover allowed each new chief to share the experience and knowledge of those who have gone before in leadership roles.

Accomack Circuit Court

Forty-three-year-old Oak Hall resident Deandre Brown, who is deaf, and four sign-language interpreters proved in Accomack Circuit Court Friday that Brown is competent to serve as a witness in the first-degree murder trial of Marcus Mitchell Davis, 28, of Atlantic.

Brown was asked dozens of questions and showed he is capable of testifying at the May trial. The questions dealt with his ability to understand and communicate, not with last year's death of Jacques DuVual Fauntleroy, 35, of Atlantic.

Davis also is charged with use of a firearm in the death.

Fauntleroy died from gunshot wounds to the torso, according to the medical examiner's office.

"He has capacity," Judge W. Revell Lewis said in ruling that Brown will be allowed to testify. "The court denies the motion," made by defense lawyer James Broccoletti of Norfolk that Hall is incompetent.

Lewis granted Broccoletti's motion to allow a video camera to record Brown's testimony and its interpretation.

Davis has been held without bond in Accomack Jail since he was arrested, shortly after the shooting.

Marquis Lamar Corbin, 27, of Fire-side Road in Chesapeake, Va., formerly of Temperanceville, was sentenced to five years on each of three counts of distribution of cocaine and a count of possession with intent to distribute the drug. All but 12 months was suspended. His driver's license was suspended for 24 months. The offenses occurred Jan. 22 and 23 and Feb. 5 and 7, 2013.

Chelsea Renae Thompson, 25, of Ranson, W.Va., was sentenced for grand larceny of property belonging to Eula Mae Powers between May 12 and 25, 2014, to three years, with all but four months suspended.

Norris Ray Beasley, 24, of Nashville Road in Onancock was sentenced to three years on each of two counts of assault and battery of Accomack Deputies B. Davis and L.N. Higgins on March 13, 2015. The terms were set to run consecutively, with all but 12 months suspended.

Jay Anthony McGlown, 22, of Tower Road in Belle Haven was convicted of grand larceny that occurred on April 19, 2015. Sentencing was deferred until May 5 so a presentence report can be completed.

Valice Franklin Earl Smith, 32, of Horntown was sentenced to five years in prison, with all but three months suspended, on each of two counts of distributing cocaine as an accommodation. He was sentenced to three years for possession of cocaine, with all but a month suspended. The terms were set to run consecutively. His driver's license was suspended for six months. The crimes occurred Oct. 7 and 8, 2015.

Northampton Circuit Court

Sentencing was deferred Monday in Northampton Circuit Court until presentence reports can be prepared for:

- Glenn Derric Belton, 59, of Virginia Beach, Va., who pleaded guilty to two counts of identity fraud, as well as credit-card theft and credit-card fraud;
- Christina Douglas, 31, of Eastville, who pleaded guilty to two counts of assault and battery of a police officer, obstruction, and two counts of disorderly conduct;

- Marilyn Hughes, 29, of Cape Charles, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny, larceny from the person, destruction of property, assault and battery, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor;

- Nathaniel Johnson, 29, of Painter, who was found guilty of hit and run and driving on a revoked license.

Tony Neil Barnum, 42, of Tucson, Ariz. was sentenced for possession with the intent to distribute more than five pounds of marijuana to 10 years, with all but two years and seven months suspended.

Kimberly Ann Collins, 30, of Cheriton was sentenced for credit-card fraud and stealing a credit card to four years, with all but eight months suspended, on each count, to run concurrently.

Public Asked For Suggestions on Former Middle School

By Ron West

Northampton County Economic Development Director Kris Tucker told Cape Charles Town Council last Thursday that county leaders are seeking the town's input on the future use of the former middle-school building in Machipongo.

At previous county sessions, a number of suggestions have been offered, but the county has yet to make a decision. Mayor George Proto and council agreed to take it under advisement, but made no public recommendations.

Proto and Harbormaster Charlie Farlow reported that an estimated 100 people attended the ninth annual blessing of the fleet April 15. Proto thanked those who assisted and noted his appreciation for the color guard from Coast Guard Station Cape Charles, as well as the Coast Guard Auxiliary vessel that towed the ceremonial wreath out to sea.

Farlow reported that a grant request for a fourth offshore breakwater has been submitted to the Virginia Port Authority. If the town is awarded the grant, the fourth breakwater would add protection to the inner harbor from wind-driven waves from the southwest and west. Each breakwater costs approximately $800,000.

Cape Charles has received the title to a 29-foot sailboat and plans to auction it to raise money for the town.

In a related area, the harbormaster provided council with a list of names of those who are delinquent in paying their fees at the harbor. Farlow explained that many harbors, especially those that serve commercial vessels, often allow their regular clients to charge items such as fuel for up to one month. Many of the individuals who owe sizable amounts date back several years and in some cases, the individuals are no long living in the immediate area. The town is in the process of seeking warrants and judgments against the vessel owners. According to the information provided, the total owed to the town is in excess of $70,000.

Two fireworks displays are being planned for July. One, the traditional Fourth of July event, will occur on July 4th. The second, still in the planning stages, is being considered for an area near Kiptopeke, and if things go as planned, would occur July 2. It would be sponsored not by the town, but rather by a private entity.

Council supported requests to construct or modify structures adjacent to the harbor. The first, submitted by Southport Investors, is to construct a small bathhouse and dockmaster station on the south side of the harbor. The second request, also by Southport Investors, is to modify a structure known as the Harvey Building to serve as a small retail establishment. The Harvey Building was located in Oyster, but has been moved to Cape Charles. Both requests were approved on a 5-0 vote, with Councilman Tom Godwin absent from the session.

Craddockville Carver's Mother Passes Away

Mrs. Margaret A. McNair, 91, of Nassawadox, formerly of Guilford and Madison, Conn., died peacefully in the early hours of Monday, April 25, 2016.

Born Margaret Alice McKeon in New Haven, Conn., she was the daughter of the late John J. and Grace (Gildea) McKeon and sister of Mary Grace (McKeon) Malarkey. A lifelong resident of Connecticut, she was a graduate of St. Francis School of Nursing in Hartford. Mrs. McNair relocated to the Eastern Shore of Virginia in 2010.

A wordsmith extraordinaire, always at the ready with a new joke, tinkling the ivories at every opportunity, that was Mrs. McNair. She encouraged all three of her children to pursue their artistic talents as well, making sure art, theater, and piano classes were taken throughout their childhoods.

If you asked Mrs. McNair what the most important things in life were to her, there's no doubt that her family and her abiding faith in God would top the list.

Her eldest child, Mark, and his wife, Martha, of Craddockville gifted her with three grandchildren and filled the last five years of her life here on the Eastern Shore with love and community, a true home. Daughter Betsy McNair of Santa Cruz, Calif., brought her great joy — and plenty of delicious food — despite the distance. Her youngest, Paul, grew into one of her closest confidants and best friends, evidenced by the hours and hours of phone calls chatting about everything and nothing. He and his wife, Emma, and son, Gavin, of Philadelphia, Pa., spent every holiday possible with "Nanny."

Mrs. McNair also leaves three grandchildren and their spouses, Delana and Justin Tomkins of Poole, England, Ian and Becca McNair of Charlottesville, Va., and Colin and Kate McNair of Cambridge, Mass. Her fourth grandchild, Gavin McNair, lives in Philadelphia. Great-grandchildren Currituck and Olivia live in England visited often. Her sister Mary's four children, John Malarkey, Beth Maroney, Bob Malarkey, and David Malarkey, were loved by her beyond measure, as was she by them.

All are welcome to celebrate Mrs. McNair's life at a memorial service Sunday, May 1, at noon at Franktown United Methodist Church.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that you plant something blooming, listen to a lovely piece of music, or say a prayer in her name. Family and friends may sign the guest book at www.hollandfuneralhome.net

Arrangements were made by Holland Funeral Home in Nassawadox.

Citizens Voice Opinions on Loaded Cell Phones, Pet Peeves

By Linda Cicaira

A large majority — 91 percent — of local residents who participated in a recent email survey conducted by the Eastern Shore Post agreed manufacturers should not be allowed to make firearms that look like cell phones.

“No, definitely not, there are too many guns now in unconscionable hands,” wrote Shirley Christian of Melfa. “Every day, the news is filled with drive-by shootings, robberies with guns and gun-involved murders. Our whole society has turned into who can prove they are more superior because they have the bigger or better gun and can get away using it. ... I’m glad I was a kid when I was. If you got caught with gum in school, you were in trouble, now it’s guns.”

According to www.snopes.com, “these phones have not hit the U.S. but they are in use overseas.”

The devices look like “a regular cell phone — same size, same shape, same overall appearance,” the website states. “But beneath the digital face lies a .22-caliber pistol ... capable of firing four rounds in quick succession with a touch of the otherwise standard keypad.”

Bill Mapp of Exmore said the devices are “too likely to end up with more innocent people being shot ... of course, now that it has been invented, it can’t be un-invented. Get ready.”

“Just the sight of a typical gun is enough to scare off some assailants,” wrote Karen Simpson of Quinby. “I also want the true impact of a .357, .380, 9mm, .44 etc. Can you imagine a cell phone gun in the hands of our children? What possible beneficial reason could there be for a cell phone gun?”

“Guns in any shape or form are not the problem; it’s the people who use them,” replied Denise Bowden of Chincoteague Island. “There are all shapes of vehicles, but that doesn’t stop a drunk driver from killing someone.”

“How ridiculous,” said Patsy Goard of Hallwood. “Absolutely not! Can you imagine the annoying customer that always stands in line at Food Lion talking on their cell phone and not responding to the cashier ... and they accidentally pull out the wrong ‘cell phone?’”

Participants also were asked, “What is the biggest thing that others do that offends you?”

“The thing that bugs me the most is the general lack of courtesy,” wrote Anthony LoFaso of Onancock. “People don’t use their turn signals, leave their shopping carts feet away from the racks, don’t say ‘thank you’ for opening a door for them, blast their music in quiet residential areas, let trash fly out of their cars or back of trucks. People are too focused on themselves and inconsiderate of others.”

“The biggest thing that offends me is when I see the veterans and homeless people neglected in our country,” said Wanda Johnson of Eastville.

“The act of being pretentious offends me,” wrote Lynn Bowen of Townsend. “Please, pretentious people, get over yourselves.”

Simpson had a list. “There are just too many offenses in today’s world for me to name only one. The top five should certainly include lying, not obeying rules/laws, apathy, intolerance and greed,” she wrote

Judy Brunk of Jamesville said, “Use of the F-word anytime, anywhere” offends her.

Goard is offended with those who “crack jokes about people being special ed. Special education is such a necessity for children to be given the learning experience to grow and mature in the way that fits their needs. Some cannot conform to the standard classroom for various reasons. Having witnessed firsthand how challenging it can be, it’s not a joking matter.”

Robert Doughty of South Chesconnessex said, “When people brag about how great the place is that they came from, that’s offending.”

Carrie Jacobson of Wachapreague said, “Apart from the big things like murder, abuse, lying, cheating, etc., I’d say that people’s self-centeredness is most disappointing. If we all listened to each other better, quit worrying about our own selves for a minute, the world would be a better place. I don’t think I’m actually ‘offended’ by this — or by much of anything, really — but as I said, I’m disappointed.”

Wrote Greg L. Duncan Sr. of Accomack, “I have learned and try to inspire others to ‘know what they are working with.’ Then getting offended is not as big of an issue.”

Jim Chapman of Cheriton said those who drive slowly in the left lane offend him.

Bowden is offended by the offended. “That people are offended by everything,” offends her. “You can’t say or do anything because people get all bent out of shape over the dumbest things. Grow up, get a life, go out and make a difference,” she said.

Perdue Donates Money, Food to Foodbank

The Foodbank of Southeastern Virginia and the Eastern Shore has received a $10,000 grant from the Franklin P. and Arthur W. Perdue Foundation to support the Backpack Program serving Virginia's Eastern Shore (the Foodbank).

Perdue Farms also contributed 11,000 pounds of lean protein products as part of the donation. This combined contribution will enable the Foodbank to distribute over 37,000 meals in Northampton and Accomack counties.

"Perdue has supported the Foodbank for over two decades and this latest gift demonstrates their continued passion and support of the goal to solve hunger in our community," said Charmin L. Horton, branch manager for the Foodbank. "Being able to ensure the children of the Eastern Shore have the nutrition they need and to distribute healthy items like lean chicken is critical because it is a great source of protein that our customers need in their daily diet, but often have to go without."

"The Foodbank providing backpacks full of nutritious food every other weekend to at-risk families makes certain that no child will go hungry when they are not in school. We are very happy to be able to continue our support of this worthwhile effort through funding from the foundation," said Kim Nechay, executive director of the Franklin P. and Arthur W. Perdue Foundation. "At the same time, we have also brought along 11,000 pounds of protein to help the Foodbank provide nutritious meals to children, seniors and families facing hunger in Northampton and Accomack counties through its various programs. In a country as rich in resources as ours, we believe no one should go hungry."

A nationally-replicated initiative providing nourishing food to children at high risk for hunger, the Backpack Program picks up where school meal programs leave off. Each distribution provides a child with five nutritious weekend/holiday meals, including main-course items, oatmeal, fruit, vegetables and healthy snacks.

Local Players End Games with Walk-off Hits

Earlier this month, Whitney Davis, former Nandua softball player, slammed a two-run, walk-off home run to cap a four-rally and lift her Radford softball team over Gardner-Webb in a dramatic 11-9 win to complete a three-game sweep of the Big South Conference series.

A senior, Davis leads Radford in home runs (8) and RBIs (30) in 47 games, while holding down first base after playing much of her career at third and shortstop. A three-sport star at Nandua, Davis is in the top 10 in Radford softball history in slugging percentage and home runs.

Just last Sunday, Zach Mills, who completed his outstanding baseball career at Arcadia in 2015, rapped a walk-off single to lead University of Maryland Eastern Shore to an 11-inning, 4-3 victory over Delaware State.

Mills, a freshman gaining more and more playing time, is covering left field after also handling some pitching duties earlier in the season. Mills is hitting .289, second highest on the Seahawk team.

There's nothing like a walk-off hit to spark a celebration among teammates. To go from being tied and facing extra innings or behind and staring at defeat to winning the game with one swing of the bat empties the dugout for a raucous celebration at home.

And walk-off hits always happen at home, so the victors also have their supporters to join in the celebration and leave the ballpark happy.

The term "walk-off" gets its name from the fact that the opposing pitcher and his teammates have to walk off the field devastated by the sudden turn of events.

In the annals of Major League baseball, walk-off homers made legends of Bobby Thomson in 1951, Bill Mazeroski in '60, Kirk Gibson in '89 and Joe Carter in '93.

Zach Mills

Whitney Davis

Thomson's home run sent the Giants to the World Series and is called "The Shot Heard Around the World." Gibson limped out of the dugout to give the Dodgers a win with a walk-off homer in the opening game of the World Series against Oakland. Carter's blast gave the Blue Jays the Series title in six games. And in all of baseball history, Mazeroski is still the only player to end the seventh game of the World Series with a walk-off homer, lifting the Pittsburgh Pirates to an improbable win over the New York Yankees.

Baseball is all about statistics. There are stats that cover virtually every movement of the game. I saw a stat this week that details the ultimate walk-off home run — a grand slam to erase a 3-run lead with two outs. It has occurred 15 times in baseball history.

The career leader in walk-off hits is Hall of Famer Frank Robinson with 27. Dusty Baker, current manager of the Washington Nationals, is second with 25.

Derek Jeter, the Yankee great who retired in 2014, had relatively few walk-off hits in his career, but he had a flair for the dramatic. His final hit was a walk-off single. His 3000th hit was a homer and a game-winning RBI.

At any level, a walk-off hit is a singular moment in sports — as local players like Davis and Mills can attest.

Chincoteague Comeback Caps Key Win Over Nandua

Chincoteague's Collin Derrickson had a bases-clearing double in the seventh inning to erase a short-lived 4-3 lead Nandua took in the bottom of the sixth inning with a three-run rally to give the Ponies a key 7-4 district win over the Warriors last Thursday. It was Derrickson's second double of the game.

Dustin Holloway had a 3-for-3 day for the Ponies and also hurled a scoreless seventh inning after Trey Fisher had struck out 13 Warriors in six innings, allowing two earned runs. Trevor Reed was 3 for 4, including an RBI double. Dylan and Ryan Mason each had two singles, and Joe Thornton added an RBI single.

"It was a great game and big win for us, but it's early in the season with 11 regular season games left," said Chincoteague coach Will Thompson. "We still are trying to figure ourselves out. A lot of things we have to fix to make us strong to be able to go deep in middle to late May."

For Nandua, Mike McCluskey and Hunter Hickman each had two hits. Evan McGregor had a key two-RBI double in the home half of the sixth inning for Nandua.

Vikings Split Pair with PC

Broadwater dropped a tough 9-6 decision to Portsmouth Christian in 10 innings Monday.

The Vikings rallied for five innings in the fifth inning to tie the score 5-5, and neither team scored again until the Patriots pushed four runs across in the top of the 10th inning after two outs with the bases empty. Broadwater scored once in the bottom of the 10th.

Aidan Blair had three hits for the Vikes, including a double, and Austin Murphy, Shane Celli and Casey Westcoat collected two hits each. Sean Hart had two RBIs.

Ben Farlow entered the game in the second inning and pitched a strong 8.2 innings, striking out 14 and allowing only three runs until the pivotal 10th inning.

Jarrett Bell held Portsmouth Christian to three hits, and one day after losing a tough 10-inning marathon to the Patriots, Broadwater lambasted Portsmouth Christian 11-1 on the road Tuesday.

Austin Murphy, Blair and Celli each

Derek Bjorlo had a double and an RBI.

Jake Guy pitched 6.2 innings for Nandua and took the loss.

Ponies Top Holly Grove

Chincoteague avenged an opening-season defeat to Holly Grove with an 8-6 road win on Monday. Spencer White delivered a grand slam home run in the sixth to provide the winning runs. Collin Derrickson was 3 for 4 with a double, Ryan Mason had two hits, including an RBI single, and Dustin Holloway had a triple.

Trevor Reed pitched four innings, allowing only two hits and an earned run. Trey Fisher pitched an inning, and Holloway finished up for the Ponies.

Ponies Blank Jackets

On Tuesday, Chincoteague whitewashed Northampton 15-0 as Ryan Mason tossed a five-inning no-hitter, striking out six and allowing no walks.

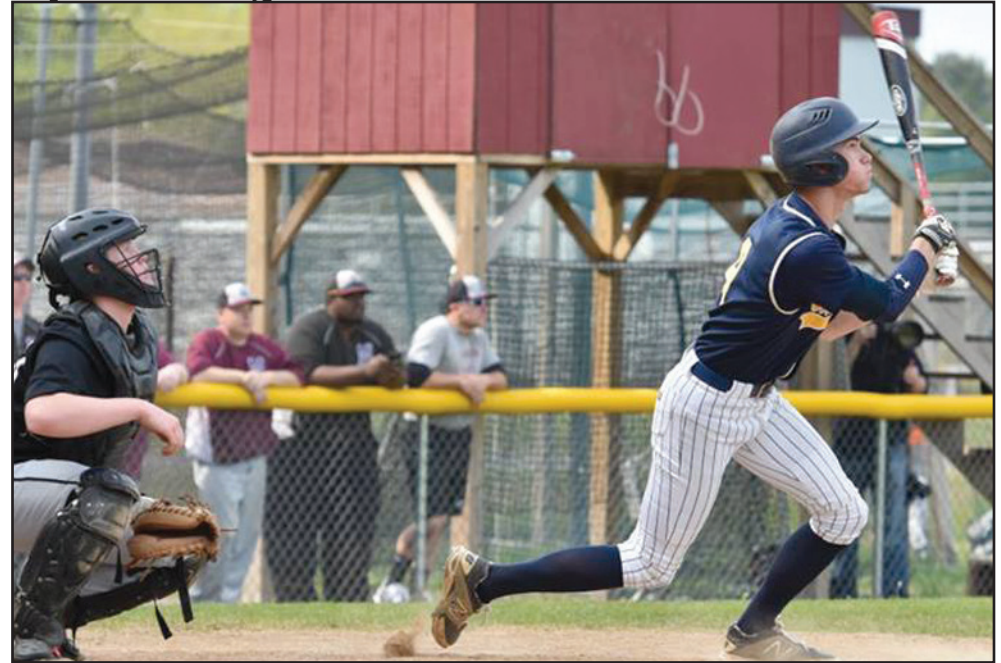

Mason was also 3 for 3 at the plate with an RBI. Dylan Mason was 2 for 2, Joe Thornton was 2 for 3 with an RBI, Collin Derrickson was 2 for 4 and Voshawn Davis had a two-run double.

had two hits, and Farlow and Daniel Rhode each collected an RBI.

Bell survived eight walks while striking out three.

Nandua Storms Back

Nandua overcame a 1-0 deficit in the third inning with a 10-run frame to take a 14-1 win over Arcadia Tuesday in Oak Hall.

Jake Guy had six RBIs with a three-run homer and a double. Derek Bjorlo and Matthew Teasley each had two hits. Teasley and Austin Atkinson had two RBIs.

Evan McGregor pitched the entire five-inning game, striking out five and allowing no earned runs.

Firebirds Top Jackets

Arcadia's Jeremy Steihl struck out eight and pitched five innings in a 16-4 win over Northampton last Thursday. Dom Simenski pitched the final inning, striking out the side. Jaquan Wharton went 4 for 5, and Steihl had three hits, including a double.

Chincoteague Soccer Gets Big Win Over Franklin

Chincoteague captured its first soccer win in several years with a 2-1 win over Franklin Friday.

Tristan Binder scored a pair of goals in the first half, and the Pony defense held on to the lead. Chincoteague coach Charles Heath said Caroline Thornton, Issac Haymond and Chris Conser were key contributors in the win. "This was our first win for our program in years," he said. "It's a huge step forward for us as a program. We definitely want to acknowledge those kids that played for us in a tough district for the last few years that helped us get to this point."

Northampton defeated the Chincoteague soccer team 12-2 Monday on the road.

Bayron Ortiz scored three goals and had five assists, Junior Guildo and Billy Martinez each notched a pair, and Jose Montalvo had a goal and two assists. Scoring one each were Gerardo Maldonado Lopez and Cameron Glennon.

Tristan Binder and Conser scored for the Ponies.

On Friday, Northampton lost to Southampton 2-1, with Chris Montalvo scoring the Jacket goal.

Nandua blanked Arcadia 2-0 in soccer Monday night at home with Tio Tinoco scoring both goals with assists by Tanner Trover and Christian Esteban.

Nandua coach Paul Nolz said, "I liked our willingness to pass, and I thought our back line of Jonathan Esteban, Trevor Cooper, Orge Abiradua and Beto Marquez did a quality job. We were better prepared to play a good team in Arcadia."

Down 3-0 entering its final at-bat, Nandua scored three runs in the seventh inning with the help of a two-run homer by Tyra Bjorlo to force extra innings, and then scored two more runs in the eighth inning on a two-run double by Emily Justis before holding off home-standing Essex for a 5-4 win Saturday on the road.

Justis, pitching the entire game because D'errica Toppin was out with a hamstring injury, got the win while allowing eight hits and giving up two earned runs.

Warrior leadoff hitter Sara Gepes also had two hits.

"Our defense played well, holding runners to fewer bases and making good plays," said Nandua coach Lynn Williams. "Michaela Wescott ran down a ball in the gap that most center fielders have no chance at. It was an all-around team effort, and it was great to see players stepping up when we have injuries."

Nandua Tops Chincoteague

D'errica Toppin had three hits, including two doubles, and three RBIs and also pitched a one-hit shutout as Nandua registered a 10-0 win over Chincoteague last Thursday. Kimberly Wert also was 3-3 with a pair of doubles and RBIs.

Toppin struck out six while walking two in blanking the Ponies.

Tylar Libertino had the only hit for Chincoteague.

Northampton Girls' Soccer Rallies for Win

The Northampton girls soccer team overcame a 1-0 Nandua lead at half-time with two goals by Taylor Webb to pull out a 2-1 win over Shore rival Nandua. Ryan Wright scored the Warrior goal on a direct kick with 11:48 remaining in the half. Webb tied the game less than three minutes into the second half and then scored the winning goal six minutes later.

Northampton's Karla Benavides, 22, and Lizbeth Gildo, 5, provide defense to aid goalkeeper Elizabeth Lilliston in a 2-1 Jacket win over Nandua.

Warriors Wallop Firebirds

Nandua walloped Arcadia 25-0 Tuesday in Oak Hall, as Emily Justis pitched a no-hitter, striking out 11. Justis also had a 5-for-5 day at the plate, knocking in three runs.

Kimberly Wert had three RBIs, including a two-run homer and a triple. Michaela Wescott had a double and a triple. Amanda Baylis smacked two doubles. Madison Greer had two hits for the Lady Warriors.

Jackets Win Over Arcadia

The Northampton softballers defeated Arcadia 13-6 last Thursday after trailing 4-2 before a nine-run fifth inning broke open the game.

Cassie Nadeau, Michalea Lewis and Mackenzie Widgeon paced the hitting with three hits each, and Sara Weber and Makayla Wilson followed with two hits each.

"It was also our best defensive effort so far as well as we continue to try to improve in that area," said Jacket coach Dale Wright.

Ponies Top Jackets

Chincoteague beat Northampton 8-3 Tuesday at home as Madison Hudgins went 3 for 4 with an RBI, Jenna Merritt was 2 for 3 with two RBI and Ronny Malone scored two runs.

Pony coach Jimmy Bloxom said catcher Nicole Howard called a good game and played outstanding defense.

For Northampton, Makalya Wilson, Mckenzie Widgeon and Michaela Lewis had two hits each.

On Monday, the Ponies fell to Holly Grove 4-1 as Jenna Merritt had the lone RBI.

Viking Girls Win Pair Against Portsmouth

The Broadwater softball team used two big innings to earn a 12-6 win over Portsmouth Christian Monday at home. The Lady Vikings opened the game with four runs in the first inning and then added six in the third for the bulk of their scoring. Broadwater led 12-1 before the Patriots made a late rally.

Greta Bunce and Palmer Smith were each 3 for 4 to pace the Broadwater offense. Nativia Wharton and Anna Sexauer had two hits each. Bunce scored three runs, and Smith and Heather D'errica Toppin tossed a 1-hit shutout against Chincoteague.

Jackets Netters Win

The Northampton girls' varsity tennis team remained undefeated with a 9-0 win over Middlesex Monday on the Eastville courts. The Lady Jackets are now 7-0 in match play for the season.

Winning their singles matches were Angela Head 8-2, Haley Potts 8-0, Elizabeth Hernandez 8-0, Claudia Fernandez 8-1, Alex Frolick 8-0, and Ada Garvis 8-2. Winning their doubles matches were #1 team Angela Head and Haley Potts 8-4, #2 team Elizabeth Hernandez and Claudia Fernandez 8-1 and #3 team Alex Frolick and Ada Garvis 8-1.

Custis each scored twice.

Senior Nativia Wharton started the game and was relieved by freshman Parker Murphy.

On Tuesday, Broadwater faced Portsmouth Christian again on the road and took a 14-4 decision. Wharton pitched the entire game and controlled the Patriot bats.

Murphy had three hits, including a triple, Sexauer had three hits and four RBIs, and Heather Custis had three hits and scored three runs. Bunce tallied four runs.

Finally something has happened to solve the issue of public restrooms. Yippee!

Recent proposed and adopted bills have stirred up a lot of controversy and given people something to talk about over the “water cooler.” But the deep seeded issue has been in my mind forever. It is called PRIVACY.

I don’t care who you are. I don’t want you in the bathroom when I am in there. I like public restrooms that have big locks on the doors and are secluded. If you are interested, I can tell you where those places are because I seek them out.

If there is an issue about school restrooms, I say put walls and doors around all stalls and don’t let more than one person in there at a time.

Real life does not involve the likes of the restrooms on the old television show, “Ally McBeal.” If people want to flush before they go and have their own remote control that allows them to do that, I don’t want to know about it.

I don’t like to share the limelight. I grew up as the only girl in the family and I am not used to having others in the facility with me. I don’t care what sex you are. Stay away from me while I’m concentrating.

Did you know that there is actually a website that lists the top 15 bathroom scenes in movies? Yep. Don’t expect me to provide that bit of trivia.

Maybe just Hollywood could continue to allow more than one person in the bathroom at a time so the writers could continue to find movie topics?

The idea of having PRIVACY could eliminate the need to have someone hold the door shut for you. Oh yippee! Bathroom doors that work! And maybe people would stop locking the opening and then climbing out the bottom of the stall so that no one can use it. Who are the guilty parties of that crime? There’s something to ponder.

And those crazy “Punked” videos of people wiping Nutella on the hands of people when they share the toilet paper roll would be eliminated. Outrageous!

I also read that in Oregon it is illegal to lie down in a public restroom. Does anybody do that? Why? It is also illegal for two people to share a stall meant for one. Does that mean adults can’t take their children in there? Really?

And then there was the website that asked businesses to consider adding “background music to enhance public bathroom privacy.” Eureka!

“Customers can hear less from their neighbors in adjacent bathroom stalls,” the site states. “But there are a few caveats: background music in public bathrooms is more appropriate in some venues, such as restaurants, than others, such as airports, where sound systems are needed to announce flight information, or office buildings, where the music might permeate outside the restroom and distract workers.” Is it me or did I not read that last part correctly?

And believe it or not there is actually a list of bathroom apps.

Check out www.sitorsquat.com, which is made available through a toilet paper company. It allows you to “search, view, rate and add bathrooms.” It’s free and worldwide. Oh yippee.

Another one is called “potty points. The more points you earn, the higher you climb ... not only can you own the bragging rights over your friends, but you can earn achievements along the way. Become a Knight, a King, or an Emperor. Prefer photography? Earn the Shutterbug or even Paparazzi achievement!”

Did someone say competition is a wonderful thing?

Current Mayor Endorses Leonard To Replace Him

Dear Editor:

In 17 years as mayor of Chincoteague, I have not been one to write letters to the editor, but after reading recent letters and witnessing the political tactics of our council meetings, I’m compelled to do so.

It seems that my supporting Arthur Leonard for mayor has upset at least one candidate and some council members. This was a decision I did not take lightly, after 17 years as mayor and a total of 22 years on council, working through some very difficult times in our community. I know what it takes to be mayor.

First, I would like to address the comment of there being only one candidate who has contacts and relationships with federal, state and local government officials. The town of Chincoteague, its council, mayor, Beach Committee and staff are the ones who have made those contacts and been working with federal and state officials. Council hired a firm to represent us in Washington and open those doors. Councilman Leonard has been a part of this process and continues to be.

Second, I would like to address the widening of our inlet. Town Council, with help from our consultant, applied for a Corps of Engineers project to look at the southern end of Assateague and our inlet.

Third, consider the Park Service General Management Plan that addresses aquaculture, duck blinds, watch-houses, and horseshoe harvesting. Town Council and especially Councilman Leonard, who has been a hunter and a watch-house owner all his life, have been working with our state officials almost on a daily basis, already bringing about changes to allow commercial fishing by right.

I have addressed only a couple of issues to prove Chincoteague, with the sitting council with help from our community, are the ones who have the clout with our state and federal elected officials, not just one person.

Councilman Leonard is a lifelong resident of Chincoteague Island; his family is one of the oldest business owners on the island. Arthur attended Hargrave Military School, then on to East Carolina, back home as a business owner, decoy carver, boat captain and most important a father who has helped coach his son’s teams, worked with the Museum of Chincoteague with its decoy collection, and helped get a DU project back to the island, to name a few.

As mayor, I tackled my job with dedication, honesty and most important, respect for others. My decision to support a candidate for mayor was based on these factors.

I feel Councilman Arthur Leonard will listen to others, have respect for everyone, and work with others for the betterment of our community.

To him it’s not about I or me; it’s about what is best for the community at large.

Thanks for all the support over the years; it’s been an honor to serve this community as its mayor.

Please vote for Arthur Leonard on May 3.

Mayor Jack Tarr, Chincoteague

Leonard Would Continue Town’s Inclusive Style

Dear Editor:

I write this letter to encourage you to support Arthur Leonard for mayor of Chincoteague Island when you vote on May 3.

Our island is a unique place. The tremendous efforts of our public servants, led by Mayor Tarr over the last 17 years, have yielded amazing and impressive results for Chincoteague. The mayor has encouraged the town to work closely with local businesses, residents, tourists, the chamber of commerce, and many non-profit and civic organizations to make Chincoteague the vibrant, stand-out community it is.

These partnerships have made our community the envy of many other small towns across the country. During one of the worst recessions in our national history, our town has prospered because we realized many accomplishments that enabled us to keep a steady stream of tax revenue from our visitors.

This inclusive style has given our town a YMCA, a first-rate museum, a community library, a restored historic theater, CCA's extensive entertainment offerings, new parks, new playground equipment, the Island Activity Center, history tours, many special events such as the upcoming "Brew 'n Que," and the Bay-to-Bay Run, to name just a few.

And I cannot fail to mention the continuing work with Fish and Wildlife and the National Park Service to insure that the town continues to have a seat at the table as life-changing decisions are made about our beach and inlet.

We MUST maintain open communication to insure our needs are both heard and met.

These considerable accomplishments happened because of the efforts and inclusive style of Jack Tarr. And they will continue to happen when Arthur Leonard brings his knowledge of and love for this community to the office of mayor.

Please join me in voting for Arthur Leonard on May 3. He will move our beloved island forward in a civil and productive manner that will enhance the quality of life for all of our citizens.

Nancy Lane, Chincoteague

Congressman Endorses Thornton for Mayor

Dear Editor:

I have come to rely heavily on Wanda Thornton's wise advice and good counsel in my service to the beautiful town of Chincoteague.

I've seen firsthand that Wanda is a principled and effective leader, and her knowledge of the issues is unmatched.

That's why I proudly endorse Wanda and support her campaign to serve as the next mayor of Chincoteague.

Congressman Scott Rigell, Va. Second District

Leonard Also Has Relationships with Important Officials

Dear Editor:

A recent opinion published from some members of Chincoteague Town Council in support of Wanda Thornton, and their belief she is the ONLY candidate to have "already established contacts and close working relationships with government officials and government agencies at county, state and federal levels" is absurd.

While this is their opinion, in fact, Mrs. Thornton is not the only candidate to have these relationships. Arthur Leonard has solid relationships with varying officials, including Sen. Kaine and State Sen. Lewis, as well as officials with the Park Service and county supervisors. This is not an exhaustive list, merely a small sample of established relationships. These will be vital in the near future.

Certainly, Mrs. Thornton has served Chincoteague for many, many years and we are grateful for her efforts; however, I think a new approach and leadership are necessary. We are in need of cooperation with and representation from other leaders from various departments and levels to combat detrimental decisions in which the residents' opinion is heard but often times disregarded.

It is my opinion, Arthur Leonard will provide our best avenue to gain the support we need from those who hold the ultimate decision power. Mayor Tarr's endorsement of Mr. Leonard should be noted, as who would know more of what the next mayor will face better than the current one?

Mayor Tarr and Mrs. Thornton's decisions not to seek re-election as mayor and supervisor seem to show that even seasoned generals grow battle weary. While I respect and admire both for their many years of service and efforts, we continue to see more regulations and decisions handed down that threaten our way of life.

The time has come to pass the torch to new leadership, draw fresh swords and continue the battle to maintain and enhance this island we are so blessed to call home. Arthur Leonard is the person to bring new effort and leadership to further our goals.

William Tucker, Chincoteague

Keep John & Aileen Joeckel on Wachapreague Town Council

Dear Editor:

The purpose of this letter is to express our full support for the re-election of John and Aileen Joeckel to Wachapreague Town Council in the May 3rd election, which is extremely important to the future of our town.

We feel that without John and Aileen on the council, moving the town forward in a financially healthy way will not happen. Most of the current council has been together for almost four years; we have worked together as a team and have achieved significant accomplishments.

The opposition in this election is saying, "We need to take back our town!" Back to what? Higher property taxes, pay for the mayor and council, no dredging and minimal accomplishments on other important issues. The present council's first act was to eliminate town council compensation because we believe it is our civic duty to serve the town without pay.

This council has:

- reduced property taxes by 25 percent;
- increased town savings by 13 percent, which would have been 38 percent but we purchased 25 acres that contained the town-permitted dredge spoils site;

- obtained various grants from the Virginia Port Authority to maintain our town marina;

- achieved dredging of Wachapreague Channel and Bradford's Bay Channel after decades of neglect;

- led the creation of the Eastern Shore Regional Navigable Waterways Committee, a regional bi-county approach to waterway issues;

- created the Business and Tourism Advisory Board composed of town business and citizen representatives that plans marketing initiatives and town events;

- completed the Comprehensive Plan required by Virginia, the first final revision since 1983;

- published the annual Year-In-Review to ensure all our residents are informed of the state of the town

- proposed a Fishing/Crabbing Pier & Nature Walk with about 94 percent funding from grants.

We are finishing up the new town website designed to highlight lifestyle attributes that the town has to offer both residents and visitors

After decades of neglect and inaction, an ordinance was passed to change the 911 county map to match residents' longtime 911 house numbers.

After decades of neglect, the sidewalks in town were extensively repaired.

Much of these achievements would not have been implemented without John and Aileen Joeckel, who have worked tirelessly, with the total support of the present council, to make our "Little City by the Sea" a wonderful place to live and raise families.

Councilman Stuart Bell
