Memorial Day

This site, adjacent to the Parksley train station, is the location for a veterans' war memorial (pictured, front and back). The town joined the family of the late Cpl. Jerry Burkhead (pictured) to honor those who died in World Wars I and II, the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam War, while promoting civic pride. The monument is planned for the center of the site, surrounded by six granite benches commemorating branches of the service and war dead. Anyone can be memorialized for $100 on bricks that will surround the site. Burkhead, the youngest of 12 children, was born in Justisville. After graduating from Parksley High School in 1966, he joined the Marine Corps and was deployed to Vietnam from Camp Pendleton in November 1967.

Burkhead was killed in action during the Tet Offensive on Feb. 8, 1968, in Quang Tri, South Vietnam, on Hill 64 near Khe Combat Base.

"Remember, American veterans gave their all for us so that we can enjoy the freedoms we have today," said Parksley Mayor Jim Eichelberger. "Please help us honor those who gave so much ... with a contribution for the construction of this memorial."

For more information, call Town Clerk Denise Bernard at 665-4618, email her at town@parksley.org or send a contribution to Town of Parksley, P.O. Box 26, Parksley, VA 23421.

Judge Finds Onley Man Not Guilty of Murder

By Linda Cicaira

It took Circuit Court Judge W. Revell Lewis III 35 minutes of deliberation Tuesday before declaring Robert James (R.J.) Northan Jr., 30, of Daugherty Road in Onley not guilty of first-degree murder.

Lewis dismissed the charges of murder, use of a firearm in a felony and possession of a firearm by a felon. He had thrown out a robbery count earlier in the day.

"There's no question that Ronnie Washington was brutally murdered" in July 2015, the judge said. But, he explained, "Too many inconsistencies cause me to have a reasonable doubt" about Northan being the killer.

An unidentified bicyclist found the body of 47-year-old Washington of Nelsonia on the side of the street at the intersection of Bear Town and Metompinkin roads.

Dr. Wendy Gunther, who autopsied Washington, said he had been shot multiple times and had 11 wounds, including one to the face that knocked out teeth, and others to the shoulder, chest and groin. Gunther said nearly

Shore Records 8th and 9th Traffic Fatalities of the Year

By Linda Cicaira

Two traffic fatalities occurred on the Eastern Shore this week.

Christina G. Bowman-Weaver, 43, of the 2900 block of N. Radcliffe Lane in Chesapeake was thrown from the back of a motorcycle Sunday morning in Nassawadox, according to State Police Sgt. Michelle Anaya. The victim was rushed to nearby Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital, where she later died.

The two-vehicle crash occurred at about 11:40 a.m. in a southbound lane of Lankford Highway north of Route 609. A 2000 Ford Focus driven by Irene Boyd, 75, of Bayside Road in Machipongo "made an unsafe lane change, causing a 2004 Harley-Davidson motorcycle to overturn as it tried to avoid being hit," Anaya said.

The driver of the motorcycle, Travis Levi Godfrey, age and address not available, had non-life-threatening injuries. He and Bowman-Weaver were wearing approved helmets, Anaya reported. Boyd was charged with making an unsafe lane change. She was not injured. Anaya said neither alcohol nor speed was a factor in the incident.

State Police Eastern Shore District Commander 1st Sgt. Ben E. (Jeff) Jeffrey Jones said Trooper Dane Lawson investigated the crash, which was the half the shots would have killed him. Two bullets were recovered from the body. He also had a $100 bill, another $1.03, and a cell phone in his pocket.

The murder weapon, a 9mm Glock, was never recovered. There was no DNA, fingerprint or other physical evidence to link Northan to the crimes.

Eyewitness Derimon (Mac) Hargis said he, Washington and Northan were riding in the car when Hargis pulled over so the other two could get out and urinate. Washington had been sitting in the front passenger seat. Northan had been in the back. Both men got out and went behind the vehicle, Hargis said.

"I seen the first one," the witness said of the shots. "I was scared to death for my life ... I didn't know he (Northan) had the gun on him that night ... he always toted a pistol. Every time I seen him. But I didn't know he had it that night. ... It was some kind of Glock. I don't know what caliber it was." Hargis held his hands about 18 inches apart and said, "I saw fire about this long coming out of it."

"The front door was still open, the back door was closed," said Hargis.

Accomack prosecutor Matthew Brenner talks to the family of murder victim Ronnie Washington outside the courthouse Tuesday evening after suspect Robert James (R.J.) Northan was acquitted.

There were "no lights on inside the car," he explained. "I seen him drop back and tried to come forward," Hargis said of Washington. "I just ducked and tried to take cover." The witness said he heard four or five more shots. "I'm not entirely sure." After the shots stopped, there was a 20- to 30-second delay before Northan got back in the car and directed Hargis to drive away.

But this wasn't the first story Hargis told police. He first denied knowing anything about the crimes. A police interrogation then yielded many versions before an officer told Hargis he was either the shooter or the witness.

Defense lawyer Tucker Watson contended that Hargis told the story that would pass the blame elsewhere without incriminating himself.

Hargis testified Northan instructed him not to tell anyone what happened that night. "I was scared," Hargis said. "I was terrified, man. I was really scared, man."

Another witness, Harvey (J.J.) Pettit, said he saw the three men drive away from the trailer park, where Hargis lived and he and they were partying that night. They were giving Washington, who had flashed a stack of money and bragged about having plenty to pay his bills and spend, a ride home. Pettit, a crack user, said he saw Hargis and Northan come back a short time later.

But Hargis' girlfriend, Christina Huffman, an admitted crack addict, said she didn't remember Northan coming back with Hargis. Instead, she claimed she and Hargis picked up Northan at another location she could not identify, before the three of them went to buy crack and go to Ocean City, Md. It was unclear if the two men had money before they left to take Washington home.

Accomack Deputy Commonwealth's Attorney Matthew Brenner noted in closing arguments that Northan told Hargis that Washington was a snitch. While Hargis said he didn't think that was a reason to murder someone, Brenner said it could have been.

"Bad people do bad things to bad people," said Brenner. "So who are you going to have as witnesses? This is beyond a reasonable doubt."

Brenner was irritated when the judge allowed a woman who sat through parts of the trial to testify since other witnesses were separated. "I move for a mistrial," Brenner said. "She cannot testify, judge. This is highly unorthodox."

Lewis denied the motion. Keyontae Boggs of Hopeton testified that Northan showed up at her house at about 2 a.m. and left between 4:30 and 5 a.m. But none of the other witnesses seemed to be able to pinpoint exactly what time anything occurred that night.

Women Evolving and Local Businesses Sponsor 2 Seniors to the 2016 NHS Prom

In March of 2016, the founder of the non-profit organization "Women Evolving," Sonjae Jacob, reached out to the Northampton High School 2016 Prom Coordinators, Wanda Carricato and Denise Toppin, seeking approval to sponsor two young ladies to their senior prom. Carricato and Toppin both agreed and spread the word to the senior class. There were two young ladies selected, based on their responses to "Why Prom Is Important To Me." The ladies selected were seniors Wykeiria Ayers and Tyasia Tankard. Women Evolving then teamed up with Tonya Collins of La Bella Mi Salon in Belle Haven, VA; Yolanda Walker of Silhouette Hair Designs in Exmore, VA; Keyonna Warren of Lavish Perfections Boutique in Treherneville, VA; and Towannia Shanale of Makeup Perfections in Cheriton, VA. Sonjae also had the ladies and their dates chauffeured to the Prom. This was truly an "amazing, once in a lifetime experience," say the girls, and Women Evolving will definitely be seeking more partnerships in next year's "Ultimate Prom Experience," says Sonjae.

eighth traffic fatality in the two-county area in 2016.

The ninth fatality occurred at about 5:45 p.m. Wednesday on Belinda Road south of Marsh Market Road near Sanford, killing a Hallwood man.

Christopher M. Hernandez, 23, of Hallwood was driving a 2006 Chevrolet Colorado west on the dirt portion of Belinda Road when he ran off the road, causing the vehicle to overturn and ejecting the passenger, Joseph Robert Kent, 25, of Sugarhill Lane.

Trooper Dan Wallace responded. Senior Trooper Johnny Godwin led the crash reconstruction at the scene. Speed is believed to be a factor in the crash, which is still being investigated.

Jones said both Hernandez and Kent were not wearing safety belts and were ejected from the vehicle. Hernandez suffered non-life threatening injuries. He was charged with reckless driving. Alcohol was not a factor in the crash.

The Shore recorded seven fatal vehicle accidents in 2015.

Libraries Offer Summer Programs

Eastern Shore of Virginia public libraries have planned a variety of programs, from building with Legos to talking with the creator of Chester Comix. All programs are free and open to the public, though some require pre-registration due to space limitations.

Call the library prior to the event to confirm the date and time as they are subject to change. A calendar of events is at the Eastern Shore Public Library's website, www.espl.org, or visit your local library for a print copy.

Each of the four Shore libraries has its own “Summer Reading Challenge.” Readers can sign up to read and earn incentive prizes throughout the summer. For every 100 minutes of reading each week, a prize is earned. After five weeks and 500 minutes of reading, readers earn a ticket for a grand-prize drawing. Up to four drawing tickets can be earned during the nine-week program which starts June 20. Readers can sign up throughout the nine weeks of the Reading Challenge, though signing up at the beginning increases the opportunity to earn more drawing tickets.

If library fines are preventing your child from reading, the Eastern Shore Public Library is offering a fine amnesty for Summer Reading Challenge participants who complete 200 minutes of reading. Contact your local library for more information.

Additionally, library fines on children's reading materials have been reduced to 10 cents per day, effective June 1. Reading materials not only include books, but also magazines, graphic novels, audiobooks, and TumbleBook e-books.

The Summer Reading Programs and Challenge are partly sponsored by the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel, Eastern Shore Rural Health, Riverside, United Way of Virginia's Eastern Shore, and the Library of Virginia. Financial and volunteer support comes from the Friends groups of Cape Charles, Nasawadox, and Accomac libraries. Corporate reading incentive prize donations are accepted through the summer.

Northampton Schools Issue 7th Highest Number of Suspensions in State

By Linda Cicaira

A report released last week by the JustChildren Program of the Legal Aid Justice Center shows that more than 126,000 out-of-school suspensions were given in Virginia to about 70,000 students in the 2014-15 school year. Race and disabilities seemed to be targeted in those figures.

The report states, "A fifth of all suspensions were issued to pre-kindergarten and elementary school students; the majority were for relatively minor, non-violent, subjective misbehavior like disruption, defiance, and disrespect; African American students and students with disabilities were suspended at hugely disparate rates; and statewide suspension rates flattened out after years of steady progress."

More than 20 percent of the suspensions were issued to elementary school students, including 16,000 suspensions in pre-kindergarten through third grade. More than 10 percent of ninth graders were suspended at least once.

Figures for Accomack show 480 of 5,258 students, 9.13 percent, were given short-term suspension at least once. Nearly 15 percent of African American students, 6.8 percent of white students, 16.12 percent of students with disabilities and 8.06 percent of students without disabilities were suspended at least once.

In Northampton, about 15.38 percent (255) of 1,651 students were given short-term suspension. Slightly over 23.38 percent of African American students, 8.66 percent of white students, 23.98 percent of students with disabilities and 14.06 percent of students without disabilities were suspended at least once.

There were no figures available in the report regarding what grade the Accomack or Northampton students were in when they were suspended. Fewer than 10 students in each county were given a long-term suspension at least once.

Northampton was among seven divisions in the state where more than 15 percent of all students were suspended at least once. The others were Brunswick County with 22.5 percent, Petersburg City with 20.2 percent, Danville City with 18.3 percent, Mecklenburg County with 16.9 percent, Franklin County with 16.2 percent and Sussex with 15.4 percent.

"Virginia public schools need proven alternatives to harsh disciplinary measures like suspension and expulsion," the report states. "Students who are excluded from school are more likely to experience academic failure, dropping out, mental health problems and justice system involvement. Moreover, schools with high suspension rates generally have ... lower test scores and graduation rates. Worse yet, there is not evidence to suggest that suspension and expulsion deter misconduct or improve school safety."

JustChildren's report also provides information about proven behavioral interventions and alternatives to suspension and expulsion.

"What's so sad is that we know what works," said Jason Langberg, a JustChildren attorney and co-author of the report. "We just haven't had the political will to abandon the failed 'zero tolerance' mentality and to begin providing educators with the resources they need to ensure schools are safe and supportive."

Accomack Will Ask Northampton To Help Pay for Library

By Linda Cicaira

Accomack supervisors agreed last week to ask Northampton County to share in the cost of the new $5 million Eastern Shore Public Library being planned on Bennett Street in Parksley.

“Northampton’s share ... plus a proportionate share of the property cost and architect’s fees ... amounts to $480,847 on a total projected budget of $4,948,928 or slightly less than 10 percent,” Accomack County Administrator Steve Miner wrote in a letter to Katie Nunez, Northampton’s County administrator.

“Though the facility serves local clientele, it also serves as the base of operations for the regional operations serving Northampton libraries and citizens,” Miner’s wrote. “It will continue to house the regional history room, a true ... asset benefiting the entire Shore, and the new community room.”

Northampton’s share was calculated on 25 percent of the square footage for material procurement and processing; shipping and receiving; archives and local history collection; storage; public research room; meeting space for education, community groups and programs; and the Internet routing system. That percentage of the library would be nearly 1,890 square feet of the 6,705 square-foot facility.

The cost of the library is estimated at $264.65 a square foot.

A breakdown shows $443,619 for new construction and renovation; $33,750 for a share of the former Fresh Pride grocery store that was $135,000; and $3,478 of the $13,915 for the conceptual design.

The project will total 18,630 square feet including 12,630 that was the former store.

“We have pledged, but not yet funded, $2 million towards the project,” wrote Miner. “We plan to borrow the funds when they are needed. Overall, the project seems viable and I am personally very optimistic it will be accomplished. Certainly, Northampton’s assistance will help ensure the success.”

According to library plans, the store “will need to be completely gutted.” A renovation list includes replacing flooring, ceilings, lights, the storefront and mechanical and electrical systems; insulating walls to meet energy codes; adding a sprinkler system; and construction of new restrooms.

“Since the facility was constructed before current environmental regulations were enacted, the site will need to be re-designed for proper circulation, added landscaping and adherence to current stormwater management regulations.”

Cape Charles Prepares for Beach Season

By Ron West

Cape Charles Town Council received a report regarding the upcoming harbor-dredging project that may put a damper on the spirits of some beachgoers.

The dredging project that had been scheduled for earlier in the spring may actually occur in June. Approximately 100,000 cubic yards of the dredged sand is to be used to replenish the northern end of the beach. Some council members expressed concern that the timing could have a negative impact on the town during the beginning of the tourist season.

Police Chief James Pruitt discussed the problem of late-night town visitors who create disturbances, particularly at the beachfront. He noted that in one recent incident, officers responded to break up an altercation at a restaurant near the Cape Charles traffic signal. He said some of the individuals then proceeded to the town beach, where officers again encouraged them to leave the area. Pruitt recommended that council consider a curfew for the beach area.

Council members discussed options for curfew times and noted that they do not wish to prevent individuals from using the beach as long as they do so in an appropriate way. Council agreed to revisit the issue at its work session June 2.

Town Treasurer Debbie Pocock presented the proposed FY2017 budget for review. The $7,974,132 spending package includes $3,105,600 for capital projects and $3,723,535 for the General Fund, with a tax rate of 32.60 cents per $100 of assessed value to equalize the overall tax revenue due to decreased property values based on the recent Northampton assessment. Council agreed to schedule a public hearing for June 9 to hear comments on the proposed budget.

Harbormaster Charlie Farlow reported that the operators of the tall ship Lynx might be interested in homeporting it in Cape Charles. The 120-foot vessel was launched in 2001. Noting that the town would incur no cost, Farlow asked council to express its support to the owners. He added that as the vessel usually spends a portion of its time visiting other ports, it should not pose a problem with regards to dock space for transient vessels that visit the town.

In a final action of the evening, council voted to support the development of a community kitchen at the former middle school in Machipongo.

Ex-Onancock Resident Dies

Mrs. Betty Dyke Vansant, loving widow of Dr. John Herndon Vansant Sr., died peacefully in her sleep Tuesday, May 17, 2016, in her home at Westminster Canterbury on Chesapeake Bay.

Born in 1930 to the late Louise Moore Dyke and John McCauley Dyke of Newport News, Va., she was raised on the banks of the James River and graduated from Newport News High School before attending Mary Washington College. She went on to graduate from the University of Virginia School of Nursing and worked as a chief nurse on several wards at the UVa Hospital.

She married John Vansant, a young medical student, in 1951, living in Charlottesville, Nagoya, Boston, and Long Island as he completed his surgical training and served in the U.S. Air Force. Not long after their son arrived in 1959, they returned to Virginia, ultimately settling in Norfolk in 1964, where they were active in professional, philanthropic, and social communities for 30 years. Together, they enjoyed travel with friends most of all. They were fortunate to be able to explore much of the globe, visiting every inhabited continent.

The Vansants built a new home on Leatherbury Creek, near Onancock, in the 1980s, moving there full-time upon Mr. Vansant's retirement. When Alzheimer's intruded on the comfortable life they had established, Mrs. Vansant was called to reprise her role as nurse, heroically managing her dear husband's care over the ensuing 10 years. She returned to Southside in 2006, moving into Westminster Canterbury, where she received loving support and enjoyed a view back over Hampton Roads to the Peninsula and the Shore.

Mrs. Vansant was a devoted wife and mother, sister and friend, and was active in many charitable organizations, including the Junior League of Virginia Beach and Norfolk, the Garden Club of the Eastern Shore, the Eastern Shore of Virginia Historical Society and Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. She was a founding member of Lee's Friends, and remained a loyal supporter throughout her life. She held a deep and abiding faith and worshipped at Christ and St. Luke's Episcopal Church and Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Onancock.

Mrs. Vansant is survived by her devoted son, John H. Vansant Jr. (and wife, Catherine Ashman Vansant); and grandchildren, Emilie Claire Vansant and John Henry Vansant, all of Hanover, N.H.; sister, Evelyn Dyke Russell; brother-in-law, Dr. Eugene Fairchild Russell III; and nephew, Eugene Fairchild Russell IV of Greensboro, N.C.

A service celebrating Mrs. Vansant's life was conducted at the Chapel at Westminster Canterbury Thursday, May 26, by Rev. Canon Win Lewis. Interment was in Edgemoor Cemetery, Accomac.

Memorial donations may be made to Lee's Friends, www.leesfriends.org; or the WC Foundation - Fellowship Fund, 3100 Shore Dr., Virginia Beach, VA 23451. Memory tributes may be shared at www.williamsfuneralhomes.com

CHRISTIANS DON'T KNOW HOW TO SIN

We the People have been, programmed, downloaded with man-made lies. Christians have become so badly taught they don't know how to sin. The 3rd commandment; "You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain" you can use God and Lord over and over in vain until the cows come home, and you will not sin. God is a Title name. The correct name of the God of Abraham Isaac, and Jacob. Is YHWH/YHWH. The W was added to replace the double U. (uu) Also the V was added too, around 1000 years ago. Using YHWH in vain is a dead Sin.

Broadwater Chosen for Lunar Program

Broadwater Academy is one of 10 schools chosen to participate in a year-long research program sponsored by the Lunar and Planetary Institute (LPI) and NASA's Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas.

"I am delighted to have our school chosen for this program because it gives us another opportunity to further Broadwater Academy's goal to produce students who have research-based experiences," said Sandra Thornton, a 15-year science teacher at Broadwater. She will be heading up the program.

Students in Grades 10 through 12 will participate in the year-long EXMASS Program, immersing them in lunar and asteroid science.

Said Thornton, "NASA has a rich network of resources, and it's exciting that our students will get to explore these resources with a mentor scientist."

Students will learn about the moon's formation and evolution and the current state of knowledge of asteroids. Using datasets from recent lunar spacecraft and asteroid missions, the students will then be guided by a scientist mentor through a series of research challenges.

At the end of the year, the student research will be reviewed by a panel of scientists as part of the competition for a chance to present the work at the Exploration Science Forum held at the NASA Ames Research Center in California.

Badger North Students Win Competition

The computer systems technology students at T.H. Badger North won first place in the Career Pathways Engineering and Industrial Science, Technology, & Math category of the Skills USA State Career Pathways Showcase held April 16 in Fredericksburg, Va.

The team consisted of Hunter Annese (Chincoteague High School), Vedant Patel, and Austin Monaghan (both of Arcadia High School). The team used Annese's idea of taking off the polarization film on a computer monitor, which defuses white light, and putting it in a pair of eyeglass frames. Without the eyeglasses, all a person sees is a white computer screen. Wearing the glasses, the person sees what is actually on the computer screen. The project is for use by people who work with classified and confidential information.

The team will attend the Skills USA National competition in Louisville, Ky., June 20-25 with their Skills USA instructor, Daniel Butler.

Chamber Reviews Past, Looks Ahead

The Eastern Shore Chamber of Commerce invited past presidents and chairs of major committees to a Leadership Luncheon at the chamber office last week. Jean Hungiville, executive director of the chamber, welcomed the group, noting how much local history has been shaped by the attendees.

Steve Mallette, current president of the chamber, reviewed the chamber's history, starting from 1953 when Charles Russell, George Walter Mapp, Lucius J. Kellam and others created it, with Russell serving as the first president.

That same year, the chamber board advocated construction of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel. In 1957 the chamber sponsored 100 local residents for a trip to Richmond supporting the project. Kellam was eventually the leader, overseeing construction of the Former presidents and chairs of major committees of the Eastern Shore Chamber of Commerce, members of the board of the Eastern Shore Chamber Foundation and the Eastern Shore Chamber Executive Committee gathered recently at a luncheon at the chamber to hear the history of the chamber and receive an overview of the work of the Eastern Shore Chamber of Commerce Foundation. Other projects supported by the chamber in the 1960s included uniform real-estate assessments; the location of an Agricultural Experiment Station on the Eastern Shore, spearheaded by Walter McCaleb; and establishment of an Eastern Shore college, first opened as a branch of the University of Virginia, which led to today's Eastern Shore Community College. In 1968, the chamber started the Seafood Festival, which brought thousands of visitors to the Eastern Shore each May.

the efforts to raise funds for the building today housing the chamber. The chamber also started and managed the Eastern Shore Tourism Commission in that decade.

The chamber also began holding annual Eggs and Issues breakfasts, where elected state and local representatives review the issues that were addressed in the recently concluded General Assembly and others of concern to local boards.

Mallette noted, "Throughout the first six decades, the chamber has been in the forefront of activities affecting planning and zoning, business advocacy, tourism, transportation, education, economic development and the quality of life." Mallette also pointed out that many of the chamber leaders have been second- and third-generation family members associated with the organization.

"A few years ago, after a lot of board discussions, a decision was made to begin transitioning from an events-driven organization and to return to our roots as an organization advocating for greater economic development on the Shore," said Mallette.

"One measure of our success will be an economy that creates opportunities for our children and grandchildren, to have a choice to either remain on the Shore after high school or continue with higher education and return to the Shore ... with career choices that provide greater sustainable wages and salaries."

Added Mallette, "I would suggest we are at a crossroads ... we either must expand our collective efforts as a community for greater economic opportunity or follow the path where we accept that our children and grandchildren would be better off to leave the Shore where greater opportunities exist for employment."

Foundation Supports Chamber

In 2012, the Eastern Shore of Virginia Chamber of Commerce Foundation was established to assist business leaders by providing financial, scientific and educational resources to strengthen the area's business economy.

The foundation board includes George Bryan, John Custis, Jeffrey Holland, Brian Laird and Jean Hungville, ex-officio.

Holland explained to the group that the Eastern Shore of Virginia Chamber of Commerce Foundation is the charitable arm of the chamber.

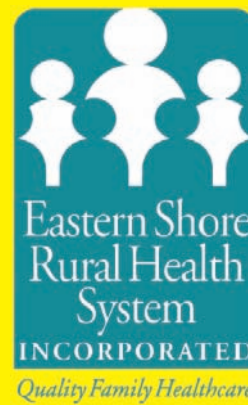

Under IRS rules, the foundation can support local businesses through education and scientific funding. Holland said in education, the foundation will be supporting special classes at the Eastern Shore Community College, educational symposiums and competitive internships.

In the scientific area, the foundation has studied the customer base, demographics and business trends of the Shore.

Since 2015, the most of the funds for the foundation have been derived from the sale of Eastern Shore license plates, conceived and designed by the chamber.

Holland said plans include business seminars on website development, marketing, integration of federal and large company procurement, Affordable Healthcare Act compliance for business, leadership seminars for businesses and how to leverage Google for local businesses.

The foundation also will seek funding through private donations, endowments and possible grants.

Hot-Fire Rocket Test Slated for Tuesday

NASA's Wallops Flight Facility will provide launch range support for an Orbital ATK Antares 230 rocket first-stage test scheduled for May 31 at the Mid-Atlantic Regional Spaceport's Pad-0A.

The window for the engine test, or hot fire, is 5 to 8:15 p.m. Backup test dates run through June 5. Completion of the test will be noted on the Wallops' Facebook and Twitter sites.

During the test, the upgraded Antares dual RD-181 rocket engines will fire for 30 seconds at 100 percent power (thrust) while the first stage of the test rocket will be held on the pad. The hot fire will demonstrate the readiness of the rocket's first stage and the launch pad fueling systems to support flights.

The test will be visible and audible in the Wallops Island area. Given the broad window and non-operational nature of the test, no live webcast or formal public viewing is planned.

LETTING THE PICTURES TELL THE STORY IN SPORTS

Taking into consideration the old adage that “a picture is worth a thousand words,” I am reducing the verbiage of this column and showing photographs that tell two compelling stories from the past week in Eastern Shore sports.

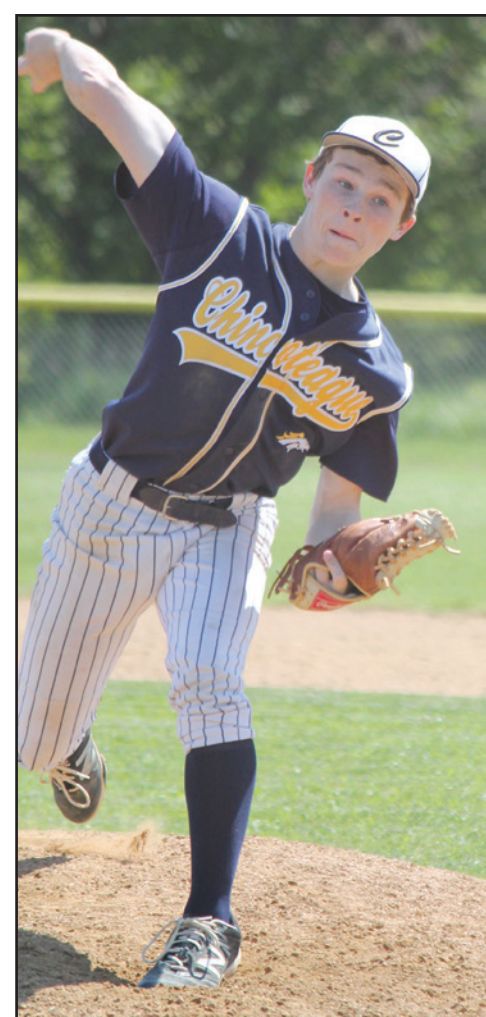

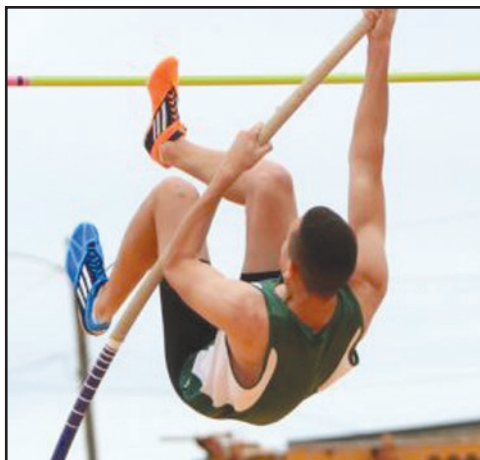

At right are photographs that show the joy of Chincoteague players after a walk-off hit by Ryan Mason to give the Ponies back-to-back Shore District baseball titles.

The thrilling 4-3 win over Nandua went back and forth in the last inning, with Chincoteague staging a rally with two out in the seventh and the bases empty.

Photos to the left are of major contributors to the historic wins by the Broadwater boys’ and girls’ track teams, both state champions after Saturday’s Virginia Independent Schools Athletic Association meet.

The event went down to the final meters of the last event before both the boys’ and girls’ teams claimed the crowns by the unlikeliest of events, ending in a dead heat with two other squads where hundreds of points are at stake.

See more details on the next two pages.

The Broadwater boys' and girls' teams both won state track titles in Division 2 in the Virginia Independent Schools Athletic Association last Saturday in Richmond. It was the first time in the 50-year history of the VISAA State Track and Field Meet that one school won both the boys' and girls' championships in the same year.

Broadwater Wins Boys', Girls' VISAA State Track Titles

Broadwater won both the boys' and girls' state track titles in Virginia Independent Schools Athletic Association Division 2 at Richmond last Saturday. It was the first time in the 50-year history of the VISAA State Track and Field Meet that one school won both the boys' and girls' championships in the same year.

The Viking squads were actually co-champions, with the boys amassing 102 points, the same as Peninsula Catholic High School, beating out 13 other squads. The girls tied Walsingham Academy with 112.33 points, besting 15 other Division 2 schools.

"We knew coming in that we would have to execute on a level we had not all season, and we did just that. Every single one of our athletes committed to filling their role and we overperformed in nearly every event," said Broadwater head coach Eric Hack. "Pre-meet projections put the boys in third position and girls in second, both teams nearly 20 points off the leaders. We were certainly underdogs coming in. The boys and girls have trained side-by-side all year, and we weren't going to settle. They knew what they needed to do at the meet, gave tremendous support to each other, and made history. This is a tremendously talented, committed, and smart group of young men and women. Every point — every third of a point in the girls' case — was needed for these victories. I have never attended a more exciting track meet. The score updates given after each event caused a hush in the crowd unlike anything any of the coaches have ever been a part of. The meet truly was not decided until the very last few meters of the very last event," added Hack.

Boys' team captain Taylor Major was named the meet's outstanding field event performer. He won both the long jump (20-3) and shot put (46-3), placed third in discus (128-0) and triple jump (39-50, and tied for seventh in high jump.

In addition to Major's accomplishments, state champion performances include those of Kate Gomer, Sophie Watson and Carly Wardius, who all tied for first in the pole vault (6-0). Major Morgan won the boys' high jump (5-10) for the second straight year. Sophie Watson was champion in the 800-meter run (2:36.4) and Ryan Bess in the boys' pole vault (10-0).

The girls' 4x800m relay team of Sydney Parks, Kate Gomer, Carly Wardius, and Sophie Watson (10:52.3) won Broadwater's first ever state championship in a relay event — accomplishing the goal stated by distance coach Eva Noonan on day one of practice. Noonan, an accomplished marathoner who has competed at Boston, has forged the Broadwater distance cohort into a formidable component of the Broadwater championship squads.

Watson, only a Grade 8 student, earned All-State honors in three events and All-State honorable mention for her third place performance in the 3200-meter race (12:30.2). Broadwater also picked up essential points in the 3200-meter run from Sydney Parks and in the boys' 4x800m relay consisting of Robby Parker, Sawyer Coulbourne, Joey Creed, and Adam Buell (9:21.7).

"We witnessed tremendous leadership and performances from our top-ranked athletes," said Hack, "but we also had standout performances from our younger and less experienced athletes. They are the unsung heroes of the meet. Every point was absolutely essential."

In addition to his high-jump title, Morgan also placed third in the long jump (19-11.5) and fourth in the triple jump (38-9) and scored as part of the third-place 4x100 relay and 4x400 relay teams. Bowdie Arvidson was second in the pole vault (9-6). Dontae Weatherly placed third in the shot put (44-7). Tyler Major was fourth in the high jump (5-4).

For the Viking girls, Lauren McClaskey was second in the 100-meter hurdles (19.16), third in the long jump (14-8.25) and fourth in the triple jump (29-0). Cardy Wardius was also third in the long jump (12-2.5). Anna Sexauer was third in the shot put (28-4.25).

In addition to Hack and Noonan, the Viking track teams are coached by Marisa Nairn, a fourth-grade teacher at Broadwater and former high-school track standout who works primarily with the sprinters and relay teams; and Robert "Gus" Gustafson, Broadwater parent and former captain of the Harvard University track and field team who works primarily with field events.

CHINCOTEAGUE WALKS OFF WITH SHORE BASEBALL TITLE

By Bill Sterling

Down a run with two out in the seventh inning and no runners on base, Chincoteague rallied to claim the Eastern Shore District title with a 4-3 win over Nandua last Thursday at the Pony field. Ryan Mason delivered the game-winning single, setting off a joyous celebration as teammates piled on the sophomore second baseman after chasing him down in center field.

"It was crazy," said Chincoteague coach Will Thompson. "It was do or die in that last inning. Anytime these two teams get together, it's usually a great game that goes down to the final out. We found a way today."

Nandua fought back from a 2-1 deficit to score two runs in the seventh inning. Ben Marra had the lone hit for the Warriors and scored a run and had an RBI. John Mark Kilmon also had an RBI. Three walks and three Pony errors aided the Nandua offense.

Despite getting only one hit, the Warriors were one out from the win and the district title after reliever Jake Guy retired the first two Pony batters in the bottom of the seventh inning. But then Trevor Reed rapped a single up the middle before Collin Derrickson drew a walk. That brought up senior Joe Thornton, who already had two hits, and he delivered a single, scoring Reed with the tying run and then advancing to second when there was a throw to the plate. Derrickson took third on the throw. Nandua chose to walk Dylan Mason to load the bases and created a force play, and then his younger brother, Ryan, stroked the first pitch up the middle, easily scoring Derrickson with the winning run.

Pony coach Thompson said he was especially proud of how his young players stepped up. Derrickson, Chincoteague's first-string catcher and second pitcher, injured his elbow two weeks ago and will require surgery. Although he was able to hit and play the outfield, Derrickson was unavailable on the mound or behind the plate. Holloway, a sophomore who catches when Derrickson pitches, was called on to pitch the pivotal game, leaving the catching duties to freshman Matt Reed, who tossed out a Warrior attempting to steal in the top of the seventh.

"Holloway and Reed stepped up in a big game and really delivered. I was proud of the poise they showed," said Thompson.

Joe Thornton was 3 for 4 and had an RBI single in the third inning. Derrickson had an RBI double in the first inning to get the Ponies on the scoreboard first.

Dylan Mason had two singles and Trey Fisher and Matt Reed each added singles for the Ponies.

Nandua Tops KW

Matt Teasley blooped a single into shallow centerfield to score John Killmon with the winning run in the ninth inning Wednesday for a 4-3 Nandua win over King William, punching the Warrior ticket for the Conference 33 championship today.

Jake Guy relieved starter Evan McGregor in the fifth inning and held the Cavaliers scoreless through five innings.

Nandua plays tonight for the conference championship against Maggie Walker of Richmond.

Ponies Go to Finals

Dustin Holloway and Joe Thornton each scored two runs and had a hit for the Ponies. Ryan Mason rapped a double, and Collin Derrickson, Miles Libertino and Matt Reed each had a single. Libertino scored twice.

Ryan Mason pitched the first three innings, striking out four and allowing one run.

Firebirds Over Jackets

Arcadia defeated Northampton 18-8 last Thursday as Jaquan Wharton went 2 for 4 and knocked in three runs.

Chris Beasley also picked up two hits for the Firebirds. Dom Simenski started and was relieved by Tah're Pettit and Jeremy Steihl.

Firebirds Ousted

Arcadia dropped an 11-1 decision to King William Tuesday on the road. Dalton McDaniel started and took the loss, relieved by Tah're Pettit. Terrall Wharton had a double for the Firebirds' only hit.

Arcadia trailed only 2-1 until the fourth inning, when King William broke loose for nine more runs for the remainder of the game.

Jake Guy held King William scoreless over five innings as Nandua won 4-3 in extra innings Wednesday.

Northampton's Devon Taylor takes a throw as Arcadia's Jaquan Wharton slides safely into third. Wharton had two hits and three RBIs.

Nandua Caps Perfect District Season, Wins Tourney Opener

Story and photos by Bill Sterling

Kimberly Wert hit two home runs, including a towering shot that hit near the top of a tree across the road from the softball field, to lead Nandua to a 15-3 win over Chincoteague last Thursday, capping another unbeaten season in district play.

Wert went 3 for 4 in the game with five RBIs and three runs scored. But after the game, Nandua coach Lynn Williams said Wert's top play was diving to her right from the shortstop position and firing from her knees to nail a Pony runner. "That was a fantastic play," said Williams. "She was a highlight reel all game long."

Madison Greer had three hits, including a double. Leah Truitt had two hits, including a triple, and Sarah Gepes and Emily Justis each collected two hits.

Tyra BJORLO had an RBI double.

Courtney Barker got the win with 2.1 innings of scoreless pitching. Emily Justis and D'errica Toppin also pitched for the Warriors.

Kristin Fox had the lone hit and two RBIs for the Ponies. Madison Tyndall pitched a complete game for Chincoteague, taking the loss.

Nandua To Host Title Game Today

Kim Wert had three hits and drove in two runs in a 5-1 Conference 33 semi-final win over Bruton Wednesday. The Warriors will host Maggie Walker for the conference title today at 5 p.m.

Madison Greer, Leah Truitt and Tyra BJORLO each scored a run for Nandua.

Emily Justis held the Panthers to three hits over five innings, with D'errica Toppin pitching the final two scoreless innings, striking out three.

Sarah Gepes scored two runs, and Michaela Wescott had an RBI.

Jackets Outslug Firebirds

The Northampton softballers outlasted Arcadia 17-16 in a slugfest that went nine innings last Thursday.

The Jackets jumped to an 11-run lead early before the Lady Firebirds rallied to force the contest in extra innings.

Northampton's Cassie Nadeau was 3 for 4 at the plate, with a double and triple. Makayla Wilson and Sara Weber had two hits each. "We really hit the ball well all day, but were hurt by defensive errors which have hurt us all year," said Jacket coach Dale Wright.

For Arcadia, Logan Holland started and was relieved by Cana Lankford before Amanda Stalgaitis pitched the last seven innings, striking out three. Cana Lankford went 4 for 5 with three doubles. Victoria Coll went 5 for 7 with a double.

"We had a great game offensively and defensively, only making one error in nine innings," said Firebird coach Kiersten Waltz.

Nandua's Kimberly Wert slides safely into third against Bruton Wednesday. Wert drove in two runs in the Warriors' 5-1 win. Nandua plays Maggie Walker today for the Conference 33 championship.

Ponies in Finals

Chincoteague rallied to stop Surry 10-7 Tuesday on the road in a Conference 41 semi-final.

Kristin Fox was 3 for 3 and hit a two-run homer in the third when the Ponies were trailing 4-1. Madison Hudgins and Jeanna Merritt had two hits and scored two runs.

Madison Tyndall pitched a complete game to get the win.

The Ponies played Windsor yesterday for the conference title in a game completed after deadlines.

Kay Preston hit a home run for Surry and also pitched for the Cougars.

Firebirds, Jackets Fall

Arcadia was whitewashed 19-0 by King William Tuesday on the road. Victoria Coll and Elizabeth Liddle each had a hit.

Northampton fell to Windsor 11-0 Tuesday on the road. Michalea Lewis and McKenzie Widgeon had hits for the Jackets, and Sara Weber pitched well but was hurt by errors.

All but four of Windsor's runs were unearned, said Jacket coach Dale Wright.

Broadwater Softballers Stopped in State Semis

Southampton's Megan Vincent held Broadwater to one hit and struck out eight in defeating the Lady Vikings 6-0 last Thursday in the Division 3 state semi-finals of the Virginia Independent Schools Athletic Association.

Southampton went on to win the state title over Kenston Forest.

Anna Sexauer got the lone hit for Broadwater. Viking coach Noble Palmer said second baseman Olivia Kellam played an outstanding game on defense, making two sparkling plays and recording six putouts and two assists without an error.

Palmer added that Natavia Wharton pitched well, striking out six and giving up only one earned run on eight hits as several Viking miscues led to some early Southampton runs.

Broadwater concluded its season at 10-8.

Northampton's Cassie Nadeau, left, had three hits in a 17-16 win over Arcadia. Cana Lankford, right, went 4-for-5 with three doubles.

Northampton Girls Top Nandua; Shore Teams Advance in Conference

Story and photos by Bill Sterling

The Northampton girls' soccer team broke a scoreless tie with an Erica Head goal with 1:33 left in the first half and then added two goals in the second half for a 3-0 win over Nandua. Defender Brenda Guerrero scored on a direct kick at the 30-minute mark of the second half. Taylor Webb added the final Jacket goal with 14 minutes remaining.

Jacket coach Tabi Webb said Kennedy Webb, Cecilia Cruz and Stephanie Kellam all had an excellent game at the midfield positions, which was key in this win. "Karla Benavides also did an outstanding job at defense, making many back-door saves; another fantastic team-effort in which we communicated very well," said Webb.

It was Northampton's second win over Nandua and gave the Lady Jackets a 2-0 district mark. Arcadia also started a girls' soccer program this season, but did not play a complete schedule.

Nandua coach Dana Wright said, "I thought our girls played hard. We had some good scoring opportunities that we either missed the goal or their goalie made the save."

Jacket Boys Advance

Northampton easily turned back Appomattox Governor's School 9-0 Tuesday at home.

Arturo "Junior" Gildo scored three goals while Mariano Gaytan and Chris Montalvo scored two each. Garrett

Nandua Boys Split

The Nandua boys' soccer team edged Washington & Lee 2-1 Tuesday in the Conference 33 opener on the road.

Tio Tinoco scored the first goal for the Warriors before W&L scored on a free kick from 25 yards out.

With about five minutes remaining in the game, Victor Esteban scored on a pass from Tinoco.

Nandua fell 2-0 to Maggie Walker Wednesday night in Richmond.

"I couldn't be prouder of these young men. They faced adversity all year, but kept competing and training to become better. Looking back, we have no regrets," said Nandua coach Paul Nolz.

Arcadia was eliminated by Bruton 6-1 Tuesday night.

Jacket Girls Win Tourney Tilts

Nohemi Montalvo and Taylor Webb scored two goals each and Erica Head added one as the Northampton girls blanked Windsor 5-0 Tuesday night at home. The Jacket defense was stiff, allowing the ball to reach the goal keeper only once.

Wednesday night, the Jackets won over 2A Bluestone 5-4 in overtime. Down 3-1 with 30 minutes remaining after Ashlyn Arnold scored the Northampton goal, Taylor Webb scored an unassisted goal to draw within one. Taylor Webb scored again on a pass from Kennedy Webb to tie the game at 3-3 before Bluestone forged ahead with 15 minutes remaining. Kennedy Webb notched the tying goal with 10 minutes left in regulation, which ended at 4-4.

Taylor Webb scored two minutes into the first overtime period on an assist by Kennedy Webb.

Northampton coach Tabi Webb said the entire team worked hard for the win, but goal keeper Elizabeth Lilliston made some outstanding key saves, especially one late in the second overtime that could have tied the game again.

"It was a crazy game. Everything that could have gone wrong did, but the girls never gave up and I kept hearing them on the bench saying, 'We can't lose this game, girls.' It was definitely my proudest moment, at the end of that game, when all the girls came together and embraced each other; we hadn't experienced that level of emotion, but I guess that's what the post-season is all about."

Northampton plays at top-seeded Goochland tonight.

Northampton's Angela Head won the Conference 41 singles tennis championships and then teamed with Haley Potts to win the doubles title in action last week. The team also won the team championship, raising its record to 9-0.

On Tuesday, the Lady Jackets swept West Point in the regional quarter-finals. Head won her match 6-0, 6-0, Potts prevailed 6-2, 6-3, Elizabeth Hernandez and Claudia Fernandez both won 6-2, 6-2, Alex Froehlich breezed to a 6-0, 6-0 win and Ada Garvis finished the sweep with a 6-2, 6-0 win.

VMRC Votes to Keep Cobia Fishing Open Through August

In addition to the improved weather, the good news for local anglers is the 5-4 vote by the Virginia Marine Resources Commission to keep the state's cobia season open until Aug. 30.

Federal fishery managers had requested that states adopt closures on cobia catches following a banner year in 2015 when anglers landed well over the Allowable Catch Limit.

Virginia's new regulations, which will go into effect June 1, were met with mixed emotions.

In Virginia waters inside of three miles from the coast, anglers will have a one-fish-per-person limit, up to a two-fish maximum per boat. Fish must be at least 40 inches long and only one can top 50 inches.

In an effort to lower fish mortality for catch-and-release action, gaffing no longer will be permitted. Some form of mandatory reporting will be put in place.

Dr. Julie Ball says the drum bite is good on the Eastern Shore side of the bay when they can get out. Boats are reporting good catches of big red drum from the breakers and sloughs off the Eastern Shore barrier islands, especially with the recent full moon.

Reds are also mixing in with some black drum among the shoals off Fisherman's Island, Nautilus Shoal and the 9-Foot Shoal areas in anywhere from 10 to 25 feet of water. Black drum is not red hot, and most fish are small, but a few blacks are pushing to over 50 inches recently. Blacks continue to come from the bayside of the Eastern Shore near buoys 10, 13 and 16, where sea clams and chowder clams are working best.

Flounder action is still picking up, but there is room for improvement in the lower bay. Folks are catching fish at the bridge-tunnel this week, but most of the action is still coming from the more protected areas.

On the Eastern Shore, the flounder action out of Oyster is still good, with strips of squid and Gulp baits working best in Sand Shoal Inlet lately.

Nick Lewis won the Black Drum Chase at Chris' Bait and Tackle with a 71 pounder. Joseph Harrison was second with 58.6-pound drum.

Ray Fogle won first prize in Capt. Steve's Bait and Tackle Flounder Tournament with 4.11-pound flounder, good for a first prize of $1,000.

Words are a big part of my life and I have to say I love them. So when new ones arrive in Merriam-Webster's Open Dictionary (or anywhere else), I must take notice and realize that times are changing and if I don't keep up, somebody might think I'm old school. I am and I'm NOT.

With that said, can anyone tell me what I mean when I say, "That is so jank?" My friends couldn't. That last word means "not of good quality." It's sort of like when Eastern Shore folks used to call someone "common." However, this term came from Louisiana.

As if I haven't heard enough educational jargon from a local school system, the dictionary provided me with a new example. "Staffulty" are the people who make up the division's staff and faculty. Ingenious.

Personally, I'd rather have "sassitude" than be "emojinal." The first one is obviously a description for someone with a sassy attitude. The second is "expressing complex emotions through emojis," those small digital images or icons used to express emotions via the Internet.

Have you ever been asked by adoring fans to give your "fignature"? It's a signature (or autograph) done on a touchscreen with your finger."

I don't like to make disparaging remarks. I let other people do that. So here's the ammunition. A Kansas resident suggested using "dingus" instead of "idiot." That latter term is one I once (back when I was a young driver) yelled out the car window when another driver nearly hit me and my vehicle. There were more superlatives, but he only heard the last one and followed me to the store to let me know how much he appreciated it. I think I might have felt like a "dingus" that day.

I like the slang dictionary's new words the best. Ever heard of a "twacko?" It's a "tweaking wacko."

And the newfangled synonym for "hillbilly" or "bumpkin" is "clamppetty," or a backwards person who very much resembles someone in Jed Clamppett's family.

"Mantrum" is an uncontrolled expression of anger "by a man behaving like a child." It is "typically the result of perceived rejection by a women."

What would the world be like without "cuddlelust," ... an intense or overwhelming desire to cuddle or be cuddled?"

A "videot" is one "who has indulged in video games at the expense of education," according to a Colorado man.

"Sophists" are those "who make clever but unsound arguments." I actually know a few of those. It's not a new word. The term was first documented in 1542 in ancient Greece. Back then, sophists were "philosophers and teachers known for their subtle, but falla-

Forbes Deserves Support in June 14th Primary

Dear Editor:

I am grateful that we have U.S. Rep. Randy Forbes, a proven and good statesman, running to represent the 2nd Congressional District in the primary election on June 14. He will fight for the issues so crucial in our district.

I am proud to offer my support and vote on June 14 for Rep. Randy Forbes.

Annabelle Ross, Assawoman

Newly Elected Chincoteague Councilwoman Grateful for Votes

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the voters of Chincoteague Island for "hiring" me to represent them on town council. I have always been passionate about my hometown and have always stood up for it when the need arose.

I can promise two things: I will work very hard on my constituents' behalf and I will always listen to them. I will be talking to people on the street and on social media to gather their thoughts and opinions on matters subject to have a great impact on the island and surrounding areas.

I know that I cannot please everyone, but I can be counted on as someone who will listen, engage and then make a decision based on facts, figures and public opinion.

Denise Bowden, Chincoteague Island
