“BLOODS” GANG LEADER CONVICTED OF FOUR FELONIES

By Linda Cicaira

“When I get out, I’ll still be king,” local “Bloods” street gang leader Tyvon (Teddy) Lyncurtis Smith said Wednesday in Accomack Circuit Court as he was escorted into a holding room.

The jury (of 10 women and two men) had just convicted him of four felonies including directing other gang members to set fire to a house in order to keep witnesses from testifying against him for 2013 crimes.

About an hour later, the panel returned with recommended sentences totaling 30 years in prison. They said the 23-year-old former poultry plant worker should serve 15 years for ordering the fire and five years each for three counts that involved participating in gang activity and soliciting and inducing others to lie under oath.

Initially Smith and Jaquan (Buck) Cortez Portier, also 23, of Dennis Drive in Parksley (and another named Bloods member), shot at a house in Rolling Acres causing the inhabitants to duck for cover. A young woman who said she was riding in the car with Smith and Portier testified against them at a preliminary hearing but she could not be found when Smith went to trial. Two others got “amnesia” and couldn’t recall what happened. Those charges were dropped against both men.

Police said Portier was shot four times in September. Last week, another Parksley man was arrested and charged with malicious wounding in connection with that incident.

Smith previously lived on Diamond Springs Boulevard in the Parksley area with his mother but has been in police custody continuously for at least two years after beating charges and then getting accused of more crimes as police and prosecutors struggled to get a conviction.

Smith shook his head while the jury was dismissed Wednesday and Judge Edward W. Hanson ordered a presentence report and tentatively set sentencing for February. The defendant was then whisked from the room while speaking a few more words to family members who were sitting two rows behind him during the proceeding. Smith wore heavy weights around his ankles so he couldn’t run and was handcuffed as he was guided back to Accomack Jail by half a dozen deputies.

Commonwealth’s Attorney Matthew Brenner, who is seeking to permanently obtain the job in the election next week, was pleased with the outcome, as were Sheriff Todd Godwin and other top ranking officers in the sheriff’s department, who were present in the courtroom.

“I submit that he’s a dangerous young man,” Brenner told the jurors of Smith. “He should not see the light of day out of prison until he is well into his adult

Company Soars in Accomack County Industrial Park

By Linda Cicaira

An aeronautics company established in the Accomack County Industrial Park last summer has grown and now employs nine full-time Shore residents and two off-site workers.

“We were very fortunate to find a home here at the Accomack County Airport,” said managing partner, Dave Lungair, of Luminary Air Group LLC. “One of the key factors for us was to find a location that can accommodate our growth plans. I am partial to the Eastern Shore – no matter where I have been in the world, Texas, Florida, Maine, etc., the Shore has always been home and it feels good to bring some good jobs to the good people on the Shore.”

GROUP SEEKS TO PLACE ELECTED SCHOOL BOARD REFERENDUM ON 2017 BALLOT

By Linda Cicoira

Residents in Accomack were being trained at press time Thursday on the best way to collect signatures on petitions that could change the way county school board members are selected.

Their goal is for the nine-member panel to be elected rather than chosen by a commission appointed by the local circuit court judge. Signatures of at least 10 percent of registered voters would be needed to take the issue to referendum in November 2017. There are nearly 25,000 registered voters in Accomack. The group is aiming at getting 3,000 signatures to ensure success.

"It isn't about trying to have anyone removed," said Connie Burford of Bloxom, a school activist and parent who is among the petitioners. "It's about having a voice about who is being put on the board. It is a group of people who are appointed by one person and ... there is no accountability for their actions. We need transparency. We need accountability. The citizens should have a voice."

"We're one of the last places (in Virginia) that has an appointed school board," Burford continued. "It's about the people in Accomack ... having a say. Maybe what we have worked, for a while, but it's not working now."

Former School Board Member Janet Turner said, "parents and employees of Accomack County Public Schools have joined with community members ... to staff all 15 polling sites on Election Day ... this is a public school system and the citizens who oversee it should be elected by the public. Having an elected school board is just a more democratic way of governing our school system."

"The General Assembly selects the circuit court judge (W. Revell Lewis), who appoints the selection commission, which selects the school board members," Turner continued. "That process is too far removed from the will of the public. We need to join the rest of Virginia and let more of the citizens have a say in how our school system is governed and how our tax dollars are spent," Turner added.

More than 40 volunteers have signed up to collect signatures next Tuesday. Those who want to volunteer, should call 757-710-3530.

The change was made in Northampton several years ago after parents and other concerned citizens there circulated petitions to take the issue to a referendum. In that case, nearly 80 percent of voters favored election over the board of supervisors appointing members.

Environments Inc. (FEI) of California. That company was an established leader in the design, manufacturing and certification of acoustic and thermal insulation systems for VIPs and corporate aircraft. FEI also manufactured military aircraft interiors including panel upholstery and seat refurbishment.

Luminary is expanding sales efforts to Europe, Africa and Asia while continuing to manufacture and install all the previous products. In addition, it added engineering and program management services and is looking to introduce new product lines in the near future. Luminary also has made substantial investments in product research and development, improving the brand of insulation kits which will make them lighter and offer better performance than before; this effort is to ensure solid funding going forward.

"We hope to become a real contributor and foster some growth in the region," said Lumgair. "I would also like to say thank you to the other businesses in the business park; especially Blue Crab Bay Co, the airport, and Truss Tech, which stepped up and offered us a helping hand while we were getting set up. It's nice to have good neighbors who understand that sometimes offering even the simplest assistance means a lot to a new business."

"The EDA welcomes Luminary to the industrial park," said Accomack County Economic Development Authority (EDA) Chairman, John-Arthur LeCato. "We are pleased that Luminary selected Accomack County and look forward to the company's success and growth."

years. He needs to get past this ... juvenile gang-bang behavior. ... You have a potential life-term there that you could use to give this defendant ... that he could not do things in this community for a long, long, long time."

Smith could have faced life plus 40 years for the offenses and hundreds of thousands in fines. It is not common for a judge to defer from a jury's recommendations.

Defense lawyer James (J. D.) Garrett, of Virginia Beach, suggested the use of gang symbols, calls and knowledge are used by "wannabes." He told the jury that Smith "has been in custody since December 2012" but did not ask for leniency. "He does have a support system and people who care about him ... I would ask you to use your best judgment," he said commending them for doing such "thus far."

The jury found Smith not guilty of soliciting a murder, two counts of obstruction of justice and another count of gang participation. During the trial, Brenner told the judge he would not prosecute three other charges of perjury solicitation from July, August and September 2014. After Brenner finished presenting his evidence he attempted to put one charge back in the pile since the judge hadn't ruled on the alleged offenses. But Garrett argued that he would have cross examined officers if he had known and Hanson dismissed the counts.

Key evidence was letters from Smith to other gang members instructing them to make things happen to keep witnesses from testifying. The "knowledge" that he also gave the others was gang information like "killing and not caring" and being in it "full time not part time."

Investigator Pat Coulter of the sheriff's department told the court the witnesses were willing to testify until they were threatened. 1st Sgt. Elliott Anderson of the state police, a gang expert, and Wesley Diggs, a cryptologist with the state department of corrections, deciphered the letters and agreed Smith was directing others to set fire to a house and take any measures necessary.

Diggs said when Smith referred to a party he meant an event. "To blow out the candles" meant to commit an act of violence including murder. "Let them know we're not making idle threats we're here to take care of the problem ... he's going to run through the play with you ... I really need you to come through," the letter stated.

Smith wrote that gas should be put in a milk jug "that way it would burn too" and "shake it on the house ... I'll take care of you when I get out."

Brenner listed Smith's convictions for the jury as he was permitted just before the sentencing phase. Starting in 2008 in juvenile court, Smith was found guilty of petty and grand theft and burglary. In 2009, more juvenile convictions included felony and misdemeanor thefts, two counts of animal cruelty and firearms offenses.

Brenner was not allowed to disclose Smith was acquitted of the 2011 death of a 25-year-old Guatemala native and father of four who was shot in the heart while waiting for a ride to work with other chicken catchers. Smith's first murder trial in that case ended in a mistrial. The panel found him guilty of possession and use of a firearm but Judge Glen A. Tyler would not accept the verdicts saying all the alleged crimes were interrelated.

At a second trial, the charges were accessory after the fact of a murder, a misdemeanor, and felony possession of a firearm by a felon. Judge Frederick B. Lowe said he could not convict Smith based on the testimony of a co-defendant.

Smith, his mother, and his stepfather testified at the first trial that Smith was home when the murder occurred. His mother reiterated the testimony at the second proceeding.

The key witness said he, his cousin and Smith decided to rob a man who was alone and getting gas at the Royal Farms in Nelsonia early on the morning of July 21, 2011. But the three were surprised when more people showed up. The victim was shot as he approached their car.

Smith's lawyer argued that there was no fingerprint or DNA evidence to put Smith in the car. He also said the witness never mentioned Smith when he first was questioned.

A few days after that man was killed, Smith was among those charged with assault and battery by a mob in Wattsville in which a 20-year-old mob victim said he got jumped outside Royal Farms and was punched and kicked more than 10 times. Smith was convicted in that incident.

In July 2015, 10 charges were brought against Portier including shooting four victims; one a teenager who became paralyzed. They were dismissed.

Another candidate for prosecutor, Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney Spencer Morgan, was in charge of those cases and declined to move forward when one witnesses didn't show up and said he was moving to another state and others said they could not identify the shooter.

Defense lawyer Carl Bundick, the third candidate for prosecutor, represented Portier and asked for the charges to be dismissed. He argued about a five-month rule and said that cause wasn't shown. Prior to trial, Bundick told the Eastern Shore Post that Portier had an alibi. Bundick said his client was at the party, but was long gone before the shooting occurred. Bundick said the "important key" is that he was with his girlfriend all that day and she can collaborate. It was also stated the shooting started after unfavorable remarks were made about Smith.

Northampton Planners Request Ordinance Changes

By Ron West

Northampton's Planning Commission endorsed two zoning changes Tuesday recommended by the Board of Supervisors.

The zoning map for the Bayview area was corrected to identify parcels in an area identified as Town Edge I instead of Bayview Planned Unit Development.

Resident Suzanne Grizzard asked if the change would allow her family to grow and market vegetables and flowers. County Long-Range Planner Peter Stith said that would be permissible.

The recommendation was unanimous with Commissioners Kay Downing and Stephanie Webber absent.

A second public hearing involved a proposed change to the front setbacks of property in the Chesapeake/Atlantic Preservation Areas. Currently a vegetative buffer of 100 feet is required. The change involves reducing the front setback in order to reduce or eliminate the need for an administrative waiver from the 100-foot buffer if the lot is undeveloped, the setback applies only to the principal building, and the and a total setback remains at least 50 feet. There were no speakers to address the proposed change and it was approved again with the 5-0 vote.

The commissioners spent the remainder of the evening reviewing the environmental portion of the Comprehensive Plan. Following the review and approval of the environmental section, they agreed that to try to complete the entire review before the end of 2016 and forward it to the supervisors.

COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY USED OFFICE PHONE IN CAMPAIGN MATERIALS; Matter Referred to Virginia Beach Commonwealth's Attorney

By Connie Morrison

Acomack Commonwealth's Attorney candidate Matthew Brenner's campaign mailers provided a contact phone number that is the main phone number for the commonwealth's attorney office. Brenner was sworn in as Commonwealth's Attorney on Sept. 2 following the resignation of Gary Agar, and is seeking to fill that post permanently in the Nov. 8 election.

In an Oct. 26 letter to the Accomack County Electoral Board, Timothy Swain, who identified himself as a registered voter in Accomack County, call it a misuse of government resources and "an in-kind contribution by the county to his election campaign."

Brenner contends it was all a big mistake. "Basically it was an oversight," Brenner said. "We were following a template without thinking of propriety," later adding, "It wasn't an intentional, purposeful grab for resources."

Brenner said his office has fielded only one call as a result, "and if I can figure the cost of that one phone call," he said he would reimburse the county for that cost.

The Eastern Shore Post became aware of the mailer last week prior to Swain's letter. Contact with the Virginia Department of Elections ended with the Post being referred to the Virginia Attorney General. Attorney General Director of Communication Michael Kelly confirmed receipt of the inquiry, said there would be follow up, but offered no additional comment. The Post made several follow-up attempts with Kelly, but calls were unreturned.

At the local level, the Accomack County Electoral Board met in emergency session Nov. 1 in response to Swain's letter, according to board chairman Roger Omwake. "We have no investigative powers," said Omwake. "The usual process is to pass it to an out-of-town commonwealth's attorney."

In the Nov. 1 session, the electoral board referred the matter to the Accomack County Commonwealth's Attorney's office — Brenner's office — noting it would be up to them to decide how to proceed. "The Board of Elections legal staff advised us of the process," Omwake said.

Brenner said he is referring the matter to another commonwealth's attorney for review and "any action they deem appropriate." He initially contacted Northampton County Commonwealth's Attorney Bruce Jones, "but he (Jones) felt there was a conflict of interest," and so Brenner contacted the Virginia Beach Commonwealth's Attorney. He has informally forwarded information to that office, but is awaiting the formal notification from the electoral board to formally forward the case to Virginia Beach.

Brenner has run commercials on local radio calling attention to the mailer and explaining himself.

When asked whether the inclusion of the phone number on the mailing was illegal, Brenner responded, "That's for the commonwealth's attorney in Virginia Beach to figure out. They will make that determination."

MONSANTO HAS FUNDS FOR NON-PROFITS

Submitted Article

As part of the America's Farmers Grow Communities program, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, more than $3 million dollars of financial support will be provided to nonprofits across rural America in 2017.

Eligible farmers in Northampton County will have the opportunity to win a $2,500 donation to direct to a local eligible nonprofit organization. Since the program began in 2010, the America's Farmers Grow Communities program has awarded more than $22 million in donations toward causes positively impacting farming communities.

Northampton County farmers can enroll in the America's Farmers Community Outreach program through Nov. 30, 2016. Online enrollment, as well as a complete list of program rules and eligibility information, can be found at www.GrowCommunities.com or by calling 1-877-267-3332 toll-free.

Court Postings

By Linda Cicotra

Accomack General District

Brian Marquis Northan of Parkesley, whose tooth once connected him to a murder victim, is back in the county jail, according to records filed in Accomack General District Court this week.

The 29-year-old Leslie Trent Road resident was arrested Tuesday and charged with stealing a vehicle and maliciously causing bodily harm with intent to maim, disfigure, disable or kill, both felonies, and misdemeanor assault and battery.

Northan

The incidents occurred Oct. 23. The vehicle belonged to John Foster. The victim or victims of the maiming and the assault were not identified in court records. Northan is being held without bond with a preliminary hearing set for December. Sgt. Anthony Bright of the Accomack County Sheriff's Office (ACSO) investigated. Northan was arrested by Deputy T. C. Haines, also of ACSO.

Northan is not a stranger to local law enforcement. He was first accused of capital murder in the 2010 death of Anthony Wayne Wilson 46, of Felton, Del. Wilson was found dead at the scene of a traffic accident in June of that year near Greenbush. But he didn't die from the crash. A medical examiner ruled Wilson's life ended from a gunshot wound to the head and neck.

Found in the vehicle was Northan's tooth, according to DNA evidence. After spending three years in jail awaiting trial, Northan pleaded no contest to voluntary manslaughter in a plea bargain and was sentenced to 10 years with all but two years suspended. He got another two years for possession of a firearm by a felon to run consecutively with the first term. In addition, he was given two years for shooting at an occupied dwelling in connection with an incident that occurred a month after Wilson died. The latter sentence was set to run concurrently for a total of four years to serve.

In July 2015, Northan was acquitted in Northampton Circuit Court of transporting a firearm by a felon. In that incident, he was a passenger in a car that was pulled over for a traffic violation in Exmore in May 2015. Northan fled into the nearby dense woods. Police chased him and he eventually fell down and was captured. A .38 caliber revolver was found several feet from where he fell. It was sent off for DNA and fingerprint analysis but came back as an inconclusive match with Northan and he was acquitted.

In the murder case, a witness changed his mind three times about what he saw. The doctor who would have spoken about the tooth moved to Canada and the murder weapon, which was found in the Pocomoke River, was bought and sold several times among felons allowing Northan to say it wasn't his.

In another case, Billy Raymond Austin Sr., 62, of Elihu Wallops Lane in Horntown, was charged with strangulation, abduction and assault that occurred sometime between Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. Investigator Josh Marsh of the ACSO investigated. Austin was convicted in 2003 of aggravated sexual battery and in 2014 of possession of a firearm by a felon. When arrested he told police, according to the record, that he "would blow the head of any police officer" but "he said he said it as a joke." Austin is being held without bond.

Tyler Jermaine Ladson, 21, of Dockview Street in Harborton, was charged with felony shoplifting in connection with an Oct. 24 incident. He was arrested Oct. 31. Deputy David Gladding investigated. Ladson is being held without bond.

Miranda Lyn Gibbons, 18, of Lee Street in Melfa, was charged with felony shoplifting from Walmart in Onley on Oct. 25, 2016. She was arrested Oct. 28. Records stated she confessed in writing to the crime. Unsecured bail was set at $5,000. Gladding also investigated that case.

Rontari Malik Warren, 22, of Diamond Road in Birdsnest, was charged with stealing a vehicle valued at $200 or more belonging to Rachel Chandler on Aug. 25, 2015. Warren was arrested Oct. 31, 2016.

Secured bond was set at $5,500. Investigator Sam Castiglia of ACSO investigated.

Brian Wayne Doughty, 56, of Chincoteague, was arrested Oct. 27 and charged with possessing a Schedule I or II drug May 10, 2016. Sgt. T. J. Greenley of Chincoteague Police Department investigated.

Northampton Circuit

A Cape Charles man pleaded guilty Monday in Northampton Circuit Court to a felony.

Lenny Rock Kenner, 38, of Washington Avenue, admitted to possessing or transporting a firearm by a violent felon on Oct. 10, 2015. The case was continued pending completion of a presentence report. Deputy Justin Smith of the Northampton County Sheriff's Office investigated.

OBITUARIES

Former Eastern Shore Resident Passes

Dr. James “Jamie” Wilson Stitt, 71, of Asheboro, N.C., died peacefully in his home from a short illness.

Born in Fayetteville, N.C. to Rev. and Mrs. W.M. Stitt, he graduated from Louisburg College in 1965 and High Point College in 1967. He received his doctorate in British History from the University of South Carolina in 1976. He joined the faculty of High Point College in 1969 and remained a cornerstone of the institution for the next 47 years, serving as chair of the department of history, faculty marshal and chair of faculty council during his tenure. The university recognized his dedication to students with the Meridith Clarke Slane Award for Distinguished Teaching and Service. Dr. Stitt was also a scholar, publishing a book, “Joint Industrial Councils in British History: Inception, Adoption, and Utilization, 1917-1939 (2006).” He was active in the Canadian Studies Association, and the Economic and Business History Association. Dr. Stitt was a pillar of his community, serving as president of Asheboro Rotary, and as senior warden of the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd. He will be missed by family, friends, colleagues and students.

Dr. Stitt

He is survived by his wife, Janice Dixon Stitt; step daughter, Megan Davis (David) of Asheboro; three grandchildren; and brother, Andrew Stitt (Patty), of Bardin Lake, N.C.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, Nov. 5, 2016, at 2 p.m. at the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, 505 Mountain Rd., Asheboro, with Rev. Joe Mitchell officiating. A light reception will follow in the parish hall.

Memorials may be made to the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, 505 Mountain Rd., Asheboro, NC 27205. Condolences may be shared at www.pughfuneralhome.com Arrangements are by the Pugh Funeral Home of Asheboro.

Cheriton Mans Was Shooting Enthusiast

Mr. Norman Gladden Jr. passed away Oct. 24, 2016, after a sudden illness. Born Feb. 7, 1952, in Seaford, Del., to Audrey Shackelford Gladden and Norman Gladden, he was a resident of Cheriton and Boulder City, Nev.

In pursuance of his love for shooting and “anything guns” he opened and operated A & P Arms in Virginia Beach and Hampton from 1974 through 2012. He often said he was so fortunate to be able to own his own business and work in his hobby. He gave credit to many friends and mentors who helped make this possible.

Enjoying his hobby so much along with his wife Lou, he obtained a second home in Boulder City, Nev., to be able to shoot long-range all year.

Mr. Gladden leaves behind his lifelong love and best friend, his wife Lou Gladden, and loved kitty, Boston. He is also survived by his aunt, Indie Shackelford Sheets; uncle, John S. Hyslop Jr., who was a second father to him; cousin J. S. Hyslop III (Margie) whom he considered his brother and sister-in-law; cousin, Virginia Lee Savage (Tommy); and several other cousins. He was preceded in death by his mother, Audrey Shackelford Gladden; father, Norman Gladden; and aunt, Mary Blanche Shackelford Hyslop, who was a second mother to him; other uncles and an aunt.

Graveside service will be held at Cape Charles Cemetery on Thursday, Nov. 10, 2016, at 11 a.m. with Rev. Charles Peterson officiating. Memorial donations may be made to Foodbank of Southeastern Virginia Eastern Shore Branch, P.O. Box 518, Tasley, VA 23441-0518.

A funeral service was held at 3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 29, 2016, at Apex United Methodist Church, 100 S. Hughes St, Apex, N.C. A burial service followed at Wake Memorial Park in Cary.

Memorials may be made to Apex United Methodist Church. Condolences may be shared at www.ApexFuneral.net

Arrangements were made by Apex Funeral Home.

Wildlife Biologist, Volunteer Dies

Mr. Irvin W. Ailes, 72, husband of Marilyn Ailes passed away Oct. 29, 2016.

Born in Buena Vista, Ind., to the late Clarence and Martha Mae Ailes, he was one of seven children living in a one-bedroom home without running water, and attended a one-room school where the first assignment each morning was to chop wood for the stove. Mr. Ailes joined the Air Force upon graduation from high school, serving four years, mostly at Vandenburg A.F. Base in California.

Upon discharge, he married Marilyn Stevens and moved north. He earned a Bachelor's degree in Wildlife Biology from the University of Alaska, Fairbanks. He followed this with his Master's degree in the same field from the University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point.

His early jobs included a first summer job as a janitor in the post office at Anchorage, research on shorebirds of the Arctic tundra, analyzing forage in the high country of Escalante, Utah, monitoring cliff-dwelling raptors hanging out the door of a helicopter, and leading a team of firefighters on a wilderness wild-fire in Zion National Park.

In 1977, he joined the Fish & Wildlife Service, serving at Back Bay on the Virginia/North Carolina line for two years before moving to the Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge, where he remained until he retired in 2004.

As a volunteer, Mr. Ailes organized the Wachapreague Christmas Bird Count for several decades. He was also a member of the Eastern Shore Bird Club, Community Tennis Association of Chincoteague, Master Naturalists, Master Gardeners, Wastewatchers of the Eastern Shore, the Accomack Community Band, and Girl Scouts of the Chesapeake Bay.

For recreation, Mr. Ailes enjoyed camping and traveling with his wife, Marilyn, daughter Charsa (now Raymond), and son, Clinton Ailes. He enjoyed exploring foreign countries through youth hostels and hiking. At home, he enjoyed bike riding and jogging on the refuge, working in the woods around his home, and especially going places with his family.

Mr. Ailes is also survived by his brothers, Russell and Ernie Ailes; grandchildren, Courtney and Lauren Ailes, Adalia and Ceryl Rubin, and Anna Raymond; son-in-law Joe Raymond; daughter-in-law Tina Ailes; sister-in-law Janet Shields (Steve); a niece, Jamie Lyderson (Dan), and nephew Ken Shields and his family.

Donations may be made in lieu of flowers to the Chincoteague Natural History Association, 8231 Beach Rd., Chincoteague Island, VA 23336, or the Community Tennis Association, P.O. Box 922, Chincoteague, VA 23336.

A memorial will be held Friday, Nov. 11, 2016, at 2 p.m. at the Salyer Funeral Home on Chincoteague, with Rev. Travis DeLoach officiating.

His many years of hard work to preserve the beauty of the country in general and the Eastern Shore in particular have left this world a better place for his passage. May the same be said of each of us.

Condolences may be made online at www.salyerfh.com

NORTHAMPTON SCHOOL BOARD STYMIED BY STAFF SURVEY RESULTS

By Ron West

Northampton's School Board reviewed the results of a 2016 survey last week regarding teacher retention at the four county schools.

Vice Chairman Randy Parks asked Member Nancy Proto why the survey was so complex and why it covered things he did not think were legitimate reasons for workers leaving. He said better answers could be obtained by the human resources department during exit surveys.

Parks, a retired Northampton High math teacher, said the reasons would likely be low pay, a policy that prevented a pay raise for new teachers for the first five years, limited social activities in the area, family concerns and a desire to return home.

Proto said the survey went to all teachers and would help the board better understand what was liked or disliked about the system.

Superintendent Eddie Lawrence

called for a closed session. He wanted to privately discuss the reasons given by individual teachers. After that session, the Board voted to release the survey results to the staff at each school and to then do a follow-up with school administrators to obtain staff reactions.

Kiptopeke Principal Sabrina Parker, teachers Allie Milward and Susan Spady, and School Student Council Association president A. J. Price, gave an update on the status and success of Kiptopeke including that it gained full state accreditation.

"The high school is on the right track," said Principal Michael Myers. He said since he took over the helm there, morale has improved; the school band, which had only four members a few years ago, is now thriving; and the football team, after have lost 36 straight games, has a 4-4 record.

Myers said students who miss 10 days must make up the class time to insure that they receive the instruction that is required to be successful. Additional instruction is provided after school and will soon be offered through Saturday sessions. He said he wants a swipe card program to help prevent class skipping. Parents of students who are absent from school receive an automatic phone call advising them of the absence.

WHRO-TV CEO Bert Schmidt and Vice President of Education Brian Callahan discussed the benefits of educational opportunities offered by the station. WHRO is owned by school systems in Hampton Roads, including Accomack and Northampton counties. The station provides hundreds of classroom lessons, graduate classes that are offered in conjunction with local colleges and teacher workshops.

Lawrence reported that 1,692 was the average daily attendance at the end of September. He said the state is considering making changes for student-administrator and guidance counselor ratios for schools, which would provide additional support for students. But, if unfunded, it would put an additional strain on finances.

Students will exhibit robots they have designed and constructed during the Dec. 15 school board session, which will be held at Occoanock Elementary. Because of scheduling issues, the Nov. 22 session will be held at 6 p.m. at the school administration office in Machipongo.

Warriors Earn Second Straight Win

The Nandua Warriors took on the Northampton Yellow Jackets in Onley last Friday night during their annual homecoming, where the visitors fell, 50-40, to the home team.

After the first 12 minutes, both teams were able to put a mark on the scoreboard, with Nandua entering the second quarter on top, 28-6. Northampton struck back when senior Frederick Williams (3) scored a touchdown, closing the gap, 28-12. With seven minutes to go in the second, Nandua's Waylon White (22) notched another six and with the point after touchdown (PAT) good, the Warriors extended their lead, 35-12.

Nandua made it 42-12 with two minutes left in the second quarter with a rushing touchdown and a good PAT. Northampton fired back with another touchdown by the hands of Williams and after the team converted on their two extra points, the Yellow Jackets narrowed the Warriors' lead further, making it 42-20 by half-time. The scoreboard remained unchanged through the third quarter. However, just one minute into the final 12, Northampton's Durell Robinson (27) tallied a touchdown, making it 42-26.

Nandua went on to score one last touchdown and completed a two-point conversion, with Northampton attempting a comeback with two additional touchdowns and completed one of two PATs. Unfortunately, time trickled away and the final score settled in the Warriors' favor, 50-40.

The homecoming win will propel the Warriors to a 7-3 record. The Yellow Jackets, now 4-5 for the season, will take Hamilton Field for the last time this year to host the Arcadia Firebirds tonight at 7 p.m. Arcadia, who owns a 3-6 record, will travel to Eastville fresh off a 48-13 loss to the Kent County Trojans.

The Chincoteague Ponies, who hold a 7-2 record, will face Greenbrier Christian tonight in Chesapeake. The Ponies shut-out the Hampton Roads Generals during their last time out, 36-0. The team will look to extend their four-game win streak to five.

ES Athletes Post Success at Collegiate Level

Story by Krystle Bono

Many Shore athletes have taken the talents they developed during their time in secondary school and moved on to pursue success at the collegiate level. These young athletes have taken an array of skill, endurance and drive and applied the love of their respective sport in order to further advance the tenacity to excel beyond the constraints of high school.

Taylor and Kennedy Webb, both graduates of Northampton High School, are currently attending Randolph College in Lynchburg, Va., where they are also both members of the WildCats Volleyball roster. The freshmen duo have posted a successful first season under the guidance of Cara Matthews, who is in her third season as head coach.

The girls' wrapped up their first season with Randolph last Saturday, where the team hosted Ferrum College in a grueling five-set battle. The WildCats came out on top, winning 3-2 over the Panthers, with set scores of 29-31, 25-20, 18-25, 25-23 and 13-15. Taylor accrued a career high of 10 kills and earned her first career double-double with 15 digs. Her sister, Kennedy, posted a team-high of 21 and was a game leader.

Overall, Kennedy accumulated a season total of 225 digs, 35 assists, 12 aces and nine kills over 27 games for 21 points. Taylor finished with 171 digs, 25 kills, 10 assists, five blocks and two aces over 27 games, totaling 30 points. The team concluded the season with a record of 5-22.

During their tenure at Northampton, Kennedy served as captain of the Yellow Jackets' varsity squad two out of five years under Coach Cathy Doughty. As a junior, she was named MVP and made second team All-Conference. Taylor took on the role as captain two out of her four years playing for Northampton and her accolades include making All-District four years in a row, earning the title of defensive MVP in 2015, Offensive Player of the Year in 2016 and was named team MVP her sophomore through senior years.

Kennedy is a business major and Taylor is pursuing a degree in sports and exercise studies.

Freshman Drew Harmon, a graduate of Broadwater Academy, has found his place at Randolph College, too, but with the men's cross country team.

During the WildCats' last outing, Harmon finished with a time of 37:26:09. The meet took place at Buena Vista Links Course for the Old Dominion Athletic Conference (ODAC) Championships last Saturday, which was hosted by Washington and Lee University.

Harmon ran for the Vikings' team for two years and also stepped into the role as captain. He is currently a business management major. Randolph's cross country team is set to compete

Nov. 12, in the NCAA South/Southeast Regionals.

Another Broadwater Academy graduate, Major Morgan, traded green and gold for maroon and silver as a member of the Hampden-Sydney football team in Hampden-Sydney, Va. So far this year, Morgan has totaled 156 yards with 13 receptions and one touchdown over seven games played. The Tigers' next game will be Nov. 5, at Shenandoah.

Nandua graduate, JaKorah Parker, a sophomore at Christopher Newport University, is a member of the Captains' football team. This season, he has rushed 11 yards over two games played. During his time with the Warriors, the 5-foot-eight, 160-pound running back helped Nandua earn four straight district championships during his four-year stint. He is pursuing a degree in political science.

The Tigers' will travel to Wayne, N.J., to face the William Paterson University Pioneers Nov. 5.

Northampton Wrestling and the Fight for Karren Paglia Second Annual Color Run

Story and Photos by Krystle Bono

Last Saturday, the Northampton High School wrestling team hosted their second annual Color Run in Cape Charles to benefit the upcoming season, as well as the Fight for Karren Paglia.

Over 100 participants of all ages lined the pavement along the beachfront to show their support to the local club and to Karren Paglia, who was in attendance. The 5k run—or walk—led everyone up Mason Avenue, looped around the park and back towards the beach, while being met by some colorful, explosive encouragement along the route.

Paglia, mother of former Northampton wrestler and three-time state champion, Casey Paglia, was diagnosed with brain cancer back in December of 2011. She has remained an integral light to not only the Yellow Jackets' wrestling program, but also across the Eastern Shore.

The event brought in a total of $1,750. Of that total, $1,000 will go directly to the Paglia family and the remaining amount will go to Northampton Wrestling.

The Yellow Jacket wrestlers will kick-off the 2016-17 season on Dec. 3, at Cape Henry. The team's home opener will take place on Friday, Dec. 10, in Eastville, where they will host Arcadia and Nandua High Schools on Hamilton Field for a special "Grapple on the Gridiron Alumni Field Day." Wrestling Alumni will be recognized and there will also be concessions and blow up Jump Jumps for entertainment.

Northampton Wrestling is also selling T-shirts to benefit the team and the Paglia family, as well as bumper stickers for five dollars each. T-shirts can be purchased online by visiting www.booster.com/fightforkarrennorthamptonwrestlin and stickers are available by contacting Coach Matt Evans 757-710-9433.

Donations are also welcome and can be gifted online at www.northamptonwrestlingva.com

Eastern Shore Street Hockey League (ESSHL) Senior League Game Results

Article Submitted by Michael Garbacz

Game 1: Predators 1, Bruins 2

This week's slate of ESSHL games started off with a one-goal thriller. The Bruins managed to emerge victorious after breaking a 1-1 tie in the second period thanks to a goal from TR Hoyt and then held on for the remainder of the game. Zach Webb picked up the other goal for the B's, while Donnie Williams and Dustin Aigner picked up assists. Hoyt also added an assist. Jesse West scored the goal for the Preds in the loss; El Presidente and Keith Hagler chimed in with assists on his goal.

Game 2: Capitals 3, Blues 2

The trend for one-goal games continued on the day as the Caps surged by the Blues in the third period with a pair of goals to grab the win. Just about half of the Blues' shots came in the third, as they tried to tie it up late, but goalie Dylan Harrington stood tall. The Capitals were led by none other than their captain, "Pat Trick" Luckenbach, who scored all the goals the team needed. Clara and Ray Schreffler each chipped in an assist in the victory. While Josh Hail peppered the opposing goalie with shots, the Blues forward couldn't find the back of the net this time around. Instead, Danny Miller provided the markers for the Blues in the loss. Ray Johnson added an assist as well.

Game 3: Red Wings 2, Bruins 6

The Bruins cruised over the young Wings squad in this tilt. Donnie "Smooth Criminal" Williams and TR Hoyt each scored two goals apiece for the Bruins; Jason Johnson and Matt Ayers also each potted a goal. Ayers added two helpers for a tidy three-point effort in the win. Red Wings captain, Brandon Stapleton, scored both markers in the losing effort. Danny Tweedy and Wes Stapleton each picked up an assist.

Game 4: Predators 5, Avalanche 0

Despite being outshot by the Avs, the Preds walked away with this one on the strength of a Keith Hagler hat trick. After elegantly scoring a goal in each period, Hagler was smiling. El Presidente, Stapleton and Jesse West also added goals. B. Stapleton also added three assists for a four-point game; Dalton McDaniel and Will Crockett also registered one helper each. Jared Marsh earned a big shutout win over his former captain, Nate Metzger, while young Garret Baylis played his heart out for the Avs.

Game 5: Penguins 1, Capitals 4

The Pens could not get the motor firing on all cylinders this time around and the Caps jumped at the chance to sail to victory. Luckenbach and Matt Yetter each produced two goals for the Capitals in the winning effort. Luckenbach and Yetter each earned an assist, giving each of them three-point games. Cliff Windsor picked up two helpers and James Haley added one. Michael Garbacz spoiled Justin Wheeler's shutout bid for the Pens' lone goal.

Game 6: Blues 3, Avalanche 1

The Blues were relentless in this contest, hammering so many shots on net that they just about doubled up the Avs' effort in that department. Josh Hail and Julian Dedicatoria were flying all over the court. It was Hail who came up with all the Blues goals this time, earning the hat trick. Cory Chance, Jennie Rice and Julian Dedicatoria chimed in with assists in the win. Nate Metzger scored a beautiful top shelf goal in the loss; Dustin Palo picked up the assist.

Game 7: Penguins 4, Red Wings 7

The day ended with a veritable Octoberfest of goal scoring, as the Wings surged past the Pens in the third period to seal the win. Robby Parker and Brandon Stapleton each scored hat tricks; B. Stapleton also added two assists and Parker added one for respective five and four-point games. Danny Tweedy also added a goal and an assist; Wes Stapleton picked up three helpers. Garbacz led the charge for the Pens, scoring two goals and adding an assist for a three-point game. Dedicatoria had his first multipoint game in the ESSHL, registering a goal and an assist. Ben Bundick only needed one shot to pick up a goal, rounding out the scoring for the Penguins.

Cheriton Barbell Club's First Sanctioned Meet

Story submitted by Jacob Parks

The Cheriton Barbell Club, based out of Jacob Parks Personal Training, is a USA Olympic Weightlifting (USAW) sanctioned club that trains the athletic discipline in which the athlete attempts a maximum weight single lift of a barbell with weight plates. The club was founded in August of this year, with the intention of offering a competitive environment to those lifters who were previously training the lifts in isolation.

The two competition lifts, in order, are the snatch and clean and jerk. Each weightlifter receives three attempts in each and the combined total of the highest two successful lifts determines the overall result within a bodyweight category.

The Cheriton Barbell Club brought six lifters to their first USAW sanctioned meet, The Unrivalled Classic, on Oct. 22 and 23, held in Virginia Beach. The club's members who participated were Claire Ferebee, Megan Lawson, Mason Ingram, Thomas Leffel, Sean Patrick Marsh and George Chandler.

Sean Patrick Marsh's stand-out performance met the qualifying total to compete against the best 15-16 year old weightlifters in the country at next summer's Youth National Championships, to be held in Atlanta, Ga. In the meantime, he has set his sights on meeting the qualifying total for the Junior National Championships, which features the best under 20-year-old weightlifters across the U.S.

As a club, they hope to continue to bring new lifters into their team environment through their quarterly seminars and organized team practices. They are planning to host their own USAW competition in March of 2017. This meet should bring in Olympic style weightlifters from all over the state to compete against one another.

For further information on how to join the Cheriton Barbell Club team, please contact Jacob Parks at jake@jacobparks.com.

SPORTFISHING REPORT

By Dr. Julie Ball, IGFA Representative

As the fall saltwater fishery scene shifts into high gear, anglers are still looking to the intensifying inshore scene to provide most of the action.

With the cooler weather settling in, anglers are becoming more interested in speckled trout. Although some locations are better than others, many fish are ranging to around 18- to 22-inches, with a few trout exceeding 24-inches. The Eastern Shore seaside and Bayside inlets are giving up some specks. Plenty of puppy drum are also in these same areas, with a few fish pushing to over 20-inches. Most any lure or cut bait will work. Both speckled trout and pups are also keeping surf anglers happy along the lower Bay shore lines, and from the wash along the ocean front recently.

Spot continue to provide some sporadic action off Ocean View, Buckroe, near the Monitor-Merimac Bridge Tunnel, and the Lynnhaven River, but more predictable catches are coming from within Rudee Inlet. The folks at The Fishing Center report that some of these spot are big yellow bellies, with bloodworms the bait of choice.

Tautog action is taking off in lower Bay waters and on coastal structures and wrecks. Good numbers of keeper tog are coming from the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel proper, especially near the bases of the pilings and the tubes of the artificial islands. Fiddler crabs and clams are working best. This bite will continue to accelerate as waters continue to cool. Sheepshead are also still hitting in these same areas.

Flounder have been mostly low key, however, anglers fishing within the protected confines of the Lynnhaven River and Rudee Inlet are finding some keepers. Wreck flounder are also available on deeper structures when boats can reach them. Big black seabass are also a good possibility, which are now in season through December.

Although the best of this run is over, surf anglers continue to pull some big red drum from the surfines along the Eastern Shore down to the Wildlife Refuge. A few nice bulls are also still responding around the islands of the CBBT on cut bait, but these fish are on the move southward, where the North Carolina fall red drum surf fishing trend is going strong.

As water temperatures continue to drop, the striped bass activity continues to rise. Although the bigger rockfish are still on their way, anglers are content with school fish in most lower Bay skinny water and inlet locations. Striper anglers are scoring with schoolies while casting top water lures around all of the lower Bay crossings. Surf anglers targeting rockfish under the Lesner Bridge are also finding a few keepers.

Some big amberjack are still available at the Southern Towers, but this trend is about over. Deep dropping is a good option when the weather allows. A few boats have reported catches of nice grouper, golden tilefish, blueline tilefish, and blackbellied rosefish.

Offshore, the action is slow, with weather the biggest determining factor. Recent trips have resulted in mostly nice-sized dolphin, some albacore, king mackerel and a few wahoo. Yellowfin and big eye tuna are also possibilities.

Local DAR Chapter joins with Maryland Chapters for Historical Tour

Submitted Article

Historical groups from Virginia and Maryland took a boat trip to Smith Island, Md., last month to visit the Battle of the Barges, Battle of Kedges Straits and pay homage to the American patriots who participated.

The battle was the last naval action of the American Revolution and was fought off Smith Island on Nov. 20, 1782. Patriots who battled there were from the Eastern Shore of Virginia and Maryland.

Members of the Eastern Shore of Virginia Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution (NSCAR), their guests, the Sons of the American Revolution Chapter, Captain John Smoot of Salisbury, Md., and other DAR and SAR chapters from Maryland participated in the trip. They also visited Smith Island Cultural Center and observed a presentation by Troy Nowak, Assistant State Underwater Archeologist - Maryland Historical Trust on the recent research done at the battle-site.

The group had lunch at the Bayside Restaurant in Ewell. Eastern Shore of Virginia Chapter Regent, Sarah Bingman, and Past Regent, Diana Wyatt, participated in the wreath laying ceremony that was conducted by Captain John Smoot Chapter members, Compatriot Mark Tyler and the Chapter's 2nd Vice-President, Jim Adkins.

NSDAR was founded to preserve the memory and spirit of those who contributed to securing American independence. Any woman 18 years or older, regardless of race, religion, or ethnic background, who can prove lineal descent from a patriot of the American Revolution is eligible for membership. DAR is one of the world's largest and most active service organizations with nearly 180,000 members in approximately 3,000 chapters worldwide. These members passionately carry out the timeless mission of promoting historic preservation, education and patriotism.

Election Day 2016: Where to Go; What You Need To Vote

By Linda Cicaira

Election workers were busy in Accomack and Northampton counties preparing for Election Day, which lands on Nov. 8 this year.

Chiefs and new workers for the 21 Eastern Shore polling places were training this week and offices were busy taking absentee ballots and answering scores of questions.

Registration was up in Accomack by 745 voters compared to four years ago when the last presidential election was held. There were 24,512 registered voters in the county as of Nov. 1 and 23,767 at the same time in 2012.

At press time Thursday, about 535 people had cast absentee ballots in person in Accomack at a rate of between 30 to 40 a day in the last several days. Workers mailed another 939 absentee ballots that were requested by voters. Forty of those were emailed and must be printed and mailed back.

The breakdown of registered voters by precinct showed 2,656 in Chincoteague; 1,217 in Atlantic; 1,767 in Greenbackville; 2,722 in New Church; 826 in Bloxom; 1,231 in Parksley; 363 in Saxis; 1,227 in Mappsville; 1,128 in Rue; 2,025 in Accomac; 397 on Tangier; 2,963 at Nandua Middle School; 939 in Bobtown; 1,384 in Melfa; 791 in Wachapreague; and 2,876 in Painter.

In Northampton, absentee voting was also busy with about the same number of people coming in to vote early as four years ago. As of Nov. 1, there were a total of 9,235 registered voters. By precinct there were: 2,131 in District 1; 1,808 in District 2; 1,730 in District 3; 1,697 in District 4; and 1,869 in District 5.

Voters must also be prepared to vote on the constitutional amendments as election officers are not allowed to help read or interpret the choices because they may inadvertently show bias.

Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. Registered voters in line by 7 p.m. can vote.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

To be voted on at the November 8, 2016 Election

1 Article I. Bill of Rights. Section 11-A. Right to work.

BALLOT QUESTION

Question: Should Article I of the Constitution of Virginia be amended to prohibit any agreement or combination between an employer and a labor union or labor organization whereby (i) nonmembers of the union or organization are denied the right to work for the employer, (ii) membership to the union or organization is made a condition of employment or continuation of employment by such employer, or (iii) the union or organization acquires an employment monopoly in any such enterprise?

EXPLANATION

Present Law

Currently, Virginia's right to work law, § 40.1-59 of the Code of Virginia, provides that any agreement or combination between an employer and a labor union or labor organization whereby (i) nonmembers of the union or organization are denied the right to work for the employer, (ii) membership in the union or organization is made a condition of employment or continuation of employment by such employer, or (iii) the union or organization acquires an employment monopoly in any such enterprise is against public policy and illegal. This has been the law and the declared public policy of the Commonwealth since 1947.

Proposed Amendment

The proposed amendment places the provisions of Virginia's right to work law into the Constitution of Virginia. While Virginia law may be amended by any future General Assembly, a constitutional prohibition can only be changed by a future constitutional amendment approved by the voters.

Full text of Amendment

[Proposed new language is underlined.]

Amend Article I of the Constitution of Virginia by adding a section numbered 11-A as follows:

Article I. Bill of Rights. Section 11-A. Right to work.

Any agreement or combination between any employer and any labor union or labor organization whereby nonmembers of the union or organization are denied the right to work for the employer, or whereby such membership is made a condition of employment or continuation of employment by such employer, or whereby any such union or organization acquires an employment monopoly in any enterprise, is against public policy and constitutes an illegal combination or conspiracy and is void.

2 Article X. Taxation and Finance. Section 6-B. Property tax exemptions for spouses of certain emergency services providers.

BALLOT QUESTION

Question: Shall the Constitution of Virginia be amended to allow the General Assembly to provide an option to the localities to exempt from taxation the real property of the surviving spouse of any law-enforcement officer, firefighter, search and rescue personnel, or emergency medical services personnel who was killed in the line of duty, where the surviving spouse occupies the real property as his or her principal place of residence and has not remarried?

EXPLANATION

Present Law

Article X, Section 6-A of the Constitution of Virginia now requires the General Assembly to exempt from taxation the real property, including the joint real property of husband and wife, of any veteran with a 100 percent service-connected, permanent, and total disability, as determined by the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, and the real property of the surviving spouse of an eligible veteran. This exemption from taxation applies to the principal place of residence of the eligible veteran or of the surviving spouse of an eligible veteran. The exemption ceases if the surviving spouse remarries.

Article X, Section 6-A of the Constitution of Virginia also authorizes the General Assembly to exempt from taxation the real property of the surviving spouse of any member of the Armed Forces of the United States who was killed in action, as determined by the U.S. Department of Defense. This exemption from taxation applies to the surviving spouse's principal place of residence, and the exemption ceases if the surviving spouse remarries.

Proposed Amendment

The proposed constitutional amendment authorizes the General Assembly to enact a law that would allow a locality to exempt from taxation the real property of the surviving spouse of any law-enforcement officer, firefighter, search and rescue personnel, or emergency medical services personnel who is killed in the line of duty. The exemption from taxation would cease if the surviving spouse remarries. The exemption would apply regardless of whether the spouse was killed in the line of duty prior to the effective date of this amendment but would apply only to those real property taxes to be paid on or after the effective date of this amendment. The exemption from taxation would apply to the surviving spouse's principal place of residence, even if he or she moves to a new principal place of residence. The exemption would not require the surviving spouse to have been residing in the Commonwealth at the time his or her spouse was killed in the line of duty.

The proposed constitutional amendment authorizes the General Assembly to prescribe additional restrictions and conditions on the exemption from taxation if enacting such a law.

Full text of Amendment

[Proposed new language is underlined.]

Amend Article X of the Constitution of Virginia by adding a section numbered 6-B as follows:

Article X. Taxation and Finance. Section 6-B. Property tax exemptions for spouses of certain emergency services providers. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 6, the General Assembly by general law, and within the restrictions and conditions prescribed therein, may provide for a local option to exempt from taxation the real property of the surviving spouse of any law-enforcement officer, firefighter, search and rescue personnel, or emergency medical services personnel who was killed in the line of duty, who occupies the real property as his or her principal place of residence. The exemption under this section shall cease if the surviving spouse remarries and shall not be claimed thereafter. This exemption applies regardless of whether the spouse was killed in the line of duty prior to the effective date of this section, but the exemption shall not be applicable for any period of time prior to the effective date. This exemption applies to the surviving spouse's principal place of residence without any restriction on the spouse's moving to a different principal place of residence and without any requirement that the spouse reside in the Commonwealth at the time of death of the law-enforcement officer, firefighter, search and rescue personnel, or emergency medical services personnel.

NEW PARKSLEY LIBRARY TO HOST LOCAL HISTORY ARCHIVE

Submitted Article

The new building for the Eastern Shore Regional Library System planned for Parksley will be home to a major archive dedicated to local history, culture, and genealogy. Architects have designed a wing of the building that will be dedicated exclusively to the storage of items such as photographs, manuscripts, maps, local books, and genealogical materials.

"This is something the Shore has needed for a long time," said local writer and photographer Curtis Badger. "I know a lot of people who have collections of local books, photographs, post cards, and things like that, and we are concerned about what will happen to these materials in the future. We think it's important that these materials remain on the Eastern Shore and be made accessible to future generations of local residents. But as of now, there is no entity in either county able to adequately store, catalog, preserve, and share these items. The alternative is to donate them to the Library of Virginia in Richmond or to the Nabb Center at Salisbury University, which means the materials will leave the Eastern Shore."

Badger and other local writers, historians, and genealogists have been working to make the archive part of the new library plan. "The existing library in Accomac has had an Eastern Shore Room since it expanded in 1984, but it has become so crowded it can no longer accept private collections," said Badger. "Construction of a new library in Parksley presents us with an opportunity to finally have a facility where local books, photographs, manuscripts, genealogical records, and other items could be cataloged, digitized, archived, and made available to people doing research or to students working on classroom projects."

The new library is planned for the former Fresh Pride grocery store, which will be renovated and expanded. The Eastern Shore Public Library purchased the property last summer with the assistance of the town of Parksley.

A capital campaign to raise funds for renovation and expansion is currently underway. Visit www.shore-library.com to follow progress or to donate.

Virginia Department of Health Launches Monthlong Countdown to Help Tobacco Users Quit

The Virginia Department of Health (VDH) is helping tobacco users get ready to quit by sharing tips and resources during “Countdown to Quit Day.” The countdown kicked off Oct. 18 and offers a different tip on VDH’s Facebook and Twitter platforms each day through Nov. 17. “Virginia Quit Day” coincides with “The Great American Smoke Out” and celebrates the benefits of living tobacco free.

“Helping Virginians quit tobacco is one of the most important steps we can take in our quest to make Virginia the healthiest state in the nation,” said State Health Commissioner Marissa J. Levine,

MD, MPH, FAAFP. “The tips provided during the ‘Countdown to Quit Day’ will provide people with the resources they can use to improve their health by quitting tobacco.”

Tips will cover topics such as dealing with cravings, building a support network of family and friends and creating a tobacco free environment. “Countdown to Quit Day” is not just for tobacco users but also for people who love tobacco users. The tips provided will help them support their loved ones when they make the decision to quit, making it more likely that they will remain tobacco free.

One of the resources available to tobacco users year-round is the Virginia Quitline. This evidence-based model offers support for quitting, including free quit coaching, a free quit plan and free educational materials. Call 800-QUIT-NOW (800-784-8669) or visit www.QuitNow.net/Virginia. Deaf and hearing-impaired TTY is 800-332-8615.

“We are looking forward to helping more Virginians quit using tobacco on the third annual Virginia Quit Day,” said Tobacco Use Control Program Manager Jayne Flowers, MA, CPM. “The Quitline is a wonderful service to help people avoid the dangerous consequences of tobacco use.”

Health Matters Shore Rehab Receives Award

Riverside Shore Rehabilitation Center, in Parksley, earned the 2016 Bronze – Commitment to Quality Award from a national long-term care organization. The award is the first of three distinctions possible through the National Quality Award Program, presented by the American Health Care Association and National Center for Assisted Living (AHCA/NCAL), the leading association for long term and post-acute care. The award honors providers across the nation who have demonstrated their commitment to improving quality of care for seniors and persons with disabilities.

“It’s an honor to be recognized for the hard work and quality care our team provides every day,” said Jane Kellam, Director of Nursing at Riverside Shore Rehabilitation Center (RSRC). “We are committed to providing high-quality, person-centered care to our residents and their families. We will never stop improving.”

Implemented by AHCA/NCAL in 1996, the National Quality Award Program is centered on the core values and criteria of the Baldrige Performance Excellence Program, which assists providers of long-term and post-acute care services in achieving their performance excellence goals.

The program has three levels:

Bronze, Silver, and Gold. Providers begin the quality improvement process at the Bronze level, where they demonstrate their dedication to the performance improvement process and demonstrate their success. Trained examiners determined that RSRC had successfully completed the first level requirements and awarded RSRC the Bronze - Commitment to Quality Award. RSRC may now pursue the Silver - Achievement in Quality Award by demonstrating approaches and performance levels that meet the silver level criteria.

“I applaud the women and men of Riverside Shore Rehabilitation Center for their commitment to improving quality care,” said the AHCA/NCAL National Quality Award Board of Overseers Chair Christine Boldt. “This award is the first step in a program that serves as an essential guide to performance excellence.”

Finalists are young movers and shakers who are already making great impacts in their communities.

NAAEE is an international organization that focuses on accelerated environmental literacy and civic engagement through the power of education. They are engaged at all levels of the education community and are leaders in the environmental education community.

CBFS is a non-profit environmental learning center and field station. Trelegan is most passionate about finding new and meaningful ways to communicate issues related to climate change to diverse audiences through interdisciplinary learning, hands-on education, and stewardship. Through her work at CBFS, she's been able to pursue this track, through development and communication as well as through public education.

One of the programs she facilitates at CBFS is a free intergenerational program called SPARK (Shore People Advancing Readiness for Knowledge) that aims to provide experiences for families of all background to learn together through nature. In 2016 she became an active member of NOAA Climate Stewards. Most recently the SPARK program was recognized as one of five programs in North America to be awarded UL Innovative Education Award in partnership with NAAEE.

Trelegan previously worked for the National Park Service's Rivers Trails and Conservation Assistance program on the New England National Scenic Trail to connect young and diverse audiences to nature through the arts and sciences. She designed her own concentration in science communication, photography, and education at Hampshire College. She realized her passion for teaching after two years of facilitating a digital photography course for young mothers at the Care Center.

VIRGINIA: IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF ACCOMACK

THE COUNTY OF ACCOMACK, VIRGINIA

Plaintiff
CIVIL CASE NO. 16CL303

JOYCE DOTY SHRIEVES, if living
JOHANNE NIBBLETT

Defendants

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to enforce the lien of the Plaintiff for delinquent taxes against certain real estate described as follows:

All that parcel of land containing 7.50 acres, more or less, situate on the State Road leading from Leemont to Hunting Creek, and designated as parcel no. 07700A000005400.

standing in the name of Joyce Doty Shrieves, pursuant to Section 58.1-3965 et seq. of the Code of Virginia.

And an affidavit having been filed that due diligence has been used to determine if Joyce Doty Shrieves is living, or if deceased, to ascertain the names and location of all her heirs, devisees and successors in title, but without effect; that there are or may be other persons having an interest in the real estate forming the subject matter of this suit whose names and last post office addresses are unknown, namely, the unknown heirs, devisees and successors in title of Joyce Doty Shrieves; that Johanne Nibblett is a nonresident of the state of Virginia; and that the last known post office address of Johanne Nibblett is 1309 Hamilton Street, Salisbury, MD 21804.

It is ORDERED that this Order be published once a week for two successive weeks in the Eastern Shore Post and that the parties named herein appear on or before December 12, 2016 at 9:30 a.m. in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court for the County of Accomack, Virginia, and do what may be necessary to protect their interests in this suit.

Ever wonder why political groups are called “parties?” I think I might have found the answer to that riveting question.

Candidates used to woo voters with booze. The website constitutioncenter.org, states that George Washington was seeking a seat on the House of Burgesses when he plied his constituents with 160 gallons of liquor. He spent his entire campaign budget, 50 pounds, to serve not quite 400 voters. That’s 2.5 gallons each and I don’t think anyone took it to go.

Offering such refreshments was a custom in England and a tradition in Virginia. “Barrels were rolled to courthouse lawns and polling places on Election Day” for the festivities.

Neither Washington nor his opponent John

Post-Op Ed Page

Adams were affiliated with a “party” when the first (presidential) election was conducted. In the second election in 1792, both men were aligned with the Federalist party, “at which point politics just became a gathering of the biggest party animals the public could find,” states www.rounds.com

Eating, drinking and even parading were mainstream. “Political parties would hand out pre-printed ballots for voters to cast to ensure that people voted for a party ticket,” the constitution site states. It wasn’t until the 1890s that secret ballots were used “commonly” in the U. S.

All that stuff went on before women could vote. Later all were allowed to cast a ballot. Then the age changed from 21 to 18 in the early 1970s. But 18-, 19- and 20-year-olds would now be unable to take part in the liquor on the lawn parties.

Have you ever wondered why Americans always go to the polls on Tuesdays? I didn’t learn the reason in government or history classes, but I now know.

In 1845, county seats were the only place to have polling places, according to <http://lwvccpa.org>, So many traveled overnight to vote. They came into town on horseback or in a buggy. Election Day couldn’t have been set for Monday because church was reserved for Sunday, not for travel.

Nov. 1 was not only All Saints Day, “But, historically it was the time for businesses to close their books for the previous month,” the website continued. “Congress feared that an unusually good or bad economic month might influence the vote if it were held on the 1st” so the second Tuesday was reserved.

More people than usual appear to be interested in voting in the presidential election this year. Some have already cast their ballots in absentee votes. Other residents are becoming more and more apathetic about the election too. Opinions are rampant about the candidates.

All of us have debated the chances of one vote making a difference. Yet another website, www.poetpatriot.com, states “one vote is victory among many when the many have the majority.”

With billions of votes cast, “The frequency of close votes comes often,” the site stated. “Out of 89,000 votes cast in U. S. Congressional elections, one vote was cast in an election where the candidate won by a single vote or was tied. The frequency rate is greater in state legislator elections where one in 15,000 votes had been cast for a candidate winning by one vote or was tied.”

Only 36.4 percent of voters cast their ballots in 1998, the lowest since 1942. Nearly two out of three of the 115 million eligible American voters did not bother to vote. Between 1972 and 2000 the national voting turn-out for the 18-24 year age group declined by 10 percent. In 1998 less than 20 percent of 18-24 year-olds chose to vote. That is one in five. In 2000 only 42 percent of 18-24 year-olds bothered to vote. That same year only 75 percent of those older than 25 voted.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the longest serving president, had a thought about all that. “Nobody will ever deprive the American people of the right to vote except the American people themselves and the only way they could do this is by not voting.”

Vote.

Shaun Brown Vote Will Make History

Dear Editor:

The voters of the second Congressional District have an opportunity to make history this election. Shaun Brown will be the first African-American woman to be elected from Virginia to the United States House of Representatives. With an outstanding educational background behind her, and a lifetime of community activism, she will represent her constituents well. Her very position on key issues reflects the people as a whole in the second district. Is it any wonder that her campaign theme – rising together – reflects where a Shaun Brown candidacy would lead Virginia and all its residents?

Stephanie Sterner

Let Your Conscience Be Your Guide

Dear Editor:

Given our flawed electoral college system, and Virginia’s archaic method of assigning its Electoral College votes, it’s impossible for Hillary/Tim to not win Virginia’s EC votes. She’s bluer’n a Bay crab.

Bernie has to support her, but nobody else does. Not in Virginia.

Post Office Mail

Especially not to stop Drumpf.

I switched from Bernie-or-bust when he busted against democracy, and on over to the progressive Green Party platform and candidate Dr. Jill Stein.

Voting Dem down the Virginia ticket for sure.

On Election Day, let your conscience be your guide. Jill Stein, 2016.

Abortion is Overriding Issue for this Election

Dear Editor:

Please consider the most defenseless among us when casting your presidential ballot Nov. 8 — the unborn baby in its mother’s womb. Donald Trump has asked the Heritage Foundation and the Federalist Society — two conservative think tanks — to compile a list of Supreme Court nominees for his consideration. You may find these judges on the internet.

Hillary Clinton has said she will not select a Supreme Court nominee who is not pro-choice (for abortion)! Consider this: These nominees will serve for a lifetime appointment, perhaps 30 or 40 years.

David Barton of Wallbuilders, a brilliant Christian historian from Aledo, Texas, believes this is the most important issue in the presidential election. I strongly agree with him.
