Hospital Ready For Showtime (and ESPN) as Move Draws Closer

Hospital Administrator John Peterman points out features in one of six rooms in the maternity suite of the new Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital, slated to open in its new Onley-Onancock location on Feb. 25. This room is designed for labor, delivery, recovery, and post-partum without having to change rooms.

Story by Connie Morrison

It's nearly showtime for Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital. The medical center will move its operations from the 1971-era facility into what Administrator John Peterman called the "most modern" hospital in Virginia, and "probably the most modern in Virginia and Maryland" in the Onley-Onancock area on Feb. 25.

The cost of the entire campus, which features the new hospital, a cancer treatment center, and a medical professional office building, is $90 million.

Peterman led a media tour of the hospital Monday. The general public is invited to stop by on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 4 and 5 (see page 6).

Once it's operational, the entrance area will receive visitors and patients, where they will be given visitor's badges or escorted to departments. "Everything beyond this point is secure," he said.

The emergency room, which is open around the clock, will have a separate entrance.

All patient rooms are private — and twice the size of rooms in the Nasawa-dox hospital — with private bathrooms and showers, and room for family members to stay overnight. They also feature large-screen televisions that offer ESPN. "Our board chairman said we have to have ESPN in every room," Peterman quipped.

Local landscapes and familiar Eastern Shore scenes warm the hallways. Peterman said 99 percent of the artwork is by local artists or of local sites. "We did focus on making sure the hospital represents the Shore," said hospital spokesperson Sally Schreiber.

The hospital's three operating rooms are equipped with green light technology that allows the surgeon to see without glare. "We have the best surgical lights known to mankind," said construction Project Manager Glenn Gangitano.

A pneumatic tube system will allow lab draws to be sent and medications to be received without ever leaving the floor.

Peterman said the facility is designed to adapt as needs change. "It is designed to get us well into the future."

TRIAL UNDERWAY FOR MAN WHO WANTED TO KILL DEPUTIES

By Linda Cicaira

Sharif R. Akbar says he was having hallucinations and delusions in 2015. He thought that if he killed police officers, God would grant him superpowers. So armed with a butcher knife, he started out on foot from his grandmother's house near Cheriton to find the Northampton County Sheriff's Office.

Unsuccessful, the 27-year-old Centerville, Va., man decided to steal a van in an attempt to lure deputies to him.

The enticement brought three deputies to Nassawadox where he was surrounded. He stopped and was ordered out of the vehicle, but he didn't know how to put it in park and the van drifted into a squad car as Akbar got out and started punching.

"I'll kill them all," he said as the deputies took him to the ground. He urged others to kill the officers as he was handcuffed and arrested. Akbar is being held in Eastern Shore Regional Jail without bond.

He was scheduled to continue his testimony in Northampton Circuit Court at press time Thursday. He entered not guilty pleas last week to attempted murder of Deputies Carlos Moyano and Rob Stubbs, assault and battery of the officers and stealing a vehicle belonging to Verizon.

Defense lawyer Tucker Watson of Eastville said his client did not plan

Attempted Murder Charges Certified For Suspects Who Shot at Deputy

By Linda Cicaira

Probable cause was found Monday in Accomack General District Court to certify charges to a county grand jury against two Norfolk men for attempted murder of a sheriff's deputy last September.

Judge Gordon Vincent also certified charges of shooting from a vehicle, use of a firearm in the attempted murder and unlawfully shooting at an occupied law enforcement vehicle.

Deandre Breshon Ayers, also known as De'Andre Breshon Ayres and Deondre Brashaun Ayers, 28, of Hanson Avenue in Norfolk, previously from Painter, was certified for those counts.

Charges against Lamond Perry, 23, of Marshall Avenue, were also certified. Commonwealth's Attorney Spencer Morgan asked for charges against Demetrius Perry, 21, of the same address, (Lamond Perry's brother), to not be prosecuted at this time since all the lab analyses had yet to be completed.

Morgan said the plan was to allow Maryland to extradite Demetrius Perry so he could face charges there. The Virginia cases would be picked back up when the lab reports are final. Extradition papers were filed for him for robbery, making a threat of mass violence, theft of $1,000 to $10,000 and threat of arson.

A charge of possession of a firearm by a non-violent felon was also certified for Ayres.

Maryland police were notified at nearly 2 p.m., Sept. 26, of an alarm going off at PNC Bank at 600 Linden Ave., in Pocomoke. Officers went to the scene and were told "the bank was robbed by three subjects who threatened to blow it up with an explosive device. No weapon or explosive was displayed to the bank tellers. The three ... left the bank, ran towards the 6th Street Car Wash and exited the area in a silver Chevy Malibu with a Virginia tag believed to be JYU-4323," court papers stated.

Accomack authorities were notified to be on the lookout for the car. Accomack Deputy Eric Nottingham got the alert and then saw the vehicle on Route 13 near Temperanceville. He followed the car, which turned right on Nelsonia Road and headed towards Bloxom. When the vehicle ran a stop sign he attempted to pull it over.

"The vehicle was acting like it was stopping," said Nottingham. It rolled to about five to 10 miles per hour "and then floored it and went up to 80 to 90 mph." The deputy said the car then just jammed on the breaks. That's when he saw an arm come out of the driver's window with a gun pointed towards him.

"It started popping off," he said. "I heard metal clanking around. I just heard a whole bunch of shots." Nottingham put the squad car in reverse. "I thought those chargers were fast but this one wasn't fast enough for me."

The Malibu took off again. The deputy tried to chase it but he could smell something burning and then his car stopped. He said the gun fired twice as the vehicle was driving off. "Three bullets struck my vehicle, one of them hit the transmission cord," he continued.

Defense lawyer Paul Watson, who represented Ayres, said his client did not go into the bank and was not happy with what the others had decided to do. "He was terrified" about the gun which he said was fired out the window from the back seat, Watson said. "Somebody else fired the shot. I understand acting in concert. ... He was put in a very bad position" as there was "someone in the car with a gun."

NORTHAMPTON SETS HEARING FOR HIGHER 2018 SCHOOL BUDGET

By Ron West

Northampton's School Board got a first look at the draft fiscal 2018 school budget last week, which is about $578,000 higher than the current year.

Superintendent Eddie Lawrence presented the members with a list of priorities needed to keep the schools afloat. He emphasized mandatory items including an increase in the Virginia Retirement System, testing price increases and additional elementary staff to handle an increase in student enrollment. Lawrence reported enrollment is at 1,674 students.

Lawrence said additional secondary staff, a 1.5 percent step pay increase and transportation and operational increases would add another $552,662 to the draft. After taking into consideration repurposed funds, the bottom line was just over $578,000 above the current year's budget.

A public hearing on the proposal will be held at 7 p.m., Feb. 9, at Northampton High School. The board will conduct a work session at 5:30 p.m. The board will later present a budget to the board of supervisors for consideration.

A new astronomy program offered by the University of Virginia will serve up to 20 elementary students this summer. The program will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. for one week in June at Occohannock Elementary School.

Operations Director Chris Truckner praised his staff and school custodial staffs for their outstanding efforts to remove snow, including 4-foot to 5-foot drifts that blocked school entryways.

The board reviewed procedures regarding payments to new and terminated employees and updated its travel expenses policy. Also reviewed was a policy covering grievance procedures for employees. The board will consider voting on the procedures at its next regular session.

Lawrence said four full days have been missed due to inclement weather, and delayed openings have occurred that equal three days. The state focuses on actual classroom hours rather than just counting days. For several years, schools have added additional minutes to the instructional day, which help defray the time lost.

In order to avoid affecting Spring

Break or adding additional days at the end of the school year, two teacher workdays have been repurposed as instructional days. If the schools face additional down days due to weather, the school board will have to address the issue.

Lawrence noted while the loss of work days might be an inconvenience to teachers, it mean students will benefit from having two more days where they will be kept warm, fed, and safe.

SHERIFF WARNS OF LOCAL SCAM

A possible scam in Accomack County is leaving people feeling uneasy.

If sales people come to your home uninvited and make you feel uncomfortable, Sheriff Todd Godwin says to call his office at 787-1131 and a deputy will be sent to your house.

"Please do not give out any information," he said.

Residents have reported that the people arrive in a van and say they are working for a company that really does not exist.

Cheriton Town Council Wants To Know: Who Let The Dogs Out?

By Ron West

Dog owners are ignoring Cheriton's leash law, Councilman Wesley Travis told other town leaders last week.

He said the town needs to take a closer look at one situation in which the owner of pit bulls has allowed the animals to roam outside and chase other dogs and people in the neighborhood.

Other council members and Mayor Joe Habel agreed and urged anyone who sees dogs running freely and acting aggressively to contact the town office or Northampton's animal control officers, who have the authority to respond within the town limits.

Habel noted the town has the authority to issue written warnings as well as citations for failure to comply with ordinances.

Drainage issues near South Bayside Road were also discussed. Council agreed to seek an estimate for repairing or replacing a drainpipe that appears to be the cause of the problem.

Habel said projects associated with the town park, including fencing around the playground, and the adjacent commercial district need to be completed. He noted, benches and trashcans were added in an effort to make the area more appealing. Councilwoman Mary Mears urged the panel to add a security system to the area.

Cheriton Fire Department needs assistance to purchase an air compressor system that would allow volunteers to respond faster to calls, Habel said. Council agreed unanimously to allocate up to $2,000 towards the system.

Cheriton's Annual Cleanup Day is set for March 11. Mears reported the event encourages residents to maintain their property and to "spruce up" the town. The event will be from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Those who participate will be treated to a cook-out at the town park. Park Day is tentatively set for June 17.

to contest the latter three charges because there was enough evidence to convict him of those counts. "We do not stipulate that there is sufficient evidence" for the attempted murder charges, said Watson. "We intend to present an insanity defense on all five."

Commonwealth's Attorney Bruce Jones said the evidence would be the same either way.

Two Norfolk psychologists testified that Akbar was psychotic when the incidents occurred on Nov. 2, 2015.

"He essentially seemed fearful and not in anyway faking or malingering," said Dr. David Keenan. "It's very difficult to fake a mental illness to an experienced evaluator."

Dr. Alana Hollings spoke this week through a teleconference. Court was delayed last week because she had family obligations. Hollings interrupted her testimony several times to talk to others Wednesday who could not be seen on the television screen. She admitted there were details about the incidents that she hadn't known but upon learning about them would not budge from her conclusion.

Akbar told officers that he needed to get his "manhood back" in order to revert back to Islam and that somehow he thought he could do that by killing those who are "toughest on the block" and could protect themselves. He came to the Eastern Shore with his mother the previous day and planned to steal his grandmother's guns while the two women were at doctors' appointments.

His mother testified Akbar had been acting bizarre and she was concerned about him. Akbar had an irrational fear that something was going to happen to his sister and nephew and was not communicating with his mother in his usual straightforward way, she said. His mother hoped the visit would help but also urged him to get seek counsel as others in the family had mental health issues.

Akbar admitted to breaking into his grandmother's closet where she kept guns. He didn't know how to load the shotguns so he abandoned them. A handgun was not recovered. The knife, held in a transparent cylinder, was placed on the judge's bench.

Historical Society Presents Program of Stories of Shore's Older African Americans

The Historical Society of the Eastern Shore presents the second in a trilogy of Black history programs co-produced by Why, Yes! Consulting LLC: "Shore Black History Lives, A Conversation: How We Prayed, Played and Made a Way Out of No Way."

The long title reflects the average age of the panel of five remarkable 90-year-olds who will share stories about African American life on the Shore. Nola Dennis, Ridgeway Dunton, Vivian Hack, Eunice Morris and Rudy Nedab will respond to questions from Dennis Custis, Anetia Finney and DeCola Pettit Johnson. Stories of praying, playing and making a way for themselves, while overcoming discrimination, second class citizenship and Jim Crow, will likely bring gasps, laughter, and tears to those in attendance.

Tickets for the general public are $10. Those who are not yet members of the Historical Society pay $15. Free hors d'oeuvres and cash bar will be included in the cost of admission.

Malicious Bodily Harm Charge Certified

Probable cause was found last week to certify charges of malicious bodily harm and unauthorized use of a vehicle to a grand jury against Brian Marquis Northan, the man whose tooth was once evidence in a murder case.

Northan, 29, of Leslie Trent Road in Parksley, is being held without bond in Accomack Jail in connection with the Oct. 23, 2016, incidents.

The victim, John Foster of Watts-ville, said he was giving Lamont Johnson a ride home from playing cards. They stopped at Northan's house, who he met for the first time that night.

The three rode to several locations. They ended up at Johnson's house, where Johnson suddenly started hitting him.

"I was trying to block it," Foster said. "I didn't expect him to start punching."

Then both men "rushed me," Foster said. "Brian had a wrench," it was a 1 1/2-inch tool that Foster had in his vehicle. "He broke my arm with it. After I was getting beat and couldn't defend myself, I ran to hide in the woods. I just laid there until I could hear no one moving ... once I got up ... I was just hobbling along beating on peoples' doors."

Foster said a woman finally called 9-1-1 and he was eventually taken to the hospital.

Foster's girlfriend, Caroline Abbott, testified that Foster and Johnson left her house to take her aunt home from playing cards. When they were gone longer than it would take to go from Watts-ville to Parksley, she began to worry and called Foster. But Johnson kept answering Foster's cell phone, saying Johnson couldn't talk. Foster's car was later found at another location.

Northan is not a stranger to local law enforcement. He was first accused of capital murder in the 2010 death of Anthony Wayne Wilson 46, of Felton, Del. Wilson was found dead at the scene of a traffic accident near Greenbush. But he didn't die from the crash. A medical examiner ruled Wilson's life ended from a gunshot wound to the head and neck.

Found in the vehicle was Northan's tooth, according to DNA evidence. After spending three years in jail awaiting trial, Northan pleaded no contest to voluntary manslaughter in a plea bargain and was sentenced to 10 years with all but two years suspended. He got another two years for possession of a firearm by a felon to run consecutively with the first term. In addition, he was given two years for shooting at an occupied dwelling in connection with an incident that occurred a month after Wilson died. The latter sentence was set to run concurrently for a total of four years to serve.

In the murder case, a witness changed his mind about what he saw three times. The doctor, who would have spoke about the tooth, moved to Canada and the murder weapon, which was found in the Pocomoke River, was bought and sold several times among felons, allowing Northan to say it wasn't his, according to testimony.

Foster said his arm is still broken on one side and that he wore casts for months.

In another case, when a witness was not available, charges of strangulation, abduction and assault were not prosecuted against Billy Raymond Austin Sr., 62, of Elihu Wallops Land in Horn-town. The incidents allegedly occurred between Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Guilty Plea in Supervisor Carjacking

A 15-year-old pleaded guilty last week in Accomack Circuit Court to carjacking Supervisor Reneta Major's car and stealing a Broadwater Academy bus last summer.

Dabreon Lamont Tankard, of Woodland Avenue in Melfa, was tried as an adult. In addition to those charges, he pleaded guilty to stealing Major's car, felony destruction of property, use of a firearm in a felony, grand larceny and maliciously shooting at a vehicle. The crimes occurred in early August.

Tankard was remanded to Accomack Jail until a presentence report could be completed.

In another case, Joshua Jamar Cooper, 31, of Nathaniel Street in Mapps-ville, was sentenced to three years with all but four months suspended for forgery on Nov. 25, and to three years with all but three months suspended for unauthorized use of a vehicle on Nov. 27; to five years with all but four months suspended for abduction on Sept. 28, 2015; to 12 months for assault and battery, also on Sept. 28; to three years for use of a firearm, also on Sept. 28; to three years with all suspended for credit card fraud and restitution of $1,274.85 between Feb. 20 and March 20, 2014.

The terms were all set to run consecutively. Good behavior was ordered for 10 years and supervised probation was ordered for five. Cooper's driver's license was suspended for six months.

Marcus Dupree Giddings, 33, of Cedar-lake Drive in Williamstown, N.J., was sentenced to five years with four suspended for felony eluding on Aug. 20, 2008. A count of receiving stolen property was not prosecuted. He got 12 months with eight months suspended for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The terms were set to run consecutively. Good behavior was ordered for five years and supervised probation was ordered for three.

Cheriton Woman Sentenced for Oxycodone Distribution

A Cheriton woman was sentenced to a total of 10 years in prison Monday in Northampton Circuit Court for illegal drug distribution. All but six months of the terms were suspended.

Glenneva Owens Weeks, 53, of Banks Road, was sentenced to five years for possession with the intent to distribute cocaine and five years for possession with the intent to distribute oxycodone. All but three months was suspended on each count. A diversion center program and supervised probation were ordered.

Stephen Christopher McCanna, 42, of Madison Heights, Va., pleaded guilty to distribution of an imitation drug and attempting to distribute a controlled substance. He was sentenced to two years and six months on each offense with all but 30 days each suspended, to run consecutively for a total of 60 days. Supervised probation and good behavior were ordered for three years and five years, respectively.

Caleb Salvatore Catalano, 20, of Center Sandwich, N.H., pleaded guilty to possession of hydromorphone, an opioid pain medication, also known as Dilaudid. The case was continued pending completion of a presentence report.

Steve Giddens, 19, of Birdsnest, pleaded guilty to possession with intent to distribute cocaine and possession with intent to distribute cocaine. The latter was a second offense. A presentence report was ordered.

OBITUARIES

World War II Veteran, Tug Pilot, Passes

Mr. John S. Hyslop Jr., 93, husband of the late Mary Blanche Shackelford Hyslop and a resident of Exmore, passed away Tuesday, Jan. 24, 2017, at the Hermitage on the Eastern Shore in Onancock. A native of Craddockville, he was the son of the late John Smith Hyslop and the late Sadie LeCato Hyslop.

Mr. Hyslop

He was retired from Penn Central Railroad, for which he crewed and piloted tugs and barges from the Eastern Shore to Western Shore ports.

He was a member of Belle Haven United Methodist Church and grew up on bayside farms.

During World War II, Mr. Hyslop served in the U.S. Navy on the battleship USS Texas, supporting Allied troops at Omaha Beach on D-Day and at the battles of Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

He is survived by a son, J.S. Hyslop III and his wife, Margie, of Gaithersburg, Md; a niece, Charlene Harris, of Seminole, Fla., and her husband Bob; a nephew, Robert C. (Bob) Mader Jr., of Hixson, Tenn., and his wife, Donna; a niece-by-marriage, Lou Gladden, of Cheriton, and Boulder City, Nev., whom he considered a daughter-in-law; sister-in-law, Indie Shackelford Sheets, of Hot Springs, Ark.; and numerous cousins.

He was predeceased by a sister, Margaret Hyslop Mader East; nephew Norman Gladden Jr., whom he considered a son; and brothers-in-law, Robert C. Mader Sr., Stanley E. Sheets and Ed East.

Funeral services were conducted Jan. 28, 2017, at Doughty Funeral Home with Rev. Paul Oh officiating. Interment followed in Belle Haven Cemetery. Memorials may be made to a charity of one's choice.

Chincoteague Police Arrest Two in Connection With Island Burglaries

By Linda Cicaira

Two island residents were arrested last weekend and charged with burglarizing several downtown businesses and related crimes, according to Chief Randy Mills of the Chincoteague Police Department (CPD).

The accused are Dylan Tyler Lambertson, 21, and Amanda Lynn Bare, 19. The crimes occurred Saturday, Jan. 28, and involved Seaside Seashells, Eclectic Beachcomber, Chincoteague Island Barber Shop and Saigon Village. Sgt. Thomas B. Hickman of CPD investigated.

Lambertson was also charged in connection with vehicles that were broken into on Main Street and Ocean Boulevard later that day. Cpl. Thomas J. Adams of CPD investigated those incidents.

Both suspects were charged with four counts of burglary, two counts of grand larceny, and one count of possession of burglary tools, destroying/defacing property and petty larceny. Lambertson was also charged with another count of grand larceny and four more counts of petty larceny.

Records filed in Accomack General District Court stated Bare "admitted she and Lambertson broke into three businesses." Lambertson had an iPad in his possession when arrested that was identified by one of the victims, the file stated. He is being held without bail.

Former Shore Resident Dies in Indiana Crash

By Linda Cicaira

A former Eastern Shore resident died earlier this month in a single-vehicle traffic crash in Indiana where he was living.

Christian B. Nolan, 25, of North Vernon, Ind., was driving east on U.S. Route 50 in Butlerville at about 8 a.m., Jan. 19, near County Road when the vehicle left the south side of the road for an unknown reason, according to state police. The 2002 Pontiac Grand Am became airborne, ejecting Nolan, a report stated. The car then struck an embankment and rolled before coming to a stop.

Nolan was pronounced dead at the scene by the Jennings County Coroner's Office. Police believe he was not wearing a seatbelt. Four troopers, the county sheriff's department and EMS, and a local fire department were dispatched to the accident.

Group Plans Protest

Virginia Organizing in Eastern Shore will hold a public demonstration in support of the Affordable Care Act (ACA) and health care for all people on Saturday, Feb. 4, at noon, next to the future hospital site.

In addition to a demonstration, community members will share stories about how the Affordable Care Act has improved their lives and benefited their families and will write letters to Senator Warner asking him to support the ACA and expand health coverage to more people.

The group will meet in the Peebles parking lot, 25342 Lankford Hwy., Onley, across from new hospital site.

Yellow Jackets Boys' Varsity Basketball Claims District and Conference Championships

Story and Photos By Krystle Bono

The Northampton Yellow Jackets claimed the top spot in the district for the second consecutive year and they also earned the conference title last Thursday night, after defeating Franklin, 80-77, in Eastville.

Monday night marked a loss in Northampton's record, as the boys suffered a deficit to Essex during a road make-up game, 66-55.

The Chincoteague Ponies notched a victory last Friday night, 77-63, over the visiting Charles City. Trevor Bailey netted a team-high of 36 points during their home contest. Voshawn Davis dished out 17 points and Drevon Johnson potted nine. Bailey also led his team on the rebound front with 10; Davis had seven and Collin Derrickson had five.

Team assists were led by Davis with eight and Nysheem Wallop, who contributed seven. Bailey had the most steals, grabbing three; Davis and Wallop each posted three blocks.

The Eastern Shore District Tournament's first round of games were held on Wednesday in Eastville. First up was the second and third seeded teams, the Nandua Warriors and the Chincoteague Ponies, who hit the court to battle for a spot in tonight's (Friday) finals.

Nandua muscled their way out on top by five points, gripping the 70-65 win over Chincoteague. They will move on to battle Northampton tonight at 7 p.m.

The Yellow Jackets earned a place in the finals after they triumphed over the Arcadia Firebirds, 94-40, in Eastville Wednesday night.

Jawuan Bell threw 13 points and 11 assists to lead Northampton in the win. Antonio Robinson and Reggie Wiggins each tallied 12 points and Tamaze Brisco sunk 11. Freshman Vonte Coston netted a season-high of 10 points.

Following Bell's lead in assists were Sheldon Payne, who earned five helpers. Payne and Bell also had the most steals with two, along with Wiggins and James Braxton.

Top rebounders were Brisco with seven; Robinson and Keondre Ames each fronted six.

Yellow Jacket Tamaze Brisco (20) netted 11 points, seven rebounds, one assist and one steal during the semi-finals Wednesday night in Eastville against the Firebirds. Northampton will move on to play the Warriors in the finals tonight (Friday).

Nandua's Jordan West leaps over Chincoteague's Drevon Johnson as they competed in the first round of the Eastern Shore District Tournament Wednesday at Northampton High School.

Arcadia's Ronjai Wharton (11) flies past Northampton's Sheldon Payne as he goes for a layup during their district rivalry battle. The Yellow Jackets defeated the Firebirds, 94-40, to advance.

Firebirds, Warriors Clench Spots in Eastern Shore District Tournament Finals

By Krystle Bono

The Arcadia Firebirds girls' varsity hoops squad, ranked first across the Eastern Shore district for the second year in a row, soared past the number four seed, the Northampton Yellow Jackets, Tuesday night in Oak Hall, 63-46.

Arcadia struck first and held an early lead at the end of the first quarter, 11-5. The Yellow Jackets stung back in the second, but were unable to pull ahead and the halftime buzzer settled the score, 28-20.

The Firebirds came out slow and steadily, before kicking it into high-gear in the latter part of the game. With just 35 seconds left in the third, Northampton managed to close the gap enough to put only three points between their district rivals, 35-32. Arcadia turned up the heat and netted four more points to conclude the third quarter.

The final eight minutes gave the Firebirds a chance to extend their reign, as they backed their 35-32 lead over the Yellow Jackets by 28 more to Northampton's 14. Arcadia will move on to face the number two seed, the Nandua Warriors, tonight (Friday) at 5:30 p.m. in Onley for the district tournament finals.

The Warriors and the Ponies took the court on Tuesday night as well for the second and third seeded district round, where they powered past Chincoteague, 55-34, to secure a spot against Arcadia in tonight's (Friday) tournament finals.

Netting the most points in the Warriors' winning effort were Kyteia Smaw with 21, Angel Taylor with 11, Jada Locklear with eight and Baylee Justis posted six. Taylor also led with 11 assists and Smaw had the most steals, grabbing six total. Nandua's top rebounders were Taylor, who grabbed 11 and Locklear tallied eight.

Last Friday, the Ponies lost a close one to the visiting Charles City, 38-27, and Arcadia fell against the Norfolk Christian Ambassadors, 61-39.

During their outing on Monday, the Warriors dropped an away contest to Norfolk Christian, 64-41.

The Broadwater Vikings won their away tilt on Tuesday, 48-43, against the Stonebridge Cavaliers.

Members of Nandua High School's Forensics Team Qualify for Tournament of Champions

Article and Photo Submitted by Carla Savage-Wells

The 2016-2017 Nandua High School Forensic Team participated in the Tidewater Forensics League this season. The league seeks to promote the development of more effective communication skills by offering high caliber competition in preparation for future regional and state wide speaking events.

Over the course of four regular season tournaments, Meg Morrison, Sheridan Wells, Sarah Lovell and Jonathon Gouldin have qualified for the league's Tournament of Champions. Nandua High will host the Virginia High School League Conference 33 Forensics Tournament on Saturday, Feb. 11.

A program featuring the entire team, called Focus on Forensics, will be held in the school music room on Thursday, Feb. 16, at 6 p.m.

Northampton Grabs Second in Warrior Duels

By Krystle Bono

The Nandua High School wrestling club hosted the Warrior Duels on Saturday, Jan. 28. The Northampton Yellow Jackets and the Arcadia Firebirds made the trip, as well as Peninsula Catholic, Northumberland, Colonial Richardson, Nansemond River, North Dorchester and Delmar.

Northampton took home the second place spot overall, with Durell Robinson and Taylor Shreaves finishing in first place in their respective weight classes, going 5-0 for the day. So far this season, the Yellow Jackets have placed higher than third in every tournament in which the team has participated.

The Yellow Jackets topped Peninsula Catholic, 36-30, Delmar, 53-21, Arcadia, 42-23, and fell to Nansemond River, 52-27.

Nandua won two of their five matches, despite having just eight wrestlers. The Warriors beat Northumberland 48-6, before moving on to defeat North Dorchester 38-18. Nandua lost to Nansemond River 60-21, Colonel Richardson, 51-21 and to Delmar, 54-30.

Three Nandua grapplers went undefeated for the day; Jack Schreiber, Matthew Teasley and Matthew Taylor, with Kyle Sosnowski gripping a 4-1 record.

Arcadia's Kenny Valle went undefeated during the duels.

Next up for Nandua is the Conference 33 tournament at Maggie Walker Governor's School in Richmond on Saturday, Feb. 4.

The Warriors wrestled in a dual match versus Delmar and Northampton faced their Conference match against Franklin in Eastville on Thursday, Feb. 2. Results for both events will be in next week's edition of the Post.

Eastern Shore Street Hockey League (ESSHL) Senior League Game Results

Submitted by Michael Garbacz

Game 1: Eastern Speed Shop Avalanche 2, EZ Loan Bruins 8

In a tale of two shorthanded teams, the Smooth Criminal and the Killer Bs quadrupled the Avs on the scoreboard. Donnie Williams turned in a masterful performance, figuring in on all but one of the Bruins' goals, producing an eye-popping five goals and two assists. Every other Bruin on the court also enjoyed a multipoint game as well. Jason Johnson and Zach Webb each contributed a goal and two assists; Scott Millikin scored a goal and an assist; Mike McCready chipped in a pair of helpers. Dustin Palo notched both markers for the Avalanche, while Mr. Tease picked up an assist.

Game 2: Blues 3, Delmarva Soil and Concrete Red Wings 2

The next game up was a much more competitive affair, although the Wings found themselves with a short bench. The Blues hustled their way to a victory thanks to their rabid forecheck. Danny Miller led the charge with a goal and an assist; Corey Chance and Julian Dedicatoria also found the back of the net; Paul Thornes registered an assist. For the Wings, Brandon "The Huntsman" Stapleton had an uncharacteristically quiet game, ringing up one assist. The goals came care of CJ Jones; Tayler Parks also picked up a helper.

Game 3: K&E Marine Capitals 5, Branscome Predators 2

The Preds came into Sunday missing El Presidente and their starting goalie, Jared Marsh, but they kept their head up and played hard. Back-up goalie Ali Stapleton turned aside twenty shots, but the Caps were able to work their mojo and cruise for the win. The Pat Trick scored two goals and an assist for the Capitals, but it was young Preston Shover who led on the scoresheet with two goals and two assists. Ray Schreffler helped himself to a three point game with a goal and two assists; James Haley had a pair of helpers; Justin Wheeler also picked up an assist. Guy Shover and Jesse West scored for the Preds in the loss.

Game 4: Eastern Speed Shop Avalanche 6, Jim Wert Builder Inc. Penguins 6

The winds of change seem to be blowing in the Pens' direction as they matched the speedy (albeit short-handed) Avs blow-for blow. In a wild, up-tempo game, these two teams couldn't have been more even. The Pens edged the Avs in shots 31-30, and after regulation time ended at four goals apiece, each team produced two shootout goals to hold the tie. For the Avs, Nate Metzger potted two goals in regulation; Mr. Tease and Palo each registered a goal and an assist; Bryan Applegate earned a helper. For the Pens, Derek Hail led the way with two goals and an assist in regular time; Josh LoFaso chipped in a goal and an assist; Michael Garbacz tickled the twine once; Ben Bundick got himself a helper. In the shootout, Mr. Tease and Applegate scored for the Avs; Garbacz and LoFaso scored for the Penguins.

Game 5: EZ Loan Bruins 6, Blues 1

The Bs continued to roll over the competition with a dominant five-goal margin of victory. Putting up a punishing 37 shot on net, goalie Mark Stapleton likely woke up sore on Monday. The Smooth Criminal nonchalantly scored a natural hat trick in the second period, adding an assist to boot. Millikin put up two goals and an assist; Matt Ayres scored a goal and an assist; Webb picked up a helper. Miller spoiled Dave Sepelak's shutout bid for the Blues, scoring on a sneaky off-speed wrister.

Game 6: Delmarva Soil and Concrete Red Wings 0, K&E Marine Capitals 5

The stars just couldn't align for the Wings on this day, and the Caps breezed on by for the shutout win for goalie Justin Wheeler. You can probably count the games The Huntsman has been held without a point on one hand in his long ESSHL career, and today was one of them. For the Caps, The Pat Trick Luckenbach led the way with a hat trick and a helper, while P. Shover was right behind him with two goals and an assist. Aaron Hudson, Cliff Windsor and Dylan Harrington each contributed an assist in the win.

Game 7: Branscome Predators 2, Jim Wert Builder Inc. Penguins 5

All of a sudden, the Penguins are coming with a balanced scoring attack, and managed to employ it effectively to stave off the Preds, despite being outshot 24-15. Local hero Dean Dedicatoria stepped up and banged home two important goals to put some wind beneath the Pens' wings. Captain Derek Hail put in a tidy two goal, two assist effort; LoFaso recorded a goal and two assists; Garbacz notched a pair of helpers. For the Preds, Guy Shover and Jesse West each earned an unassisted marker in the loss.

The Senior ESSHL's next set of games will be held on Sunday, Feb. 5, beginning at 1 p.m., at Stapleton Rink in Parksley.

Baseball Fans Get Stoked at 2017 Hot Stove Banquet

Hard-core baseball fans were out in full force Jan. 26 at the Wicomico Youth and Civic Center for the 2017 Hot Stove Banquet to hear baseball tidbits about the Delmarva Shorebirds and their parent team, the Baltimore Orioles.

The term “hot stove league” dates from 19th century small town America when, during the winter, people gathered at the general store or post office, sat around an iron pot-bellied stove, and discussed baseball along with politics and the weather.

Guest speakers for the this year’s banquet included Gary Rajsich, director of scouting for the Baltimore Orioles, and Kent Qualls, Orioles’ director of minor league operations.

Also speaking was Chris Bitters, General Manager of Delmarva Shorebirds, who talked about upgrades to Arthur W. Perdue Stadium, including 674 new padded seats and a new video board three times larger than the previous board. Bitters also revealed a new Shorebirds logo, noting the season opener was April 13.

Qualls thanked the area fans for supporting young players starting their professional baseball careers with the Single A Delmarva team. He reminded the large crowd that the Oriole infielders Manny Machado and Jonathan Schoop played in Salisbury as well as All-Star reliever Zach Britton. Trey Mancini, who played for Delmarva in 2014, is expected to make an impact with the major league team in the coming years after an impressive debut last season, according to Qualls. Yermin Mercedes, another former Delmarva Shorebird, also has potential to help at the big league level.

Rajsich detailed the extensive scouting process that the Orioles go through to sign, draft and acquire players. Rajsich is credited with drafting and signing Jon Lester, now a star pitcher for the Chicago Cubs. Before becoming a scout, Rajsich was an outfielder and first baseman for the New York Mets, St. Louis Cardinals, San Francisco Giants, and the Chunichi Dragons of the Japan Central League. Assessing the strengths of the Orioles, Rajsich said the team had good power, great defense and the best reliever in the game of baseball.

Asked about the team’s starting pitching, Rajsich said several of the younger Oriole hurlers needed to step up this year. He noted Chris Tillman, who led the team in wins with 16 last season, was the Birds’ unquestioned ace, backed up capably by Kevin Gausman and Dylan Bundy, another Oriole who saw action as a Shorebird. He added Tyler Wilson and Mike Wright would likely round out the Oriole rotation after showing flashes of promise last year. Wade Miley and Ubaldo Jimenez are also candidates for the starting rotation.

Questions from the crowd indicated fans were elated the Orioles had unexpectedly resigned Mark Trumbo, who led the majors with 47 homers and was testing the free agent market. He joins first baseman Chris Davis, who had led the majors in homers the previous year, as a solid one-two long ball threat.

Fans were obviously concerned, however, by the Orioles lack of interest in resigning catcher Matt Wieters, a popular player in Birdland. Qualls acknowledged Wieters’ significant contributions to Baltimore over the last eight years but said the management feels comfortable with free agent Wellington Castillo taking over the backstop duties with Caleb Joseph serving as backup.

He also said acquiring Seattle outfielder Seth Smith in a trade for pitcher Yovani Gallardo will bolster the outfield, led by Gold Glove winner Adam Jones.

After suffering through 14 consecutive losing seasons, the Orioles have now reached the postseason in three of the last five seasons. The message by Oriole officials at the Hot Stove League was that the team hopes to go the distance with largely the same team that reached the playoffs last year with a few tweaks and maybe a boost from its minor league system.

Through Whale Watching Tour, Girls Glimpse Powerful Possibilities

Submitted Article

Eleven teenage girls experienced a full day of education and empowerment recently thanks to a new program by a local non-profit and some of extra help from the community.

“The girls were excited and fearless in their determination to see the whales, no matter how cold the waves were, crashing over the boat and soaking them completely,” said Polly Boyd, program coordinator for ESTACI, the non-profit that coordinated the day trip.

Packed into a van on loan from Rev. Felton Sessoms of First Baptist Church in Cape Charles, the girls headed across the Bay on Jan. 28 for ESTACI’s first Empowering Girls – Overcoming Racism, Sexism & Poverty field trip. The tour experiences and meals were all donated by local businesses and individuals.

During the excursion, the girls enjoyed a two-hour whale watching boat tour, visited the Virginia Aquarium, and learned from local marine biologist and Eastern Shore native Sarah Mallette’s lunch presentation about different types of whales. Malette answered questions about how to become a marine biologist, along with inquiries about whales’ migration, feeding, mating and survival behaviors and how the Chesapeake Bay environment impacts them.

Organizers reported a fun and inspiring time for the participants from Nandua and Northampton middle schools, Northampton High School, and Kiptopeke and Occahannock elementary schools, and their Empowering Girls chaperones and Empowering Women coordinators.

“All of us made new friends,” said ESTACI ntern Jessica Shedlack. “We were thrilled to see our girls developing relationships, learning about whales and our local environment, and enjoying this trip that none of us had ever previously had a chance to experience.”

Boyd said it’s important for girls to have access to opportunities which they might not otherwise have a chance to explore, and to have the support and bonds with each other and the mentors that form through these experiences. “Once they participate in field trip like this, they can see themselves in these careers. They are no longer unimaginable.”

ESTACI is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit organization with the mission to reduce the impact of poverty on ESVA residents. Other ESTACI programs include Empowering Women – Overcoming Racism, Sexism & Poverty, which sponsors ESTACI’s Young Leaders Scholarships; Fathers and Sons; and collaborating with the Town of Onancock to restore the Samuel D. Outlaw Blacksmith Shop building and with the Town of Exmore to sponsor Back-to-School/Stay-in-School: ESTACI At The Park Day. After a long and trying time with our family and friends we are finding peace knowing that Steven is in a better place. His celebration of life was just beautiful, and exactly what he asked for. That being said, the Kulick family would like to say thank you to all of you for celebrating Steven's life with us... Perhaps you sent a beautiful card, or sat quietly in a chair. Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers, if so, we saw it there. Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, as any special friend would say. Perhaps you were not there at all; just thought of us that day. Whatever you did to console our hearts, we thank you very much.

The Virginia State Police and the Accomack County Department of Public Safety: We could not have fought this disease hard, without your true support and I am proud to be a part of both of these wonderful families. Thank you to all of my coworkers, but especially Battalion Chief John Greer, for the support and the pushes when they were needed the most. Fire Chaplain Peter Surran, for the prayers with us before he passed and the beautiful words at his service.

For his brothers in blue, Area 31/Division 5 and everywhere: Remember how much he loved this job and he is watching over you. Support also spilled over from the CBB-TPD, ACSO, VMRC, Cape Charles PD, Chincoteague PD, Exmore PD, GCSO, and many other departments...it was noticed and appreciated. Working aside you was his TRUE love. Riverside Shore Cancer Center, your staff is amazing. Christy Freeze, Ashley Greer, Pam, Kevin, Carrie, Denise, Jane Duer, Kathleen Derio, Rosemary, and everyone: You made this journey bearable. He looked forward to going to his appointments so that he could wear a crazy outfit, give you a hard time, and make you smile. You probably have the most important job in this world: To care for and love your patients, get attached to them, to sometimes have to say good-bye to some of them. You are all angels.

There is not enough I can say to Dr. Kerbin, Dr. Paschall, Dr. Hines, Dr. Jones, Dr. Sinesi, and Dr. Burger...he loved you all. You encouraged him, gave him hope, and did your best! For that, I am grateful. Severn Rayfield and Rayfield's Pharmacy: You treated us with the red carpet, and it did not go unnoticed. Sheriff David Doughty, I cannot express enough my gratitude for what you did, and your Northampton County Deputies have done, and continue to do for us. Trooper Seth Parks and your motorcycle unit: It goes unspoken what that escort meant and we appreciated what every one of you did, and the sacrifices made. It was beautiful.

Cape Charles Fire Department, Onancock Fire Department, Oak Hall Rescue, Painter Fire Company, Melfa Fire & Rescue, Cape Charles Rescue, and the Eastern Shore of Virginia 911 Center: Thank you all. It is nearly impossible to thank everyone for all that was done to support my husband and me during the most difficult time of our lives. It should be mentioned that the daily encouragement via texts, Facebook (his daily posts & yours), the phone calls, crazy outfits, baked goods & coffee delivered to the cancer center by Shore Good Bakery, donations, visits and food from our friends, were and are special. You kept him going. Michele & David Richardson: The awesome day with Dream Seat Tickets at FedEx Field. It may not have been the NY Giants, but it was a perfect day that we cherished. Christi and Rick: The weekend at Silver Beach made us completely forget cancer for 4 days. You are special people and I am forever grateful we spent that time on that beach! We would still be fishing if we could! There were a few anonymous gifts from anonymous friends.

Though I may never know who you are, you really touched our hearts. We made memories and the books were helpful. Thank you!

Carl Thornton and Sarah Thornton Laird, you treated our family with love and dignity and made that day and that week tolerable.

Make someone smile today!

Carrie Kulick, the Kulick, Boggs, & Bell Families

Health Matters RSMH New MRI, Donation To Heart Center

State-of-the-Art MRI Installed at Hospital

A critical piece of diagnostic equipment at the new Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital (RSMH) was delivered and installed on Jan. 11. Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) is a cornerstone asset in any hospital imaging department. MRIs produce detailed digital pictures of the inside of a patient's body. It is especially useful for soft structures such as organs or for areas of bleeding, and it is commonly used to diagnose and monitor conditions within the chest, abdomen and pelvis.

Riverside's state-of-the-art wide-bore MRI will make scan times shorter, so the patient spends less time in the MRIs 'bore'. Additionally, the bore is shorter than traditional MRIs and is larger in diameter. This makes for a more comfortable patient experience without sacrificing image quality as can happen with open MRIs.

Riverside's new MRI was installed inside the Imaging Department in a shielded room which keeps the magnet from affecting other equipment nearby. The MRI suite was designed for privacy and includes a private changing room, bathroom and waiting area.

"We have the Cadillac of MRIs," stated Matthew Booth, Director of Imaging Services. "Our patients are going love their MRI experience, and our physicians will love the image quality from this new machine. Our investment in this machine is just one way of many that Riverside is focusing on providing care that is comfortable for the patient.

It's care the way we want our own family members to receive it – that is what guides us."

Heart Center Donation

Community Notes

Accomac

Eastern Shore Public Library will celebrate Black History Month with a movie and discussion on Saturday, Feb. 4, at 1 p.m. The movie, "Selma," is about Martin Luther King Jr.'s historic 1965 march to Montgomery and the violent resistance the marchers were met with by state and local authorities. The discussion question will be, "Do any historical themes in the movie parallel current American history in 2017?" The next movie and discussion will be on Saturday, Feb. 18, at 1 p.m., with Disney's "Queen of Katwe." For more information, call 757-787-3400.

There will be a special NFL Football service at Macedonia AME Church, at 23536 Church Rd., on Sunday, Feb. 12, at 11 a.m. Wear your favorite football team apparel and see which team packs the most pews. Refreshments will be served after the service. For more information, call 757-787-3502.

The first concert of the 2017 Hungars Music Ministry program, at Hungars Episcopal Church, will feature organist Dr. James Kosnik on Sunday, Feb. 5, at 4 p.m. The event also will honor Rev. Harry Crandall, Hungar's Rector Emeritus, for his support of music over the years.

Dr. Kosnik is associate professor of music at Old Dominion University and organist and choir director at St. Andrew's Church in Norfolk. Trumpeter Bruce Gittinger and flutist Ally Tarwater will join him for portions of the performance.

A reception in the Parish House will follow the concert. For more information, please call 757-678-7837 or visit www.hungarscureparish.org

Melfa & Onley

Mally Dryden-Mason, Fair Housing Training Specialist with the Virginia Department of Professional & Occupational Regulation, will present two educational workshops on Hoarding and Fair Housing Laws on Wednesday, Feb. 8. The first presentation will be held at the Eastern Shore Chamber of Commerce in Melfa, from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and the second workshop will be in the library at Nandua High School in Onley, from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

This informative workshop provides information for landlords, property management staff, first responders, social workers, case workers, housing advocates, care givers, real estate agents, and the general public. The workshop is being sponsored by the Center for Community & Family Development and is free, but registration is necessary. For more information about the workshop or to register, call 757-787-7697 or email centercfd@gmail.com.

Rotary Gives to Food Bank

The three Rotary Clubs of the Eastern Shore teamed up for their second joint district grant over the past two years. This time, the Onancock, Exmore and Cape Charles Rotary Clubs joined forces to help with the renovation of the Foodbank of Southeastern Virginia's on the Eastern Shore, in Tasley. Through the district grant process of Rotary, the three clubs acquired funding to purchase tables and conveyors to help with the Foodbank's backpack program, which packs 435 backpacks for at-risk children every two weeks. Additionally, funds from the grant were utilized for the purchase of equipment for the newly renovated reception area.

Each district grant requires sweat equity from the participating clubs. 20 members from the three clubs gathered together following their work day, on Thursday, Jan. 12, to assemble the tables and conveyors provided by the grant.

District grant funds are provided by the Rotary Foundation, which all Rotarians are asked to personally donate to each year.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Northampton County Wetlands Board will meet Wednesday, February 15, 2017 at 10:30 a.m. The meeting will be located in the Board Chambers at 16404 Courthouse Road, Eastville, VA 23347. The Board will assemble at 9:00 a.m. in the Planning, Permitting and Enforcement Department located at 16404 Courthouse Road in Eastville, VA #140 and proceed to the property described above in order to conduct a site visit. The Board will be conducting regular business and considering the following matter:

VMRC 2016-1989: John Rathz wishes to construct a living shoreline, associated with beach nourishment and planting. The project site has an existing marsh, which he wants to protect and supplement the area that is currently denuded. Construction access will be from the driveway and to the right of the property. No clearing or grading will be required in the upland areas, only additional sand fill to support the Spartina plantings. The property is described as Tax Map #47-A-21B, located at 3415 Barlow Creek Lane in Eastville, VA. The property is zoned Existing subdivision/residential-Agriculture-1.

Anyone interested in the above matter should attend the scheduled public hearing. The application may be viewed in the Planning, Permitting and Enforcement Department located at 16404 Courthouse Road #140 in Eastville, VA. Written comments can be submitted to the Planning, Permitting and Enforcement Department by writing to P.O. Box 538, Eastville, VA 23347.

Handicapped assistance is available by calling (757) 678-0440 extension 516 at least 48 hours in advance.

From the OutPost

By Candy Farlow

“Which one?” you ask.

Well, let’s just say I’ve had quite a few more birthdays than there have been Super Bowls - and the NFL is celebrating its 51st. That should be quite the game. Last I looked the odds were with the Pats, yet five out of eight ESPN commentators have picked the Falcons.

As a Cowboys fan (YES! And proud of it!) I have no dog in this hunt. I could go for the Pats out of respect for my New England-residing son and his family (Not!) or I could throw my support behind the Falcons, in view of a somewhat local tie. Atlanta’s Head Coach Dan Quinn attended Salisbury University where he was a football and track star before beginning his coaching career at William & Mary.

Or maybe I’ll just root for the officials. I mean, remember last year when the referee garnered more attention from the female viewers than most of the players? Every time Clete Blakeman threw a flag or raised his toned arms for a signal, his biceps strained the stripes in his shirt to the limit. He actually became a trending topic on Twitter #HotRef.

Turns out he’s a happily married man – but a lot of women enjoyed the bonus of the free gun show at the football game. In fact, there was so much attention to Blakeman that some fuddy-duddies whined that he was a distraction to the game which was between...ummmm, I forget.

Anyway, the NFL didn’t invite Blakeman for a repeat performance at this year’s championship game. Maybe that’s just as well, because I don’t need any added distractions from my big party either.

Seriously though, I’m not expecting much this year, since my family has been spoiling me for months. Like at Christmas when they surprised me with a lift recliner that lets me get up without calling for Bundick Well and Pump’s crane. Then there are all the toilet paper and coffee pods they bought me, since that was the only thing I asked for.

In fact, toilet paper and coffee pods would be great for my birthday gift as well – if anyone is wondering. To me toilet paper and coffee pods are essential to life itself. They are also kinda like “soup and sandwich,” “horse and carriage,” “love and marriage” – you know, you can’t have one without the other!

Yep, my family has me covered...coffee pods, the gift that keeps on giving; a lift chair, so I can get up in time for the extra gift; and toilet paper – no explanation needed.

They also recently gave me another super gift which keeps on giving.

His name is Cooter and he is a four-month-old white Malshi pup.

My son-in-law, (and Post ad manager) Troy Justis, had seen him and fallen in love with him while picking out pups for his girls. He and my daughter were convinced it would be good for me to have a puppy of my own to keep me company - and to make me use that lift on my chair more often (as if the coffee weren’t enough).

Needless to say I am head over heels in love with this latest gift – and he sure keeps on giving.

He’s giving me a reason to get up in the morning and a reason for frequent trips outside for exercise. He’s giving me a lot of comfort snuggling in my lap - and lots and lots of sweet puppy kisses.

CAPITAL LETTERS

By Del. Rob Bloxom

I need to preface this week’s report with some events from last year. I would say 2016 was a banner year for the Eastern Shore. In the spring, I accompanied the House Appropriations Committee to various locations in Northampton and Accomack counties. We visited an aquaculture facility, spaceport, state park, and University of Virginia’s facility in Oyster. In the fall, both the Senate and the House Agriculture Committees had a joint tour through Northampton County. We visited fields on land and on water. We also visited a string bean packing facility, and our visit was concluded at the state park.

These tours are invaluable to the members of the committees. It also helps me gain standing with the members when issues arise that affect the industries that were toured. I want to thank the many people that made these tours successful. The members are still talking about the red carpet that was rolled out for them.

The third week’s pace did not slow as we plowed through the bills that the delegates introduced. Most of my subcommittees are finishing their work and sending the bills that pass our scrutiny to the full committee. Those that pass that test are sent to the floor for debate of the full House. If we vote to pass a bill, it will then have to go to the Senate for the process to start over again. This is referred to as “crossover” and we are fast approaching that midway point.

Most of my free time — when I wasn’t in committee meetings or on the House floor — was spent working on bills that would affect the Eastern Shore. Many hours of negotiations were held with bills concerning VMRC and leased oyster grounds. It is still a work in progress. My hope is to solve some issues without collateral damage.

The House has narrowed its focus on the budget, and plans to adjust the governor’s proposals. I need to work with caution as the Senate will have their budget and the governor will get a chance to change it once again. However, I am very happy with what I know about the House budget. It focuses on the core functions of government: education, public safety and transportation. We have made some hard decisions about tax credits and tax loopholes, but the results should be well received.

As always, I welcome your feedback, comments and concerns. Please do not hesitate to contact my office in Richmond at (804) 698-1000 or email me at delrbloxom@house.virginia.gov. You can also call my district office in Mappsville at (757) 824-3456.

The pace continued to be brisk at the General Assembly with a Feb. 25 adjournment date, there were a lot of bills with which to deal in addition to the budget. Each committee continues to work on its own budget version, which will go public today. Negotiations will then begin between the two legislative chambers for a final version. Both seem committed to a three-percent raise for state employees and a significant pay increase state troopers.

The incredible uncertainty in Washington has led many to indicate that we would likely return sometime in late spring or early summer to make changes. In particular, the Medicaid Program, could become a Block Grant Program allocated to the states, which would have a significant and likely detrimental impact on Virginia’s budget.

Feb. 8 is the deadline for Crossover, when the House must dispose of the bills filed by its members. My legislation on Working Waterfronts has thus far been favorably received by committees and the full Senate. In addition, my bill for a cabinet-level Coastal Flooding official was acted on favorably by the Senate Finance Committee with the contingency that appropriate funding is in our final budget for the post. Redistricting legislation advances in the House with my constitutional amendment being made a part of a bill carried by Senator Emmett Hanger, Senate bill SJ 231. This is an issue I am very passionate about and one that I think is very important to the commonwealth’s future.

I am also the patron of bill SB1487, that requires automatic suspension without pay, subject to judicial review, of an elected official convicted of a felony.

We are also anxiously awaiting results of a budget amendments for funding at the Virginia Institute of Marine Sciences facility in Wachapreague and for agricultural Best Management Programs. My bill, which was carried at the request of the Secretary of Transportation, is going forward to the Commercial Space Flight Authority Board and requires a more business-oriented approach to its mandated six-year plan for operations. This will be important to the future success of the spaceport.

As always, I encourage everyone to visit the state capital and to monitor the activities of the General Assembly at VirginiaGeneralAssembly.gov. My email is District06@senate.virginia.gov. Call me at (804) 698-7506 while I’m in Richmond. Please do not hesitate to contact me.
