Hotly Contested Water Park Approved on Chincoteague

By Jay Diem

The Chincoteague Town Council approved a campground water park Monday, putting an end to a hotly debated island issue.

The planned water park will be built on just over five and a half acres at Maddox Family Campground's sprawling 97-acre property.

The meeting was moved to the nearby Chincoteague Center after the public filled council chambers with some standing outside in the hall.

During the public hearing, 13 people spoke, with 10 opposing the water park or voicing concerns about it, and three speaking in favor of it.

Concerns ranged from safety to traffic, but most centered on the water park clashing with the area's natural aesthetics.

"It will change the character of Chincoteague forever," said Paul Brzozowski, who added that he and his wife are "passionately opposed" to the water park as he held up a large photograph of a water park in Ocean City, Md. "We do not believe this to be beauty," he said.

Others in opposition echoed the water park was not in keeping with the character of Chincoteague and pointing to nearby Assateague Island and Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge.

Sue Johnson said people come to the island to enjoy nature.

"It is so contrary to the statement of purpose of this island," she said of the water park.

Reid Thornton, a Chincoteague resident and college student studying tourism, said the construction of the water park is inevitable and that the attraction would be a boost to local tourism.

"Tourism, not only has it provided me with a job since I was 14, but it has also provided the town with a lot of money over the years," he said. "We are a town that is built off that industry and it will continue to grow. You

Parent Convicted in School Assault

By Connie Morrison

A parent who was apparently angered by suspicion that school staff had called social services and allowed the agency access to her child during school hours was convicted Monday of what Commonwealth's Attorney Spencer Morgan characterized as a "savage attack on a school employee."

Yashica Tonya Hope, 37, of Chester Street in Mappsville, was convicted of Class I misdemeanor assault and battery against Kegotank Elementary School Principal Jennifer Annis in an altercation that happened last November.

Annis testified that around 10 a.m. on Nov. 17, she was told someone wanted to see her. When she went to the office, Hope told her she didn't have the proofs of residency the school required, and put her finger in Annis' face and said, "You told

Northampton Planners Send Two Special Use Permits to Board

By Ron West

A pair of public hearings for special use permits was before the Northampton County Planning Commission on March 7.

Thomas and Lauren Gardner requested a special use permit to operate a home kitchen for home food processing at 26223 Lankford Hwy. in Capeville. Lauren Gardner said her plan was to prepare baked goods and sell them off-site at farmers markets, craft shows and similar venues. The food preparation will be done in her existing kitchen, so no changes to the interior or exterior of her home would be required, but the application stated the bakery would be required to comply with USDA standards for home bakeries. With all sales being off-site, there would not be a need for customers to come to the location, precluding additional traffic or parking issues.

No one in the public spoke during the public hearing for this permit. The Board of Supervisors will conduct another public hearing on the special use permit at its March 14 session.

The second permit was requested by Christopher Evans to establish a single-wide mobile home on his property at 6350 Cherie Way in Machipongo. Evans explained that his family currently lives in a mobile home on his property but he intends to construct a single-family dwelling on the same parcel.

While a request to construct a single-family dwelling would not ordinarily be an issue that requires a special use permit, because a single-wide mobile home is already on the property, it does. Evans is requesting to change the designation of the mobile home to an accessory dwelling while he continues to occupy it until such time as he can construct the new residence.

The zoning ordinance creates a catch-22: Evans is requesting to designate the mobile home in which they are living as an accessory dwelling while the new home is being built, but under the ordinance an accessory structure can only be placed on a property after the primary dwelling is either constructed or at least in the process of being constructed. If he leaves the mobile home as the family's primary dwelling, any additional dwelling added to the property — the new residence they intend to build — would be considered an accessory dwelling and limited to no more than 50 percent of the size of the primary dwelling. In other words, the new home would need to be smaller than the current mobile home.

While the commissioners supported the applicant's intention to construct a home, the ordinance was written assuming that most homeowners would add an accessory dwelling only to complement an existing primary dwelling. The commissioners agreed to support the special use permit request with the understanding that the Board of Supervisors might require the applicant to agree to proceed with his plans to request a building permit in order to construct his new primary dwelling.

The commissioners agreed that because of the nature of the request, the same circumstance could arise in the future, and a zoning text amendment would be prudent. Such a change would require a public hearing by the planners as well as the Board of Supervisors. As has been noted in the past, the one-size-fits-all approach to the zoning ordinances does not always work, thus it is considered a living document that can, and often does, require amendment.

Following the hearings, the commissioners continued to review portions of the comprehensive plan involving the county's demographic data.

This week's report relates to the Virginia Marine Resources Commission (VMRC). There were quite a number of bills and budget amendments concerning the agency in this year's session. The bills were submitted by senators and delegates from around the Chesapeake Bay. The bills that survived are on the governor's desk for his input. I suspect that some will fall to his veto but one can never guess at what the governor or his administration will do with legislation. They may sign it into law, amend it and send back for us to agree with his changes, or veto it and we would need a 2/3 vote to override his veto for the bill to become law.

These bills took a lot of time, negotiating with the patron to solve his problem in his district and not create new ones for us in the 100th district. I need to thank some individuals that were valuable resources when these issues were circulating around the Capitol. Mike Osterling, Kim Huskey, Marshall Cox, Tommy Kellam and A.J. Erskine helped me monitor as well as amend the legislation, but not at the expense of the industry or the Eastern Shore. I also need to stop and thank the lobbyists and lawyers of Virginia Beach for their hard work in finding solutions to their problems without infringing on others. Finally, I wish to extend my appreciation to the VMRC Staff and Commissioner Bull, who put in much overtime and yet had to endure grueling committee and subcommittee meetings.

I will not discuss individual bills as their fate is not yet known. I will say the topics range from riparian leases, license revocation instead of privilege loss, dredging channels through leases, changing notice requirements for lease applications, and carrying a dredge across an oyster sanctuary.

The budget amendments are somewhat safer to discuss. I do not see the governor going within the budget and changing these. He could do this, but I have not seen a governor do such when a political statement is not made. The first budget adjustment from the original was the reduction or the return to the 2016 fee schedule for commercial licenses. The proposed increase in fees was on every license sold by the VMRC. The increased revenue to the agency was small but the burden to the watermen was too great considering all the limitations and restrictions put on their seasons and catch quotas.

Another budget amendment that corrected a bad policy move was the restoration of money to the recreational fishing license fund. The original budget moved the money from the fund to help offset reductions to VMRC's operational budget. The money was returned to its original purpose of improving fishing habitat, improvements to water access for the public, and the popular and most successful saltwater fishing tournament in the U.S., the Citation Program. It is a very successful program that promotes our recreational fishing industry. Taking that money for any other purpose is not only a poor business decision but a break of the public trust, as that fee was sold to Virginians for the purposes mentioned and no other.

The last budget amendment was to restore money moved away from the VMRC's surveying department. I view this department as one of the cornerstones of the success of the leasing program that Virginia has operated since the late 1800s. Our state's leasing program is one reason we lead the East Coast in aquaculture production.

It has been a distinct honor and privilege to represent you in Richmond this session. As always, I welcome your feedback, comments and concerns. Please do not hesitate to contact me at delrbloxom@house.virginia.gov. You may also call my district office in Mappsville at (757) 824-3456.

“MANURE TO ENERGY”

WHO REALLY GETS BURNED?

What: A presentation by Mike Ewall, founder of Energy Justice Network, a national organization considered a leading authority on biomass and incineration of wastes as well as other environmental issues. This event is free to the public and local and state elected officials are encouraged to attend.

When: Wednesday, March 15, 2017, at 7pm, Broadwater Academy in Exmore (turn west at the McDonald's light).

Why: Virginia's Eastern Shore is ground zero for hundreds of new factory chicken houses which will add thousands of tons of nutrient-rich manure to the poultry wastestream. Groups and industries are leaning toward heating or incinerating this waste to produce “energy” with a push to rename poultry litter (dead birds, manure, bedding) a “non waste” so air emission standards do not have to be met.

Questions to be answered: *Can ash from these incinerators be harmlessly spread on our fields and added to animal feed with no negative results? *Is it true that there are no local and regional health and environmental impacts from incinerator air emissions?

Can nitrogen and phosphorus from poultry litter be “magically” converted to “energy” saving the Chesapeake Bay and our aquaculture industries from nitrate and phosphorus pollution? *What can WE do to ensure all these questions are answered before the Shore commits to this technology?

This event is sponsored by Accomack and Northampton County citizens in concert with the Socially Responsible Agricultural Project. Contact mariap@sraproject.org

Exmore Council Considering Adding a Splash Pad to “Showplace” Park

By Ron West

Next to Boardwalk, the most valued location on the Monopoly board is Park Place. While the Town of Exmore does not have a Boardwalk, it does have a Park Place.

Exmore Mayor Doug Greer said at the Town Council's March 6 session that the park is the town showplace and needs to be enhanced when possible to encourage residents and visitors to use it. The park currently has a structure that can be used for events, a covered stage, and public restrooms. Town Manager Robert Duer urged the council to consider approving guidelines for the resident and visitor use of the park.

The guidelines Duer recommended included times, fees, uses, and a suggestion that the park be open for the public while reserving portions for town use on holidays. Duer recommended the addition of lighting and security cameras to improve safety. He asked the council to review the suggested guidelines and additions and be prepared to vote on them at their April session.

Duer asked the council for suggestions regarding a vision or ideas for improvements for the town to which Mayor Greer suggested additions for the park. He raised the idea of adding a splash pad, a suggestion that had been raised in 2016. The pad would provide a location where park visitors could run under intermittent water sprays to cool off during warmer months. Examples of splash pads can be found at <http://www.rain-deck.com>. The council requested Duer obtain prices and bids for a splash pad that might be appropriate for the park.

The council reviewed the fiscal year 2018 town budget as proposed by Duer. The $1.9 million budget will be presented at a public hearing at the council's April 3 session.

Utilities Director Taylor Dukes provided an update on the proposed wastewater facility and upgrades that are in motion for the town. Dukes emphasized the need for residents to complete the surveys in circulation in an effort to obtain a $1 million block grant that will be used for the project. He said the town needs at least 300 surveys to be completed within the next two weeks. Dukes stated only 150 have been submitted to the town so far.

The purpose of the survey is to ascertain an approximate income for the residents. The grant is one that is aimed to help communities with a sizable number of lower income residents, and the more surveys that are completed, the better chance the town will have of being successful in obtaining the grant. With a total cost of $5 million for the new wastewater facility and pipeline upgrades, obtaining the grant will help to dramatically decrease the financial impact on the town and its residents. The survey may be picked up at the town office, downloaded from the town's website at <http://exmore.org/town-of-exmore-community-survey/>, or by emailing Dukes at tdukes@exmore.org. The Surveys need to be completed and submitted or delivered by March 21.

Eastern Shore Tourism Commission Executive Director Kerry Allison reported that there has been a growth in interest in visiting the Eastern Shore in recent years. According to Allison's report, the commission's website appears to be seeing an increase in younger visitors seeking information on what is available in the region. While her report indicated an increase in the amount of tourism dollars being spent in the region, she did not give a breakdown on the actual amount that has been spent in Northampton County vs. the other parts of the region, including Accomack County.

During the session, Mayor Greer presented Allison with a check from the town to support the tourism commission.

During the public comment session, Exmore businessman Ken Dufty provided the council with information regarding the problems with allowing commercial poultry houses on the Eastern Shore. Among the issues he raised were the problems of disposing of poultry litter in the limited space of the Shore and how the houses and their pollution might affect water quality.

Currently there are no commercial poultry growing houses in Northampton County, although there are a considerable number in Accomack County.

Brothers Answer to Animal Care Charges

Brothers Luis and Jose Berlanga, both of Parksley, were inside Accomack County General District Court on Monday answering charges related to the care of their dogs.

Deputy Levi Higgins testified he was tagged in a Facebook post in early January. The post contained a photo of a dog that appeared to be deceased. He located the home where the photo was taken, and found two dogs: one appeared healthy, and the other was in poor health. There was also ground disturbed in an area in front of a kennel.

Higgins located Luis Berlanga who told him he owned the dog that was in poor health. That dog was provided water in a gas can with the lid cut off, but it was frozen, and there was no food available. Luis Berlanga released the animal into the care of Higgins.

Luis Berlanga also told Higgins that the dog that appeared in good health belonged to his father, and the dog that died belonged to his brother, Jose. He directed Higgins to his brother's workplace where he was interviewed.

Jose Berlanga told Higgins his dog was alive the morning of Jan. 9, and he had fed it tamales because he didn't have any regular dog food. When he returned from work that night, he found the dog dead, and buried it in front of the kennel.

Photographic evidence provided in court showed about half of the floor of the dog house where the dog had been living was chewed out, and several piles of vomit were in the living area.

Commonwealth's Attorney Spencer Morgan asked Jose Berlanga about the Facebook post referencing raising "killers."

"They are guard dogs," said Luis Berlanga. "That's what he means by that."

Morgan disagreed. "This dog was clearly more than a companion animal. Mr. Berlanga trained it to be aggressive."

Luis Berlanga was found not guilty of failure to provide clean shelter for a companion animal and failure to provide adequate food for a companion animal. Jose Berlanga was found guilty of animal cruelty and failure to provide adequate shelter for a companion animal. He was given a 60-day sentence, with 60 days suspended, and a $650 fine for the cruelty to animal charge, with $500 suspended, and a $100 fine for the charge of failure to provide adequate shelter. He was also sentenced to 24 hours of community service to be completed by June 6.

While the Berlangas were in the courtroom, a small pack of protesters let their dissatisfaction with the legal standards of care for companion animals be known in the courthouse parking lot with picket signs.

Metompkin Septic Closes Playground

By Connie Morrison and Beth Nunnally

Metompkin Elementary School was again dealing with sewage issues this week, a matter that seems to have plagued the school over the last year.

Jon Richardson, of the Accomack County Health Department, said he was on the school grounds Tuesday examining the source of a sewage spill.

"The farmer had expanded his tilling and it encroached upon the drainfield and had broken the cleanout," said Richardson, causing sewage to flow out of the broken cleanout. Lime was spread over the affected area. No sewage was observed on the playground; the sewage overflow area was all outside of the maintained area of the school grounds, he said.

Accomack School Superintendent Chris Holland confirmed "it's out in a cornfield." He said the school system will pay for the repair. A cost estimate for repairs was not available.

"We want to be good neighbors," Holland said. "He's just as sorry about it as anyone," he added, referring to the farmer who caused the damage.

A survey will be made of the property lines to clearly delineate between the school property and the farm field. "I may put a fence there," said Holland. Holland said he closed the playground in an abundance of caution, and the damaged system did not cause any plumbing problems inside the school building.

At press time, officials were waiting for a Health Department inspection so the playground could be re-opened.

OBITUARIES

Kiptopeke Man Loved Children and Animals

Mr. Orice Rudolph "Rudy" Custis, 73, a resident of Kiptopeke, passed away peacefully on Feb. 4, 2017, surrounded by his loving family. Born on March 5, 1941, in Cape Charles, he was the son of the late Eunice Moses Custis.

Mr. Custis

Following his graduation from Northampton High School in 1961, he married Florence P. Fisher and together they raised five children in New York City. They were married for 43 years, until she passed away on Feb. 1, 2005.

For many years, Mr. Custis was employed as a butcher with Washington Beef Inc., in Jersey City, N.J., and eventually he and his family returned to Northampton County, where he held various jobs until he retired in 2005 from Bayshore Concrete in Cape Charles.

Mr. Custis was a faithful member of New Jerusalem Holy Church in Cheapside, where he became an ordained deacon under the leadership of the late Elder Anthony Ruffin, and later, Elder Lummie Smith. He never let anything get him down, always had a positive attitude and no matter what challenges he faced, he always talked about the goodness of God.

In 2008, he married Shirley James, of Virginia Beach, and they were married for eight years. They attended Saint Stephens Church of God in Christ in Virginia Beach, under the leadership of Bishop Ted Thomas Sr.

Mr. Custis loved children and animals and they gravitated towards him because of his patience and kind spirit. He loved talking to people and enjoyed making them laugh; he was a great father who always looked forward to spending time with his children.

In addition to his wife, Shirley, Mr. Custis is survived by his children, Kelli Goodwyn, Rudy Custis Jr. and wife, Nita, Michael Custis, and Ingrid Perkins and husband, Lawrence, all of Baltimore, and Kim Custis of Chesapeake. He is also survived by his granddaughters, Kendra and Diamond of Baltimore; and his great-grandson, Jayden, of Baltimore. Mr. Custis also leaves a host of family and friends.

Funeral services were conducted at Gray's Funeral Home in Cape Charles, on Feb. 11, 2017.

Retired Educator's Greatest Love was Family

Commander Glenn J. Muhle, 88, passed away peacefully March 3, 2017, with his wife by his side.

He came into the world on Oct. 27, 1928, in Walthill, Neb., and grew up riding horses through the sunflower fields of the Midwest. He left home to serve his country in the Navy, fighting during the Korean War.

Mr. Muhle

After the war, he graduated from Wayne State University and later earned a Master's Degree in science from the University of Virginia. He was a passionate educator, spending most of his career as the principal of Oakton High School in Northern Virginia. He retired on the Eastern Shore of Virginia, where he worked part time at Eastern Shore Community College, was a charter member of the Eastern Shore Literacy Council, a member of the VFW, and was a member and past board member of the Eastern Shore Yacht and Country Club.

Cmdr. Muhle enjoyed horseback riding, hunting, golfing and fishing, but the love of his life was his family.

He is survived by his wife of sixty-five years, Margaret Shield Muhle, affectionally known as Trilly; a sister, Joyce Gustafson; two sons, Glenn Muhle Jr. and wife, Karen, and Doug Muhle and wife, Sarah; daughter, Coni M. Chandler and husband, Bill Jr.; ten grandchildren, Alison, Rian, Keely, Jessica, Kristen, Clay, Hunter, Brittany, Carrie and Brian; and six great-grandchildren, Haley, Landon, Quillan, Zeya, Luca and Cora. He will forever live in all of us.

A memorial service to celebrate his life was conducted from the chapel of the Williams-Onancock Funeral Home, March 6, 2017, with Rev. Berkeley Ford officiating.

Memorial donations may be made to Homes for Our Troops, 6 Main St., Taunton, MA 027801, or by visiting www.hfotusa.org

Former Accomac Woman Remembered for Lovely Notes and Letters

Mrs. Eleanor U. "Petie" Whittock, 85, died in Media, Pa., Dec. 11, 2016. Born in Manila, Philippines, on Dec. 9, 1931, she was the daughter of the late John and Eleanor Walton Upshur and wife of the late John Melville Whittock.

Mrs. Whittock spent the first few years of her life in China and elsewhere in Asia. In 1933, she moved with her parent to Smithfield, Va., and later to Williamsburg, where she lived for the next 15 years. She was graduated from Matthew Whaley High School in Williamsburg and from Mary Washington College (then the women's college of the University of Virginia) in 1954 with a degree in French.

Mrs. Whittock then moved to Baltimore, where she worked at the Stieff Silver Company and later the Welch Medical Library of the Johns Hopkins University Medical School. There she met the assistant librarian, John M. Whittock Jr., whom she married at St. James' Episcopal Church in Accomac

In 1967, Mrs. Whittock and her husband moved to Philadelphia, finally settling in Wallingford, Pa., where they reared their two children. In 2005, they retired to Drummonds Mill Farm, near Accomac. She moved to Rose Tree Place in Media, Pa., in 2013, where she lived until her death.

Mrs. Whittock was an active member of Christ Church in Media, where she was a member of the altar guild and Episcopal Church Women. She also served on the altar guild and the search committee for the St. James' Episcopal Church in Accomac. She was a member of the Eastern Shore of Virginia Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution.

She had a keen interest in genealogy and the enviable ability to trace back generations of family by memory. She will be well remembered for her love of animals, beautiful notes and letters, ever-present smile and Tidewater accent.

She is survived by her two children, Upshur Whittock, of Springfield, Va., and E. Revell Martin, of Wallingford, Pa.; brother, John A. Upshur, of Abercorn, Quebec; and four grandchildren.

The funeral was held Dec. 15, 2016, at St. James' Episcopal Church. Burial followed at Edge Hill Cemetery, Accomack County. Memorial contributions may be made in her name to the SPCA-Eastern Shore, P.O. Box 164, Onley, VA 23418, or The Humane Society of the United States, at www.humanesociety.org

Memory tributes may be shared with the family at www.williamsfuneralhomes.com them people on me,” referring to the Department of Social Services.

It was then that things began to escalate, with Annis raising her voice and saying, “Get your hand out of my face,” and Hope responding with a slap to Annis’ face. Annis went the office door and told the secretary to call the police.

Then, “I felt a hand in the back of my head,” and fingers were wrapped in her hair. “She pushed me,” said Annis. “My body landed against the filing cabinet,” hitting with such force that it left dents in the cabinet and caused Annis to black out.

Annis suffered a concussion, lacerated thumb and headaches.

Annis testified that Hope had previously had told school officials she was enrolling her child at Metompkin Elementary School, and the child had not been in school the day before. However, the day of the incident, she saw the child coming into school and the child was told to return with a parent. The parent later came back, but without the child, and this is when the altercation occurred.

School secretary Treketta Harris said she saw Hope lay into Annis. “She snatched her by the back of the head,” she testified. Harris was able to get Hope in a bear hug and remove her to the cafeteria. The irate Hope tried to break her grip, but Harris was able to keep her restrained until Accomack County deputy Bobby Taylor arrived. Hope testified that she “was not struggling, but (Harris) shouldn’t have held me so tight.”

Taylor said that he responded to an altercation at Kegotank Elementary School and found Hope with a couple of faculty members. “Her eyes were glassy and she smelled strongly of marijuana,” he said.

According to court documents, he interviewed Annis and two witnesses who all said Hope had slapped Annis in the face, grabbed her by her hair and threw her in the floor against the filing cabinets in the office. He placed Hope under arrest for assault and disorderly conduct. “Upon a pat down of Ms. Hope and her purse I discovered two partially smoked cigars containing green leafy material. The green leafy material reacted positive for marijuana in a field test kit,” the record says.

In addition to the assault and battery charge, Hope was convicted of disorderly conduct, and possession of marijuana. She received a sentence of 12 months, with no time suspended, for the assault and battery charge, and a $1,000 fine, with $1,000 suspended;

12 months for disorderly conduct, with 12 months suspended, and a $250 fine, with $200 suspended; and 30 days for possession of marijuana, with 30 days suspended, and a $50 fine. Hope was remanded to jail where she has other charges pending.

According to court documents, she has been banned from all school property in Accomack County.

Refuge Is Calling Young Artists

It’s that time of year, when aspiring young artists are encouraged to showcase their talents by entering a children’s art contest. The contest helps celebrate International Migratory Bird Day 2017 that will be held at Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge on Saturday, May 13.

The contest is sponsored by the Historic Main Street Merchants Association and is open to multiple age groups: K - 2 grades; 3 - 5 grades; 6 - 8 grades, and 9 - 12 grades. All entries must be original drawings of migratory birds that can be seen at Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge. It is a freestyle art contest and drawings may be done in pencil, ink, crayon, paint or some other medium of the artist’s choosing. Be sure to include an entry form on the back of the drawing.

Entries should be mailed or delivered to the Comfort Suites, 4195 Main St., Chincoteague, VA 23336 on or before April 28, 2017. Artwork will be on display in the Herbert H. Bateman Educational and Administrative Center during the celebration. Winners will be notified the week before and prizes will be presented May 13, at noon, in the refuge auditorium.

For entry for or questions, call Sally Bowden at Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge 757-336-6122 x 2314.

cannot stop that.”

Dean Orsino, speaking in favor of the proposed water park, agreed that the park would help bring in more tourism dollars and added that its construction was going to happen with or without the conditional use permit.

“They are going to build this. Tonight’s just for public access, if we don’t get public access I can go rent a campsite for forty dollars and still go to the park anyhow,” Orsino said.

Local attorney John P. Custis, who represents Oceanside Resort LLC, the company building the water park, gave a presentation following the public comment period answering many of the concerns.

After construction, the park would operate from Memorial Day weekend to Labor Day weekend and would be open daily from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Custis said.

Addressing specific concerns, Custis said there is no intention to disturb any marshes or tidal wetlands in construction of the park and that several mature trees will remain on the property to act as a vegetative buffer to shield the public’s view of the water slides from Maddox Boulevard.

The Chincoteague Planning Commission voted 3-2 in January to recommend approval of the park with a list of seven conditions.

The discussion amongst council members focused mainly on the a structural height restriction with half the council wanting the builder to adhere to a planning commission recommendation that the water park slides not exceed a total of 36 feet in height.

Councilman Gene Wayne Taylor said he couldn’t vote for the project if any portion of it exceeded the height restriction. It was a sentiment shared by councilwoman Denise Bowden who said she has been keeping a tally as she polled residents around the island on their feelings about this issue. Bowden said in her conversations with local residents that 583 were in favor of the water park, with 247 opposed and 117 who didn’t care either way.

Councilman Ben Ellis said he was opposed to the construction because “the community is overwhelmingly” against it and that it could open the floodgates for other such projects in the future.

“It’s not consistent with the comprehensive plan of this town,” he said. “We are opening the door to things in the future the we do not want.”

Council voted 5-1 to approve a conditional use permit for the park, with councilman Ellis being the lone dissenter.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Northampton County will hold a public hearing on March 22, 2017 at 7:00 p.m. in the Board Chambers, 16404 Courthouse Road, Eastville, Virginia, to solicit public input on the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) proposal to be submitted to the Virginia Department of Housing and Community Development for the Eastville Community Health Center project. Resident of the project area are encouraged to attend.

The Eastville Community Health Center proposal will include the following activities:

The County will partner with Eastern Shore Rural Health to development a 23,000 square feet community health center that will include digital x-ray, expanded lab services and dental services. The Center will replace the existing facilities in Bayview and Franktown, and will offer expanded services and hours.

The draft CDBG proposal will be presented for comment along with information on projected beneficiaries, including the number of low- and moderate-income residents to benefit from the proposed project, and plans to minimize displacement. Citizens will also be given the opportunity to comment on Northampton County’s past use of CDBG funds. A fact sheet on the proposed project and the draft proposal is available at the Northampton County Administrative Office. For additional information, contact John Andrzejewski at 757-678- 0440 and extension #550.

Comments and grievances can be submitted in writing to Northampton County, P.O. Box 66, Eastville, VA 23347, or by phone at 757-678- 0440 Ext #550, and TDD at Virginia Relay by dialing 7-1- 1, until noon of the day of the hearing.

EASTERN SHORE SPORTS

Taylor-Made to Be a Gamecock

By Krystle Bono

Baseball season is officially in full-swing and for Nandua High School graduate Hunter Taylor, his junior year with the University of South Carolina (USC) Gamecocks will mark a particularly meaningful one, considering last summer, he had plans to transfer.

At the conclusion of Taylor's high school career, the Onley native was honored as the 2A Player of the Year and rated No. 6 best high school prospect in the state by Baseball America, No. 8 best high school prospect in the state by Perfect Game USA and No. 169 in the country for the best high school prospect by Perfect Game USA. He was also named to the 2014 Baseball America High School All-America Second Team and hit .554 with 12 homeruns and 39 RBIs during his senior year with the Warriors.

Taylor was also selected during his junior year to the Virginia High School Coaches Association All-Group A Second Team and was a member of the Evoshield Canes AAU team that won the PG WWBA World Championship in 2013.

The 5-foot-11 catcher stepped behind the plate as a starter for the first time in his collegiate career during a February game against the College of Charleston, where they defeated the Cougars, 8-3.

Taylor finished his freshman season as a Gamecock with 26 starts over 32 games. He batted an average of .238, going 19-for-80 with 11 runs, 15 RBIs, two doubles and two home-runs.

As a sophomore, Taylor only saw seven starts over 15 games played due to the addition of two new catchers to the Gamecock's catching staff. However, Taylor still made the most of his time out on the diamond, driving in the game-winning run during South Carolina's NCAA Regional baseball tournament 4-2 win over Duke.

Taylor

Taylor finished his second-year stint hitting .226 and going 7-for-31, with two runs scored, two doubles and four RBIs. He was also selected to NCAA All-Regional Tournament Team with three MVP nominations, but even still, Taylor was itching for more time on the field.

The Shore athlete found himself at a crossroads after the season concluded; torn between staying in Columbia, the place he has called home for the last two years, or to find more playing time elsewhere with another club.

"I was planning to transfer because I wasn't getting very much playing time after coming back from playing a lot my freshman year," admitted Taylor.

But he realized that deep-down, he was meant to be a Gamecock and Columbia was where he needed to be.

"I changed my mind because I wanted to stay where I had been for the last two years and where I knew everyone," reflected Taylor. "There was a lot of thought put into it, but I decided to stay to hopefully win a championship."

Head Coach Chad Holbrook talked highly of Taylor on the team's website recently, giving credit to both his character and his athleticism.

"Hunter is just a hard worker. He probably has as much respect in the locker room as any other player on our team. He is just a beautiful kid to coach," said Holbrook. "Our pitchers love throwing to him. He's a leader. He has the utmost respect of every player in our locker room and our coaching staff believes in him big-time as well. I can tell you that if the season is on the line, we're not afraid to put him in there. I think we showed that last year."

The retail management major is a favorite among his teammates, known for his work ethic and complaint-free demeanor, despite not seeing the playing time during his second go-around with the Gamecocks that he expected after coming off a successful freshman season. Sometimes, though, it is about quality, not quantity, and Taylor has proven that he can rise to the occasion each time he steps on the field.

Taylor had his first start of his junior season Feb. 25, against Wright State, where he led USC with three hits, also a career high, going 3-for-5 and he recorded his first career two-double game. He has seen two additional starts over six games played, averaging .333 at bat going 4-for-12, scoring three runs and three doubles so far this year. With already meeting and surpassing some of his previous season stats, Taylor expresses that his goal is to simply just do his best.

"My goals don't really differ from the teams goals; I just want to do well and hopefully win and go as far as we can go."

Taylor confided that although he does not have any one person he can name as being influential in his career, he does have a few major league players he looks to for inspiration.

"There are a few players in the big leagues today that I love and admire the way they [Freddie Freeman and Miguel Cabrera] play," states Taylor.

Cabrera, nicknamed "Miggy," is the first basemen for the Detroit Tigers; Freeman is the first baseman for the Atlanta Braves.

The Gamecocks, currently sporting a 9-5 record and ranked fourth, will host Michigan State in a three-game series at Founders Park this weekend, beginning tonight (Friday), March 10, at 7 p.m. Catch the live broadcast on SEC Network Plus or listen in on the Gamecock IMG Network station or 107.5 FM, "The Game."

45th Annual All-Shore Band Festival

The 45th Annual All-Shore Band Festival will be taking place at Nandua High School on March 14 and 15. Judges blindly select Northampton and Accomack county middle and high school students, spanning from Chincoteague to Kiptopeke, in an audition process to participate in ensembles showcasing their instrumental music abilities. These students only have two full days of rehearsals, culminating in a concert held March 15, at 7 p.m., in the auditorium of Nandua High School.

Kent Gall, a former Northampton county teacher, will direct the All-Shore Band event this year. This will be Gall's second appearance as guest conductor. Come out and support Northampton and Accomack counties' talented student musicians.

Pony Pines Farm Annual Awards Banquet

Pony Pines Farm in Assawoman recognized fun show participants during their annual awards banquet last Saturday, at Atlantic Methodist Church. Pony Pines Farm holds several fun shows open to the public each year for beginner to advanced riders, offering classes including English or Western Pleasure, Obstacle, Timed Games and Gambler's Choice Jumping. Spectators will see many Chincoteague ponies competing, but shows are open to all breeds of horses and riders of all levels.

Eastern Shore Street Hockey League (ESSHL) Senior League Game Results

Submitted by Michael Garbacz

Game 1: Blues 4, Eastern Speed Shop Avalanche 2

With the playoffs right around the corner, the last of the regular season games are starting to really build in intensity. The day's first game featured a shorthanded Avs squad facing a hungry Blues team eager to take advantage and scratch out another precious 'W,' as well as the two points that go with it. The result was a very playoff-esque game that couldn't be resolved during regulation play.

The speed and skill of the young Avs team lined up perfectly with the tenacity and strong defense of the Blues. It was an appreciably even tilt, right down to the shots (the Avs edged the Blues by one, 18-17).

For the Blues, during regulation, Paul Thornes and Julian Dedicatoria each tickled the twine; Joe Cornwell picked up an assist. Dustion Palo led the effort for the Avs, scoring a goal and an assist; Mr. Tease tallied the other; Bryan Applegate picked up a helper.

In the shootout, both Blues players who made attempts, Corey Chance and Thornes, found the back of the net to seal the victory.

Game 2: Branscome Predators 0, EZ Loan Bruins 4

Next up, the still-El Presidente-less Preds found themselves up against the league's No. 1 Killer B's. Despite throwing the kitchen sink, faucet and all, at Bruins netminder Dave Sepelak, the Preds couldn't manage to get one by. They also had their work cut out for them in the defensive zone, as we all know you can't stop the Smooth Criminal, you can only hope to contain him.

Despite the loss, the Preds fought hard and stayed with it all game. It was TR Hoyt who led the offensive charge in this one, notching two goals and an assist. Jason Johnson scored a goal and an assist; the Smooth Criminal added a pair of helpers; Matt Ayres registered a goal; Mike McCready added an assist.

Game 3: Delmarva Soil and Concrete Red Wings 4, Eastern Speed Shop Avalanche 2

In a returning to more of a playoff feel, the Wings topped the Avs in an even, fast-paced game that saw a slew of shots from both squads. Each of these teams features a speedy, youthful group led by a wily veteran, a fun playoff matchup indeed.

This time around, it was the Huntsman's squad that came up with the goods. Tayler Parks scored two goals and an assist; Captain Stapleton had two assists; Robby Parker and Wes Stapleton each found the back of the net; CJ Jones picked up an assist. For the Avs in the loss, Mr. Tease snagged both goals; Le'Andra Sabatino earned a helper.

Game 4: Jim Wert Builder, Inc. Penguins 7, Blues 0

In what is without a doubt the highlight of their season thus far, the Pens absolutely steamrolled the team directly ahead of them in the race out the ESSHL basement.

The Penguins controlled play at both ends for a full three periods. Derek Hail led the way, figuring in on nearly all of the Pens' goals, registering two goals and three assists for a tidy five-point effort. Not to be outdone, Josh LoFaso scored the "pace yourself" hat trick, tacking one on in each period. Michael Garbacz produced a goal and two assists; Ben Bundick also tickled the twine; Pat Christman, Randall Stapleton and local hero Dean Dedicatoria each picked up a helper.

Game 5: Branscome Predators 0, K&E Marine Capitals 7

The Predators, limping into the playoffs on a day without their starting goalie or captain, couldn't get the motor going against the well-coordinated Caps this time around.

The Capitals utterly smothered their opponent, tripling the amount of shots on goal produced, 30-10, while simultaneously refusing to allow the Preds to build any sort of momentum. The Pat Trick came through with a hat trick and a helper (the "helter skelter"); Preston Shover registered two goals and an assist; Justin Wheeler and Ray Schreffler each pocketed a goal and an assist; James Haley and Cliff Windsor each picked up a helper. Young Dylan Harrington notched the shutout win in goal.

Game 6: EZ Loan Bruins 2, Delmarva Soil and Concrete Red Wings 1

The best game of the day most definitely had a playoff feel, as the Bs and Wings slugged it out over every inch of the court for a full 24 minutes. The space to find a shot was in very short supply, those totaling just thirty-one between both teams. Extra effort, on the other hand, abounded. What a dogfight. The Huntsman scored an absolute beauty of a goal in the third, flashing his skills to beat two Bruins defenders and Sepelak, to rain on his shutout parade.

Despite the boost from their captain, the Wings couldn't squeeze another one by to tie the game. Nonetheless, it was one of the best games of the season. The Smooth Criminal and Zach Webb were the goal-scorers for the Bs; TR Hoyt added an assist.

Game 7: K&E Marine Capitals 3, Jim Wert Builder, Inc. Penguins 0

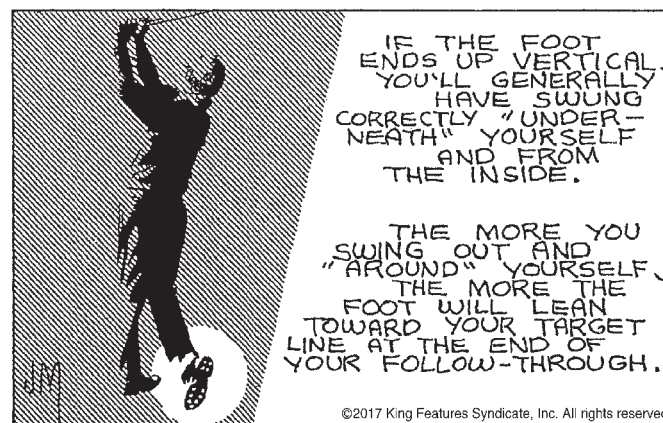

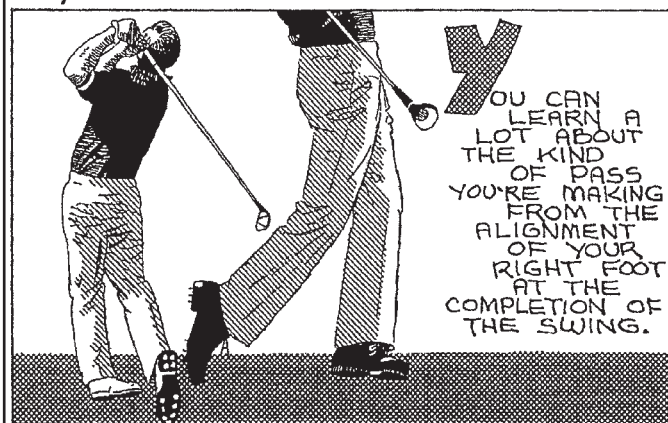

On the last game of the day, the suddenly-resurgent Pens squared off against the mighty Capitals, and an incredibly intense, playoff-style game ensued. Each team found success working in the opposing offensive zone throughout the game.

The Caps' patient, competent passing-based game found strong resistance against the Pens' workmanlike forecheck and positioning. The difference in this game turned out to be Capitals netminder Wheeler.

Although the Pens registered just as many shots as the Caps (21), Wheeler stood on his head to keep all of the ones that came his way out. The Caps' goalie took the Pens' kitchen sink and gave 'em back a goose egg. The Pat Trick decided that he'd like to have one of those "pace yourself" hat tricks, so that's what happened. Preston Shover and James Haley picked up helpers.

The ESSHL will take a break from regularly scheduled games for its annual All Star Game and Skills Competition, Sunday, March 19, at the Stapleton Rink in Parksley. Come out and watch the league's top talent put its stuff on display.

NASCAR POSTINGS

By Troy & J.J. Justis

Brad Keselowski grabbed the win for Team Penske in Sunday's Folds of Honor QuikTrip 500 in Atlanta. With the Ford cars showing spunk during the early 2017 season, drivers are encouraged with the new model type and looking to secure several wins. Kevin Harvick made an impressive showing, winning Stages 1 and 2, and collecting those points. It was Harvick's race to win, so it appeared, until a final caution speeding penalty sent him to the back of the line. Step in Keselowski who was hungry for a win after 19 races without. Chase Elliott was also a contender, but restarted in fourth on the outside lane, which allowed Keselowski to take over on the inside.

His View: It looks like Chase is getting closer to that win this year, but the super tracks have not been his friend. I will be watching the races for the next three to four weeks, but my eyes will be glued to COLLEGE BASKETBALL - my favorite sport to watch! It's March Madness, people! I am always ready to see what my Blue Devils from DUKE will do. I will also be rooting for the Hoos from UVA (it will give me brownie points with Wifie, but it's really because Baylee may be there in three years). Off to Las Vegas we go...I'm betting on Chase! Go-24-Go!

Her View: Ok - so Hamlin's luck is not improving. I am not concerned, yet, as it is very early in the season. I was glad to see Kasey Kahne back in the top 10 and competitive. My brother in Maine is obviously happy since Matt Kenseth showed up. I really hope things improve for Denny, or it is going to be a long season listening to hubby. I am turning my attention to the ACC tournament this week and the upcoming NCAA basketball tournament. I am confident by beloved Virginia Cavaliers can make a run. If I have to listen to hubby gloat over Duke, too, then I might as well just skip March. Wahoowa!

Anglers Club Funds Field Station Camp Scholarships

The Eastern Shore of Virginia Anglers Club has partnered with the non-profit Chincoteague Bay Field Station (CBFS) of Wallops Island to provide scholarships to science-focused camps each summer. CBFS offers hands-on, educational day and overnight summer camps for youths aged 5 to 18, where they learn about local coastal ecosystems. The Anglers Club initiated this effort by recently providing CBFS with $3,000 to fund scholarships to be awarded to youth from Accomack and Northampton counties in 2017.

"This partnership will allow CBFS to impact dozens more students here on the Shore through hands-on science summer camps," says Community, Outreach and Development Coordinator, Elise Trelegan. "Our summer camps are more than the traditional camp experience. They're educational and often times, a foundational experience designed to enhance academic achievement, expand horizons and challenge students to draw new connections through hands-on learning."

Going forward, the Anglers Club will use proceeds from its annual Onancock Bay Challenge fishing tournament, held in September, to fund these scholarships and CBFS will administer the program and select recipients from the two counties.

For more information about the camps and scholarships, contact Elise Trelegan of CBFS at elise@cbfieldstation.org and visit www.cbfieldstation.org/youth-camps. The deadline for 2017 applications is March 15.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC OF A JOINT PETITION BY AQUA VIRGINIA, INC.; AQUA PRESIDENTIAL, INC.;
AQUA WINTERGREEN VALLEY UTILITY COMPANY;
AND AQUA UTILITIES CAPTAIN'S COVE, INC.
FOR APPROVAL OF CHANGE OF CONTROL UNDER
CHAPTER 5 OF TITLE 56 OF THE CODE OF VIRGINIA
CASE NO. PUR-2017-00018

On February 2, 2017, Aqua Virginia, Inc. ("Aqua Virginia"); Aqua Presidential, Inc. ("Aqua Presidential"); Aqua Wintergreen Valley Utility Company ("Aqua Wintergreen"); and Aqua Utilities Captain's Cove, Inc. ("Aqua Captain's Cove") (collectively, "Joint Petitioners" and collectively, absent Aqua Virginia, "Virginia Subsidiaries"), filed with the State Corporation Commission ("Commission") a joint petition seeking approval for the merger of Aqua Virginia and its Virginia Subsidiaries into one corporation with Aqua Virginia as the surviving entity ("Joint Petition"). The Joint Petition requests approval pursuant to the Utility Transfers Act in Title 56 of the Code of Virginia ("Code"), which provides, in part, that "[n]o person ... shall, directly or indirectly, acquire or dispose of control of ... [a] public utility within the meaning of this chapter, or all of the assets thereof, without the prior approval of the Commission."

Aqua Virginia and the Virginia Subsidiaries represent that they are public utilities providing water and wastewater service to customers in Virginia. Aqua Virginia is organized as a Virginia public service company serving approximately 23,474 active water customers and approximately 6,857 active wastewater customers in Virginia. Aqua Presidential is a wholly owned subsidiary of Aqua Virginia and serves approximately 336 active water customers and 296 active wastewater customers. Aqua Wintergreen is a wholly owned subsidiary of Aqua Virginia and serves approximately 403 active water customers and 166 active wastewater customers. Aqua Captain's Cove is a wholly owned subsidiary of Aqua Virginia and serves approximately 955 active water customers and 270 wastewater customers.

The Joint Petitioners propose to merge, leaving Aqua Virginia as the surviving entity. Upon termination of the corporate existence of the Virginia Subsidiaries, Aqua Virginia would serve all of the water and wastewater customers and other assets currently owned by the Virginia Subsidiaries.

The Joint Petitioners state that the proposed transaction will not change rates for the customers of any of the Joint Petitioners at this time. The Commission notes that the current rates charged by Aqua Captain's Cove are the subject of an ongoing proceeding to determine the reasonableness of rates implemented pursuant to the Small Water or Sewer Public Utility Act, Code §§ 56-265.13:1 et seq., which is currently docketed as Case No. PUR-2017-00017. Should the merger proposed in Case No. PUR-2017-00018 be approved, the rates implemented by a final order in Case No. PUR-2017-00017 would be the rates applicable to the customers in the Aqua Captain's Cove portion of Aqua Virginia's service territory. The Joint Petitioners further assert that continuous service will be maintained to customers of Joint Petitioners throughout the merger process by each Joint Petitioner and thereafter by Aqua Virginia.

The Joint Petitioners also assert that the merger will permit more efficient financing and administration of water and wastewater service through one legal entity and allow Aqua Virginia to maintain rates at more reasonable levels in the long term than if each of the Virginia Subsidiaries acts as a stand-alone company.

The Joint Petitioners request that the Aqua Virginia certificate of public convenience and necessity be amended to permit Aqua Virginia to serve the service territories currently served by the Virginia Subsidiaries.

Interested persons may obtain a copy of the public version of the Joint Petition by submitting a written request to counsel for the Joint Petitioners: John K. Byrum, Jr. Esquire, Woods Rogers, PLC, 901 East Byrd Street, Suite 1150, Richmond, Virginia 23219. Copies of the public version of all documents filed in this case also are available for interested persons to review in the Commission's Document Control Center located on the first floor of the Tyler Building, 1300 East Main Street, Richmond, Virginia 23219, between the hours of 8:15 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. Interested persons also may download unofficial copies from the Commission's website: <http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case>.

As provided by 5 VAC 5-20-80 C, Public witnesses, of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure ("Rules of Practice"), any person desiring to file written comments on the Joint Petition shall file such comments on or before March 31, 2017, with Joel H. Peck, Clerk, State Corporation Commission, c/o Document Control Center, P.O. Box 2118, Richmond, Virginia 23218-2118. Diskettes, compact disks, or any other form of electronic storage medium may not be filed with written comments. Any person desiring to submit comments electronically may do so on or before March 31, 2017, by following the instructions found on the Commission's website: <http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case>. All comments shall refer to Case No. PUR-2017-00018.

On or before March 31, 2017, any interested person may request that the Commission convene a hearing on the Joint Petition. If not filed electronically, an original and fifteen (15) copies of the request for hearing shall be filed with the Clerk of the Commission at the address set forth above. Requests for hearing shall refer to Case No. PUR 2017-00018 and include: (i) a precise statement of the filing party's interest in the proceeding; (ii) a statement of the specific action sought to the extent then known; (iii) a statement of the legal basis for such action; and (iv) a precise statement why a hearing should be conducted in this matter. A copy also shall be served on counsel for the Joint Petitioners at the address set forth above.

The Commission's Rules of Practice may be viewed at <http://www.scc.virginia.gov/case>. A printed copy of the Commission's Rules of Practice and an official copy of the Commission's Order for Notice and Comment in this proceeding may be obtained from the Clerk of the Commission at the address above.

Students from Boston College spent their spring break week volunteering locally on a Habitat for Humanity home build in Northampton County.

More than a dozen students traveled to Virginia's Eastern Shore for the week as part of the school's Appalachia Volunteers Program, which was founded in 1979 and is one of the oldest alternative spring break programs in the country.

For Kim Bretta, helping fill a need is an important part of the program.

"There are 75 to 100 people who apply for these houses every year and only two are able to receive them, so clearly there is a need and we're happy to be a part of that," she said.

Bretta said students involved in the program prepare for their trips by studying social justice issues. It's her fourth year volunteering in the program and her second trip to Virginia's Eastern Shore.

"It's a really welcoming community," she said of the area.

On Wednesday some members of the group were busy building "can houses," a small shed-like structure for the purpose of collecting recyclables. Some worked to cut and secure baseboard molding inside the Habitat house, while others followed along and sealed the molding joints with caulk. A group even worked to construct a set of steps on the house's front porch.

The student group spent nights at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Onancock for the week, and travelled daily to their work site in Treherneville.

Bretta said the church's rector, Rev. C. Berkley Ford, has been very hospitable throughout their stay.

Niko Piperis, another fourth year volunteer, said the program is great for exposing its members to very different overlooked locations.

"I didn't even know there was an Eastern Shore of Virginia," he said. "A lot of these communities, tons of people in the country don't even know they exist."

Piperis agreed that the local community comes together to help during the group's stay.

"We roll in and we don't know anybody. We've got a place to stay, we get lunch and we've got a potluck dinner tonight at the church," he said. "The hospitality is great."

Happy Birthday
Taylor
March 11, 1992

I'm not sure what to write because it was so much easier just talking to you! It's so hard to have a normal life without you here. I miss the phone calls, the stop bys for a Hello & a Hug, the "I love you, Dad" & just you, my "Sunshine." I will never be complete without you. I dream of you and your favorite color orange often! I miss every crazy, loving thing about you, & hold each memory we had together. Happy 25th Birthday, My Boy. I miss you like crazy & love you!!

GONE, BUT NOT FORGOTTEN: BRICKHOUSE POST WAS TRIBUTE TO AN HONORABLE MAN

By Stephen K. Fox, Guest Columnist

Just north of Eastville along Route 13 lies the abandoned and shuttered “Willie T. Brickhouse Post 400,” named by a group of African American veterans of the Korean conflict and the Vietnam War to honor a member of the community who died in Vietnam. The building, though not extravagant, stood as a reminder of his sacrifice. It has been shuttered by the long arm of the American Legion as though its funds had provided this monument. Indeed, the American Legion has its rules and procedures, but its mission is to honor and serve veterans, and it could be argued that its action relative to this post was heavy handed. The building has been sold for other uses.

Growing up, Willie T. “Buddy” Brickhouse lived a few hundred feet away from the American Legion Hall named in his honor. His father was the sexton of Union Baptist Church and they, for a while, lived on the church grounds for which his father was responsible.

A 1953 alumnus of Northampton County High School in Machipongo, Brickhouse received his commission in the U.S. Army through ROTC at Virginia State University (VSU) He was honored recently by VSU, which noted his prowess as a wrestler (1954-57). As an officer, he and many others like him were on the front line in Vietnam.

Major Brickhouse died in action in the Bien Hoa province of Vietnam in 1967. He was survived by his wife and children. His sacrifice is noted on the Vietnam Memorial in Washington, D.C. (Panel 32E, Row 61), a permanent monument to his service and sacrifice.

After his demise, Major Brickhouse’s widow, Mary Fisher Brickhouse, returned home to the Eastern Shore to raise their children in the Machipongo area. Their oldest, Geraldine, attended Virginia Tech (VT) where she met and married James Barber, a VT football player of some renown. Their twin sons, Ronde and Tiki, had distinguished careers in college and professional football and are sometimes seen on television broadcasts of sports events. Their careers serve as living monuments to their grandfather’s life.

Stephen K. Fox was raised in Northampton County and graduated from Northampton County High School in 1967. After practicing law in Fairfax, Va., for 41 years, Mr. Fox is now a full-time resident of Northampton County.

Right To Vote Should be Restored

Dear Editor:

I was recently reading through the Feb. 24, 2017, edition of your newspaper when I came across an advertisement on page twenty-eight that read “HAD A FELONY? COMPLETED PROBATION/PAROLE? WANT TO VOTE?” I feel that this advertisement, though small in size and tucked deep inside your paper, demands more attention and praise.

Few may know, but the permission of felons to vote is a right that varies by state. While certain states see it as a personal punishment to oust the felon's right to vote, others recognize the importance of having active voters and allowing eligible felons to partake in the system of democracy that our nation was founded on. At first glance it may just look like a ploy to register more voters, but deep down this advertisement has a much larger effect.

The restoration of the right to vote may be seen as a reward for a felon who has put in the time and effort to be reintegrated back into society. Without the right to vote, it is possible for the felon to feel as if they are not worth as much as others who have that privilege and possibly cause them to resort back to crime.

According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, 68 percent of released prisoners return to jail within three years, so I find it necessary to implement incentives for criminals who do not return to illegal behavior. The restoration of the constitutional right to vote is a perfect example of one of those incentives to improve successful reintegration rates and reduce the chance that the former offender will return to crime.

Logging Companies Inconsiderate

Dear Editor:

I would like to comment on recent logging activities here on the Shore. Over the last few weeks there have been major clear-cut logging activities in Painter, behind 84 Lumber, and in the Melfa area east of 13. Not only did these activities continue day and night, often they ran every day including Sundays. The harvesters failed to observe reasonable buffers along drainage ditches, and in Melfa, activity actually felled beautiful hardwood trees on clearly flagged private property. In my opinion, it seems out of control and unchecked by officials responsible for protecting affected surrounding property owners, not to mention the ditches that provide vital drainage from our roads and low-lying areas. I do not begrudge property owners from using their land however they wish, but what I do take exception to is lack of mutual respect for those affected by the logging activities. A simple phone call or personal visit from the land owner and/or the logging supervisor to inform the surrounding land owners would certainly go a long way to showing that respect and might serve to diffuse potential problems and ensure all parties affected are clear about the extent of the activity.

A Great Nurse and Leader

Dear Editor:

It was with much happiness (that I read) the recent article about Madelle Hastings in the Eastern Shore

Post. I worked with Madelle in the operating room (OR) for a period back in the 80s. I had had previous OR experience and gained even more knowledge during my time working with her and her fine staff of nurses and OR technicians. We did many cases most days and many at night, being on call at all hours. Madelle, thank you for your caring attitude and your guidance to all of your staff, the docs, and our patients. And thank you for all of your volunteer work for our Shore’s hospital.
