Study: Blue Crab Population Down, Females At Record High

By Linda Cicaira

Another year of improved blue crab harvests was forecasted and a 31 percent increase in adult female crabs was found in the latest winter dredge survey, the Virginia Marine Resources Commission (VMRC) reported late last week.

The spawning stock increased from 194 million to 254 million crabs, which surpassed the scientifically recommended target of 215 million spawning female crabs. The numbers remained well above the minimum safe threshold of 70 million crabs. Experts agree, spawning-age female crabs are the cornerstone to maintaining a vibrant crab stock.

"This is the highest level of adult, spawning age females recorded in the 28 year history of the bay-wide crab winter dredge survey," said agency Commissioner John M.R. Bull. "The big picture is the stock overall is in pretty good shape. This year's harvest should be substantial and consumers should find plenty of tasty crabs for the dinner table.

"Challenges remain, however, and we need to remain vigilant and cautious in our management of this ecologically and economically important stock," Bull continued.

The survey showed the total population of blue crabs in the Chesapeake Bay fell by 18 percent due to a decline in the number of juvenile crabs. The figures remains at the 11th highest level ever recorded by the winter dredge survey.

The adult male crab stock fell by 16 percent, from 91 million to a 76 million. The juvenile abundance plummeted by 54 percent, from 271 million to 125 million, which is the fourth lowest level on record.

This was unfortunate but not unprecedented, the report stated. Optimal spawning conditions do not occur every year. Crab reproduction naturally fluctuates and can be affected by wind, currents, storms, temperature and cannibalism. In recent years, post-reproduction predation events and environmental factors have caused at times dramatic downturns in crab stock abundance.

TANGIER CAPTAIN LOST AT SEA AS BOAT SINKS

By Linda Cicaira

With a good crab catch onboard, two Tangier watermen struggled for their lives in the rough waters of the Chesapeake Bay Monday after their work boat, the 40-foot Henrietta C, began to sink quicker than they could bail out the seas.

Jason Charnock, 40, the father of four young children, was rescued. But his Dad, Capt. Ed Charnock, 70, remains lost. The search continued at press time Thursday as islanders and others prayed for a miracle. But most were sure a recovery was more likely than another rescue.

The two men have worked together since Jason Charnock was a teenager. They were five miles southwest of Tangier in 20-to-30 mph winds with waves of 4 to 6 feet and lots of rain when there was a problem with the bottom of the boat.

"They tried to deal with it," Mayor James "Ooker" Eskridge reported Wednesday. "Whatever happened got worse," he continued. "It all happened so fast, they didn't have time to get (life) preservers on."

"There were 12 or 15 crabbing boats looking for them," the mayor said. "When something like that happens they pull together. My son was out searching also. You couldn't see anything. There for a time the community thought both were gone. The island was praying ... Everybody searched until dark."

Northampton Finalizes FY 2018 Budget, Does Not Fund New EMS Positions

By Ron West

Tightening up the proposed fiscal year 2018 budget was the focus of the Northampton County Board of Supervisors work session Monday.

Finance Director John Andrzejewski reported the budget was approximately $1.4 million higher than the projected revenues for the coming year. To balance the budget without a tax increase, they needed to eliminate the additional expenses or find additional revenue. Andrzejewski and the board reviewed projected budget expenditures and eliminated or reduced most of them.

Excepted from the cuts were the addition of two replacement vehicles for the Sheriff's Department, two part-time employees for the Maintenance Department, one part-time employee for the Planning, Zoning, and Enforcement Department and a two percent pay raise for county employees.

The two largest reductions from the $1.4 million deficit were the loss of six additional Emergency Medical Services personnel at just under $400,000 and just over $253,000 for the school system. The final version of the budget will be advertised within the next two weeks in order to schedule and conduct a public hearing and to allow time to vote on the final version by the end of June.

The board reviewed a zoning text amendment to the county's existing sign ordinance. The amendment pertains to service station fuel price signs. The fuel price signs, generally involving multiple grades of fuel, would be limited to 100 square feet, excluding the supports that may extend upward to 30 feet. The issue of how much clearance would be required between the bottom of the actual sign and the ground was discussed and it was agreed to table the amendment in order to obtain a recommendation from the Virginia Department of Transportation.

Supervisor Granville Hogg provided information regarding groundwater quality with regards to a recently approved special use permit for a borrow pit just south of Eastville. Hogg said a report by a hydrogeologist with the Eastern Shore of Virginia Groundwater Committee indicated concerns regarding the storage of sand dredged from the construction of the parallel tunnel of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Tunnel.

Hogg read from the report and noted that the spoil site has had pressure treated and or creosote coated pilings placed in it in the past that might possibly result in contamination of the groundwater in the Columbia Aquifer due to a possible interaction with the sand spoils. The Columbia Aquifer is the most shallow of the aquifers that provide fresh water for the Eastern Shore. Most homes within the county obtain water via wells in the deeper Yorktown Aquifer. The report was sent to the State Department of Environmental Quality and was provided to the supervisors for information.

Hogg asked the board to support a request to have the circuit court review a recent action on a permit regarding a structure known as the Oyster Wash House. Not receiving a second on his motion, the board did not take action on the request.

EASTERN SHORE BROADBAND NETWORK TAKING REQUESTS FOR NEXT LOCATION Extension

Submitted Article

Private broadband service providers are invited to add their voice to the regional network's extension planning process. The Eastern Shore of Virginia Broadband Authority (ESVBA) has posted a Network Extension Request Form to its website and is asking both existing partners and potential new broadband service providers to advise where they would like to see the next network extension built.

The ESVBA Board of Directors voted to accept extension requests at its March 16 meeting. Forms are due on or before May 4, 2017. Requests will be evaluated and ranked based upon each service provider's committed monthly revenue to ESVBA, estimated capital expenditure, number of customers that can be served, and equitable positive impact between both Northampton and Accomack counties.

"We take seriously our commitment to build a world class fiber optic backbone infrastructure on the Eastern Shore and are looking maximize the positive impact on residents for years to come," Executive Director Nicholas Pascaretti said. "In the ongoing effort to assist private sector service providers, the ESVBA is asking for their input for potential extensions of the ESVBA network to bring the best possible service to the largest possible audience."

The ESVBA is not accepting requests from private citizens at this time, but does encourage individuals to speak with their individual internet service providers to communicate their desire for expanded service. All requests will be subject to ESVBA's capital program approval and ESVBA reserves the right to reject any and all requests.

"With the addition of this new collaborative planning process, we are looking forward to considering a variety of innovative and pragmatic proposals. The goal is to provide greater transparency into the process, and to ensure we have as many industry experts as possible weigh in on the best way to build and maintain world-class broadband connectivity for all the residents of Virginia's Eastern Shore," said Robert Bridgham, director of engineering for ESVBA.

The Eastern Shore fiber network currently consists of several hundred miles. Start-up investment from the both Accomack and Northampton counties was used to fund the initial network build-out but was paid back to taxpayers in full by the fall of 2015. Now, 100 percent self-sustaining, the ESVBA's next network expansion project will be funded in its entirety through the responsible reinvestment of customer operating fees. The ESVBA continues to remain dedicated to improving broadband connectivity for all residents of Virginia's Eastern Shore.

Scott Taylor: From Humble Hebron to U.S. House

By Ron West

U.S. Rep. Scott Taylor took time off from Washington to speak to the Eastern Shore Christian Businessman's Association about his humble beginnings and misadventures growing up on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and his opportunity to serve in the U. S. Navy.

Taylor represents the 2nd Congressional District in the House of Representatives, which includes the Eastern Shore, the City of Virginia Beach and portions of the City of Norfolk. He noted that at the age of 11, he worked on a farm in rural Maryland and had a brief interaction with the juvenile court system, which helped to turn his life around. Taylor spoke of the importance of the Boys and Girls Club and Big Brother organization that helped put him on the road to success.

After high school, Taylor served in the Navy, choosing to attend SEAL training. As a SEAL sniper, he served in Central American and later in Iraq, where he was injured while on a mission. Taylor served as an instructor at SEAL school, teaching marksmanship and reconnaissance. After he left the Navy, Taylor became a security consultant and worked in Yemen.

He later was elected to the Virginia House of Delegates. With the retirement of Rep. Scott Rigell, Taylor was elected to serve in the House of Representatives. Concluding, Taylor spoke of the importance of helping others and learning to become a problem solver.

New Road/Development: Cape Charles Asks VDOT for Speed Studies

By Ron West

The Cape Charles Town Council asked the Virginia Department of Transportation last week to conduct a speed study on both entrances to the town.

The request came because Mayor George Proto and Town Manager Brent Manuel believe speed needs to be reduced due to increased truck traffic expected to come with the completion of the new road leading from Route 642, near the entrance to Bay Creek, to Route 182 (Stone Road).

The new road will enable trucks to easily exit Bay Shore Concrete and reach Route 13. The town is golf-cart friendly. That mix with trucks, cars and boat trailers in an area where speed limit ranges from 35 to 55 mph poses a risk to all involved.

Council is also seeking a speed study for where Route 182 enters town and the future site of the Cape Charles Brewery. There is concern about danger of allowing golf carts to use the facility as the speed limit drops from 55 to 40 mph and then to 25 mph within a very short distance.

Council members voted 4-1 to revoke a conditional use permit that was issued in January for ground-floor apartments at 207 Mason Ave. Councilman Chris Bannon was opposed and Councilman Steve Bennett was absent.

While the property owner demolished substandard walls, construction has not begun and permits have expired. Council can revoke the conditional use permit in accordance with town's zoning ordinance. Letters informing the owner were sent by certified and regular mail.

During the session, Marion Narr gave a presentation on the Cape Charles Museum. Narr said the museum provides visitors with a history of the town, its relationship to the railroad, steamers, ferries and local agriculture. In an effort to produce revenue as well as to bring visitors to the area, Narr said the museum supports a farmers' market once a week during the growing season and is within easy walking distance of most of the town's residents and visitors.

To honor the sacrifices made by law enforcement officers throughout the nation, council voted to approve a proclamation recognizing the week of May 15 as National Police Week. It also acted to recognize May as Building Safety Month.

Proto noted the 10th Annual Blessing of the Fleet would be held at 6 p.m., April 28, at the town marina. The event will honor those who make their livelihood on the waters in and around Cape Charles and those who have lost their lives while in that pursuit. A nearby replica of the Cape Charles Lighthouse stands as a tribute to those watermen and Coast Guard personnel whose lives have been swept away by the sea.

Kiptopeke Park Puts Out The Welcome Mat With Four New Cabins

By Ron West

Just in time for the 2017 season, Kiptopeke State Park welcomed guests at four new cabins this month. Shore-born and educated Park Manager Forrest Gladden provided a tour of the cabins. He has spent nearly four decades working for Virginia State Parks and has served as Kiptopeke's manager for the past 10 years.

The 500-acre park sits on what once was the southern terminus of the Virginia Ferry Corporation's Kiptopeke to Little Creek Ferry line. In the years since the park was established, it has grown from a first-class beach and campground to a facility that includes a fishing pier, boat launch facility, campsites for tents and campers, to two- and three-bedroom cabins that offer amenities one would expect to see in a four-star hotel yet are family oriented.

Upon entering the front door, guests encounter a step into a living room with a gas fireplace. To the left is a completely stocked kitchen with sparkling new appliances, dishes, tableware and even dishcloths. The cabins sit at a cul-de-sac with a rear deck that faces away from each of the other cabins, thus adding a bit of privacy. Large photos of the former ferries are displayed on the cabin walls.

The park also offers lodges with six bedrooms with similar amenities to the cabins. The lodges have been available for several years and are often booked up. Gladden said the park accepts reservations up to 11 months in advance. The month of July is already sold out.

The cabins took about two years to complete from the time that they were first planned.

Murder Trial Continued Until May 31

First-degree murder suspect Zachary Isaiah Townsend, of Atlantic, did not go to trial this week in Accomack Circuit Court for the shooting death of Nathaniel (Nate) Adam Ayres, 19, of Nelsonia, as was initially anticipated.

The trial date was continued until May 31 so there would be time to determine if the 17-year-old Greta Road resident was sane at the time of the incident last August and whether he is competent to stand trial.

The Accomack County Sheriff's Office (ACSO) took Townsend from Accomack Jail, where he is being held without bond, to the Eastern Shore Regional Jail on April 21. He was seen there by Dr. Elizabeth Wheeler, a mental health expert. The results of the evaluation will be submitted to the court under seal.

In addition to murder, Townsend is accused of robbery and use of a firearm in the alleged crimes. Despite his age, he will be tried as an adult.

Ayres was gunned down at the intersection of Nock's Landing and Greta roads near Atlantic. Sheriff Todd Godwin said a report of a shooting was made to his office. When deputies, state troopers and rescuers arrived at the scene, Ayres' body was found. A spokesperson for the Norfolk Medical Examiner's Office said Ayres died of gunshot wounds to the head, neck and torso. The manner of death was ruled to be a homicide.

A search warrant disclosed that at least two people saw Ayres get killed. Lt. Gerald Goga of the ACSO obtained the warrant for a cell phone belonging to one of the witnesses in an effort to confirm incoming, outgoing and missed calls; text and picture messages and GPS information made on Aug. 11 and 12. Goga said the killing is not believed to be gang related.

Bond Granted for Man Charged with Drug Offense

A Parksley man charged with a felony drug offense was granted bond last week by Judge W. Revell Lewis III of Accomack Circuit Court.

Ricky Ricardo Jones, 57, of Gargatha Landing Road was charged with distribution of cocaine on Jan 12, 2016. He was indicted for the offense on April 3 and arrested April 5.

Secured bond was set at $10,000 on April 20.

Felony Hit-and-Run Charge Certified by Grand Jury

Probable cause was found in Accomack General District Court Monday to certify to a grand jury a felony hit-and-run charge in which the victim said she followed the culprit for nearly 10 miles so police could intervene.

A third offense of DUI in a 10-month period, driving without a license, displaying a fictitious registration and driving without insurance were also certified for Kiara S. Coston of Exmore. The incident occurred on Feb. 28.

Laurie Mackie, of Onley, said she was driving north with her young daughter on Lankford Highway near the former Central High School when she was hit in the rear and then side-swiped by another vehicle. She said she called 9-1-1 and then followed the vehicle, which sometimes went at high speeds, to Onley, where police stopped it near the overpass.

Trooper Ryan Dougherty investigated.

Probable cause was also found to certify a count of malicious wounding to a grand jury against Jacques Pierre, 28, of Bennett Street in Parksley. Pierre is accused of the Valentine's Day incident. Secured bond was set at $20,000 with the conditions that he avoid contact with Dieutaite Tanis of Salisbury, Md., and that he not leave Accomack County.

Deputy B. K. Misener of the ACSO investigated. The crime is a Class 3 felony.

In another case, Ryan James Barnes, 28, of Lankford Highway in Eastville, was charged with intentionally destroying or damaging property worth $1,000 or more that belonged to Alicia Smith on March 4. Deputy Cody Hodgson of the Accomack County Sheriff's Office investigated.

~ Lost at Sea ~

“They don’t understand what happened for a boat that large to go that quick. They were taking on some water, which boats have done before. ... They just couldn’t keep up with it. They had to get off the boat. I think the boat stayed a float for a while. They held on to the bow ... by that time, they were so cold hypothermia had set in. Jason, I guess being the younger guy, was able to hold on longer.”

The incident occurred at 2:30 p.m., Monday. Conditions made visibility difficult. Other crabbers had been in the vicinity, but had already left for port when the Charnocks began to have difficulties.

Jason Charnock’s father-in-law, Lonnie Moore, who works on a tugboat, was at the dock and went to find the missing men. An EMT went along with him.

Eskridge said the survivor “told the crew ... that he could have gone a little longer. He was just trying to keep his head above water. He was in the water for 1½ to 2 hours. Sixty degree water sounds warm but hypothermia can set it. His age and a lot of prayer” saved him, Eskridge added.

The Coast Guard sent its 45-foot boat from Station Crisfield, the crew of the 87-foot cutter Cochito, a Coast Guard Air Station Elizabeth City rescue helicopter crew and an aircrew from Naval Air Station Patuxent River.

The mayor reflected on the lost man. “He was a humble guy. A gentle man. Comical. He would joke with the other guys. He was well loved by everyone. Very easy going ... he’s going to be missed greatly.”

Eskridge said the last time such a tragedy occurred was about 12 years ago. “They never recovered his body or the boat.” Of Charnock, he said, “His body will probably show up somewhere. The family is just hoping sooner or later ... As it settles down they will decide what to do about the boat. It was quite traumatic for him.” Jason Charnock “definitely needs the boat,” Eskridge said.

Laurie Naismith of the Virginia Marine Resources Commission said Wednesday the agency has “a boat out today as well as our airplane and that will continue. We can’t use the side scan sonar because the water is too rough with the waves and the wind. When it calms down, we will do that,” she said.

At press time, the Coast Guard has suspended operations, but VMRC was continuing the search, along with area watermen.

Orchestra of ES to Perform

For its final concerts of the 2016-17 season, the Orchestra of the Eastern Shore will perform works from the late 17th and early 18th centuries. This free program, entitled “All Baroque,” includes four representative works from this period chosen by music director Dr. Paul Kim.

Performances are scheduled at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, May 5, at Historic Cokesbury Church in Onancock and at 4 p.m. on Sunday, May 7, at Hungars Episcopal Church in Bridgetown. The program will feature J.S. Bach’s Keyboard Concerto No. 1 in D Minor BWV 1052, with former OES music director Lee Jordan-Anders as soloist. She will perform the work on harpsichord at Cokesbury and on piano at Hungars. Also in the program will be Arcangelo Corelli’s Sonata da Chiesa in A Major, Opus 3, No. 12, Tomaso Albinoni’s Concerto in D Minor, Opus 5, No. 7, and Antonio Vivaldi’s Concerto for Orchestra in A Major RV 158.

CAPITAL LETTERS

By Del. Rob Bloxom

This week's report is my final report for the 2017 short session. To say I was ecstatic with this year's session is an understatement. The outlook in November for the budget and its short-fall was bleak. The legislature made some legislative corrections to capture revenue from internet sales and we capped some tax credits, plus the good luck of rising revenues, allowed us to fund some core priorities of the House of Delegates. Pay raises for state police and increases of state support for local law enforcement were the top priorities. We were also able to raise the state support for the local school divisions.

My most exciting news is the support the Eastern Shore received from Richmond. Last year's support for our public library was appreciated but this year's budget treated us so well that I had to hold my breath throughout the process, hoping that the funding would hold and I am happy to report it did.

- $17.3 million will rebuild the VIMS campus with a focus on a new high salinity hatchery.

- $20 million for the build-out of Wallops Island that includes a satellite assembly building.

- $75,000 for Northampton County Schools to help with its declining student population

- $105,000 for Accomack County Public Health Department.

I want to thank the people of the 100th District for the opportunity to represent you in Richmond. It is an honor and a privilege to be of service to the Eastern Shore and Ocean View.

As always, I welcome your feedback, comments and concerns. Please do not hesitate to contact me at delrbloxom@house.virginia.gov. You may also call my district office in Mappsville at 757-824-3456.

~ Crabs ~

The number of juveniles fell from 581 million in 2012 to 111 million in 2013.

"This reproductive variability highlights the need for fishery managers to continue to enhance resilience of the stock through adaptive management to compensate for unusual or extreme environmental conditions and the resulting impacts on reproductive success," Bull said.

"Just three years ago, the number of adult female crabs were so low that a harvest cut was necessary to help rebuild them," he said. "We are out of that danger zone, due to adaptive and effective management of this fishery. The spawning stock is in solid shape but more work needs to be done."

A bay-wide 10 percent crab harvest reduction was enacted in 2014 by the VMRC, Maryland, and the Potomac River Fisheries Commission to combat low overall crab abundance and to boost a dangerously depleted female spawning stock.

Bay fishery managers have since refined their regimen to focus on conserving juvenile crabs as well as spawning age female crabs. Each year's juveniles become the next year's spawning stock.

Adjusting catch regulations to conserve more of today's juveniles from harvest when they reach market size in the fall and emerge in the spring after overwintering in the water bottom increases the likelihood they will survive to spawn another generation of abundant crabs in the summer.

"That would be prudent management," said Rom Lipcius of the Virginia Institute of Marine Science. "I'm optimistic ... We seem to be on the right track."

The Bay-wide commercial harvest increased by 20 percent last year, from 50 million pounds to 60 million pounds. Since 2014, the Bay-wide commercial crab harvest has jumped 71 percent while overall crab abundance has increased by 53 percent.

The VMRC board set June as the target date for a public hearing and vote on crab management measures.

Chaffins Signs Letter of Intent to Randolph College Track Team

By Krystle Bono

Holly Grove Christian School senior Meghan Chaffins formally committed to join the Randolph College track team last week.

The Accomack County native will be competing primarily in the jumps for the Wildcats.

During her time at Holly Grove, Chaffins recorded a personal record of 5'2" for the high jump, 16'1" long jump, 33'6" triple jump; all of which are also the highest recorded marks at Holly Grove.

She also holds the school records in the 100- and 300-meter hurdles, the 200-meter dash, and she is a member of the 4x100- and 4x200-meter relay teams.

Chaffins also has been a cheerleader all four years and was a member of the varsity volleyball team, where she was named All-Conference for the last two years and All-Tournament at the Maryland State Tournament during her senior season.

A huge part of her athletic ability comes from nearly 10 years of competitive gymnastics, reaching USA Gymnastics Level 8 and winning the Maryland State Vault Championship her last year.

The future Wildcat had five offers from colleges and universities across three states and quickly narrowed it down to Randolph College and one other local university. She ultimately chose Randolph and was also invited to try out for their volleyball team.

Chaffins plans on majoring in business.

The Nandua Warriors baseball team dropped an away tilt to Bayside last Thursday, April 20, 8-1.

Pitching for the Warriors in the loss was John Killmon, who threw just under two innings and surrendered six runs and four hits.

Garrett Baylis led at the plate with a 2-for-3 at bat. Cade McGregor notched the only other hit for Nandua and Austin Atkinson scored the Warriors' lone run.

The Northampton Yellow Jackets fell on the road to the Northumberland Indians last Friday, 10-4.

By the bottom of the sixth, the scoreboard was an even, 4-4, but a single for the Indians would drive in the game-winning run and push them ahead for good.

Gavin Defrees led Northampton's offense with two hits out of three at-bats. Landen Sayers, Seth Johnson and Joseph Curry each collected a hit. Curry recorded two RBIs and Koby Sparrow and Johnson recorded one RBI each.

Johnson shouldered the loss for the Yellow Jackets, allowing four runs and three hits while striking out ten over five innings on the mound.

The Warriors baseball and softball teams will host the Yellow Jackets tonight (Friday) in Onley at 4:30 p.m.

Wednesday night, the Chincoteague Ponies softball squad hosted the Arcadia Firebirds and defeated their visiting rivals, 16-4.

The Ponies got on the board first with a run on a passed ball in the first inning. Leading Chincoteague in the winning effort was Sarah Turner, who went 2-for-3 with four RBIs and scored two runs. Jenna Merritt went 1-for-2 and hit two RBIs. Tylar Libertino also batted two RBIs. Logan Lewis, Ronny Malone, Libertino, Alanna Hall and Kelsey Malone each collected a hit with Ronny Malone and Kelsey Malone recording a single RBI.

Madison Tyndall earned the win for the Ponies, throwing five innings and allowing four runs and six hits with four strikeouts.

Arcadia's bat club was led by Amanda Stalgaitis, who went 2-for-3 at the plate and scored two of the Firebirds' four runs. Victoria Coll and Nyderia Samuel recorded a hit and an RBI; Rachael Mullins and Alison Bowmann also collected one hit each.

Bowmann took the loss for the Firebirds, giving up 16 runs and six hits and striking out two during her three innings pitched.

The Ponies will travel to Mathews High School tonight (Friday) to take the field at 4:30 p.m. They will face the Firebirds again Tuesday, May 2, at 4 p.m. in Oak Hall.

Alliance Christian Academy will host the Broadwater Vikings varsity baseball and softball teams Monday, May 1, at 4:30 p.m.

No POSTED SPEED

By Troy and JJ Justis

With the normal Sunday routine pushed to Monday due to rain, the drivers set sights on short-track racing and in-state Bristol Motor Speedway. When all was said and done, Jimmie Johnson came away with yet another win for the decorated driver. Kyle Larson looked strong throughout, but was penalized for speeding on pit road, and that opened the door for Johnson to run away with the win. The biggest news came later in the week when Dale Earnhardt Jr. announced that he will be retiring after this season.

His View: All the good ol' boys are gone or leaving. NUFF SAID!

Her View: Denny Hamlin hit another top ten, but it is not good enough to keep up in the standings. I know he still has what it takes. Maybe he will rebound at his hometown Richmond track. The big news is that Dale Jr. is hanging up his racing shoes at the end of this season. After several weeks out with concussion-like symptoms in the 2016 season, I applaud him for concentrating on his health. He will always be a fan-favorite and has made his daddy proud.

REPORT

Spring Fishing in Full Swing as Water Temperatures Rise

By Dr. Julie Ball, IGFA Representative

Finally, the spring fishing scene is coming together, and water temperatures will get a boost as the weather warms into the 80s this week.

Now everything is right in the world of saltwater fishing, as the first catches of big red drum from the Eastern Shore jump-start the courtship between drum and angler for the season. As schools of big drum filter into the lower Bay and spread among the shoals and breakers lining the Eastern Shore barrier islands, local anglers are intercepting the early season drum using blue crabs and peelers. Some of these bulls are measuring to well over 45 inches. Black drum will make a solid showing in these same areas.

Tautog anglers had a good week, with the bite taking off in Bay and in-shore waters. Bay anglers are catching limits of fish, with most bites coming from the pilings and the tubes of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel, with the best luck happening with fiddler crabs, when you can get them. Most fish are ranging from 3-to 5-pounds. Deeper water wrecks are giving up some bigger fish, but this bite is slower. Big seabass are also competing for your offerings on the same structures, but seabass remain off-limits until mid-May. Hurry if you want to get in on the tog action, since this fishery closes at the end of the month.

The flounder bite is still emerging in lower Bay waters. Some limits of keepers are rewarding those who put in their time along the Eastern Shore seaside inlets, Oyster, Magothy Bay, and Back River Reef. Look for this trend to heat up with the warmer temperatures.

Pier anglers are smiling again as croaker light up their worlds at local fishing piers. Plenty of medium-sized hardheads are hitting along the oceanfront, at the Oceanview and Buckroe Piers, and within the Bay's tributary rivers on squid and blood worms. Decent-sized sea mullet are also making a showing in these same locations on bloodworms. Nice snapper bluefish are also in lower Bay waters, while also making a very good run into Rudee Inlet.

Puppy drum are providing very good action in Rudee Inlet this week, with some good numbers of trout also showing in Little Creek and Lynnhaven. Speckled trout are also responding in these same areas, and reports of the first flounder catches of the season in Rudee Inlet are trickling in.

The deep water off the Virginia coast is still the place to crank up tilefish, black-bellied rosefish and grouper from over 300 feet of water. But a word of warning, pesky dog fish are still a nuisance, but they will begin to thin out soon. Jumbo black seabass are also in the same areas, but these fish are illegal to keep right now.

Offshore opportunities are pushing this way. Most of the action is still happening mostly off North Carolina, with bluefin, blackfin, and yellowfin tuna presenting a variety for the fleet.

Quarterfinal Game Results

Submitted by Michael Garbacz

Game 1: Jim Wert Builder Inc. Penguins 0, K&E Marine Capitals 7

Although the Pens kept pace with the Caps in term of shots, they couldn't manage to squeak one by Justin Wheeler, and found themselves on the wrong side of a Dutch oven. The Caps smothered the Pens with their well-coordinated positioning game, walking away with the critical first win in the best-of-three series. Captain Pat Trick had a monster of a game, racking up four goals and an assist. Ray Schreffler scored two goals and had a helper; Dylan Harrington notched a goal; Preston Shover added two assists; Matt Yetter earned one.

Game 2: Delmarva Soil and Concrete Red Wings 0, Blues 1

In a perfect game of dueling goalies, Brad Ford and Mark Stapleton were each looking to steal the first win of the series. As it turned out, it was the Blues' captain Stapleton, the Parksley Original, who shut the door on a Wings squad that grew more confident by the period. The difference turned out to be Danny Miller, scoring a backbreaking third period goal on helpers from Josh Hail and Jennie Rice. It was a real nail-biter, folks, and a great matchup to see.

Game 3: Eastern Speed Shop Avalanche 1, Branscome Predators 8

Missing Captain New York Metzger and star center Zach Mills, the Avs found themselves fighting for their play-off lives at a marked disadvantage. The Preds smelled the blood and wasted no time going to work. Guy Shover, in scoring five goals, unquestionably found his Beast Mode; he managed to score what I'm going to refer to as a Hat Trick Squared.

You see, Shover managed to net a "pace yourself" hat trick (a goal in each period) plus a "natural" hat trick (three goals in the same period). Two different kinds of hat trick in a single playoff game, in today's ESSHL, is a pretty impressive feat. Oh, and he also added one assist. El Presidente checked in with two markers and three helpers; Keith Hagler scored a goal and an assist; Jennie Hagler picked up two assists; Dalton McDaniel had one. For the Avs, Mr.

Tease managed to spoil Ali Stapleton's shutout parade, on an assist from Garrett Baylis.

Game 4: K&E Marine Capitals 4, Jim Wert Builder Inc. Penguins 3

Despite playing a hard, fun and resilient game in which they controlled the majority of play, the Pens could not hold on for a full twenty-four minutes against the Caps. In a wild contest in which it seemed Lady Luck was paying close attention, but shooting from the hip, the Caps had two goals taken back for technical fouls in the first, then got them back in the third in the form of crazy bounces that eluded Pens goalie Guy Parks.

The Pens had built a 3-0 lead by the middle of the game, but goals from Preston Shover (2) and the Pat Trick wiped it away. Then in the dying moments of the third, Cliff Windsor managed to bat home the game winner to end the Pens' season. Josh LoFaso scored all the Penguins' goals; Derek Hail, Randall Stapleton, Ben Bundick and Michael Garbacz each added a helper.

Game 5: Blues 6, Delmarva Soil and Concrete Red Wings 0

The Parksley Original handed The Huntsman a pair of goose eggs on the day, and pointed him in the direction of the nearest golf course. Mark Stapleton had ice in his veins, calmly stopping everything that came his way while the team in front of him had an offensive explosion at exactly the right time. Joseph Cornwell scored two goals; Josh Hail, Danny Miller, Jennie Rice and Ray Johnson each scored a goal; Hail, Rice, Johnson and Paul Thornes also each picked up an assist. And just like that, the Blues upset the higher-seeded Wings to punch their ticket to the Semi Finals.

Game 6: Branscome Predators 2, Eastern Speed Shop Avalanche 4

On paper, this series should have been settled in two games. But the Avs were having none of that. Despite being outmanned and outgunned, the young Avalanche squad showed tremendous grit to send their contest with the Preds to the only third game of the day.

The Preds poured it on in the third period of this game, and came tantalizingly close to digging out of their deficit, but goalie Chris Garcia would not be solved. Garrett Baylis scored two goals; Mr. Tease had a goal and an assist; Dustin Palo scored; Seth Dize added an assist. For the Preds, Guy Shover continued his goal-scoring tear, netting both for his team. El Presidente had a helper.

Game 7: Eastern Speed Shop Avalanche 0, Branscome Predators 7

The good vibes the Avs were feeling petered out pretty quickly as the deciding game of the series commenced. With no subs and little rest between games, the Avs' Pyrrhic victory in game 2 came at the cost of being blown out of the water immediately thereafter. Ali Stapleton bounced back from the Preds' second game loss, handing her adversaries a goose egg for consolation.

Meanwhile, none other than Guy Shover potted an ordinary hat trick this time around, accumulating an eye-popping ten goals in three games. He also registered another assist. El Presidente finished with two goals and two assists; Keith Hagler and Jesse West notched markers; Willie Crockett picked up a helper.

With that, the Caps, Preds and Blues will move on to the second round, along with the Bruins, who secured a bye for finishing first in the regular season standings.

Come out on Sunday, May 7, and check out the Parksley Cup Semi Finals as follows at Stapleton Rink in Parksley:

2:00 Capitals vs Blues

2:30 Predators vs Bruins

3:00 Blues vs Capitals

CLAM-DIGGER'S DAUGHTER TAKES CUE FROM HISTORIC MOVIE FILMED IN CAPE CHARLES

Submitted Article

"The Clam-Digger's Daughter," an original play set in Cape Charles during the 1940s, will premier May 5 at ArtsEnter and the Palace Theatre in Cape Charles.

The story follows the clam digger Hobbs, who, after the great storm of '33, had a difficult time making ends meet as a working waterman. In hopes of getting a breakwater built to help protect many of the clam and oyster beds, he travels to New York to get a wealthy banker to finance the project. Hobbs is turned away, and his anger and disappointment sets in motion a series of events that put him and everyone he knows in danger.

"We took the initial plot from the 1947 film by Nell Shipman that was actually shot in Cape Charles, 'The Clamdigger's Daughter' also known as 'The Story of Mr.

Hobbs," director Wayne Creed said. "The film was made on a very tight budget, so it was a bit limited in spots, but the biggest problem is that the second reel was lost while it was in storage — nobody knows how it ends."

Creed and co-director, Amy Watkins, loosely followed the film until the first reel ended, and then wrote an ending for it.

"While we did finish it — did write an ending — I think we also added richness and character to it. I thought the story was really very interesting, but due to the budget, Shipman was limited in how much she could do. I think I understood her aesthetics and what she was going for and tried to follow her trajectory," said Creed.

"Yes, we added some new scenes, as well as live music and dance," said Watkins, who is also lead choreographer. "Wayne added some really colorful new characters that we feel bring out the flavor of living on the Shore. That's one thing we really wanted, to be as authentic in the language and costumes, so that they matched the place and time, as much as we could."

The play stars Allison Shockley and David Head as the clam digger and his daughter, Timmy. The music is provided by what Creed calls "The Clam Digger Band."

"This is best part for me is the incredible musicians we have performing music for the show. The great Thelma Peterson is performing an original song about watermen that is just gorgeous. We also have the most talented musician I know, Scott Wade, on banjo and guitar. Allen Philpott is our music director, and he has been brilliant in taking a somewhat chaotic situation and making it beautiful."

The show consists of mainly traditional folk and spiritual music, as well as some original works.

"We have such a talented group," Watkins said. "Our actors and singers and dancers have worked so hard and showed so much dedication. But others have contributed so much of their time and talents. Vera Miller and Katherine Reid, our costume mistresses, our other dance instructor, Amanda Riffe, and Chris Roll, who shot our film segments, they all bring so much to table for us."

When being humble, one can find compassion in a stranger

While on chemotherapy I told a salesperson in Walmart I was out of breath and weak, and would you please help me download this speaker to my cell phone. He said I'm not allowed to, but I will. The young lad was all over me with love. Hugged me two times & said goodbye three times. I can feel the choking in my throat while holding back tears. (Key words: please & help.) Everywhere I went this happened with all types of people, young and old. I tell the men I used to chase the girls when I was young, but never caught them. If I had only been humble, I would have caught them all. Yes, be humble - you can find compassion even in a stranger.

~Matthew 18:3 2 Chronicles 7:14~

The people I work with are star worthy and so I fit right in.

Well, recently Editor Connie Morrison emailed to tell me that I am a “rock star.” Oh, how much I would have loved that. But the real joy comes with sharing the boss’ thought with my coworkers.

Of course, Angie Huether Crutchley, our classifieds manager, reminded me that most of the rock n’ roll stars are either dead or close to it. But I know what Connie meant. I’m her favorite! Yippee!

Angie thinks that Melissa McCarthy, best known for her role in the television show, “Mike & Molly,” could perfectly capture her essence in a story of her life because “she’s super awesome. She’s me! She’s a super powerful big girl who is not only awesome but super funny.”

Well, totally super cool. Angie is so fetch. Melissa McCarthy is 47. Hehe. You just aged nine years Angie. Perhaps you too are a rock star.

Cameron Diaz was chosen to portray our sales rep Beth Nunnally because of the good job she did in that movie, “Something About Mary.” Everyone thinks that’s funny. They got a big laugh. I don’t know why.

Troy Justis, the Post’s advertising manager, chose Liam Neeson of the “Taken” movies to play his part. Empire magazine ranked Neeson among both the “100 Sexiest Stars in Film History” and “The Top 100 Movie Stars of All Time.” Interesting choice, Troy.

Natalie Portman is the actress Sports Writer Krystle Bono chose. Krystle acts in local theater and is quite the singer so she wanted a “very well-rounded actress.”

“I’ve seen her in comedies, serious productions, period pieces, and in the ‘Black Swan’ playing a crazy,” said Krystle. And we all agreed that takes in all the qualities that our girl possesses.

Connie should have her daughter Meg play her role. Connie liked that. “It would have to be a musical so we could do some numbers together,” she laughed. Is your face red, Meg?

My loving coworkers agreed that Sigourney Weaver could do a great job for me. That is because she starred as Ellen Ripley in the “Alien” films. Roger Ebert once wrote, “Weaver, who is onscreen almost all the time, comes through with a very strong, sympathetic performance: She’s the thread that holds everything together.” Oh yippee! Sigourney! The others in the office wanted me to shave my head and pretend I was Sigourney in the film series. That is not happening, folks.

Kimberly Perry, our graphics designer, was out sick when this discussion ensued. So, Beth called her and gave her the choice of an actress or cartoon character. Kimberly picked, “Oblina,” an animated figure who “can shape shift, pull out her internal organs, and show her fangs.”

None of us argued with that.

Accomack Schools Not Working With Parent for Student’s Interest

Dear Editor:

On April 11, I attended the Accomack County School Board meeting to bring to their attention a problem that has been going on for almost a month. I have been providing transportation for my special needs son to every school he has been assigned to since he was two years old.

On March 9, I broke my ankle, and I was unable to drive. I had to reach out to the school division to provide transportation for the first time in 16 years. I came up with a very safe and acceptable solution for transportation of my son. This solution involved a person who has been on my son’s “approved emergency pick-up list” the entire school year and is an employee of the school system. This solution was rejected by Mr. Tolbert, stating he was acting on the superintendent’s directive. I requested a copy of this directive or better yet the policy which I would assume is county wide. This request was written in my son’s IEP. I emailed the superintendent on two separate occasions and even spoke with him directly on the phone requesting something in writing so I knew exactly what parameters had been imposed on me and other parents like me who may find themselves in the same situation. I have yet to receive a response.

In a second IEP meeting Mr. Tolbert was kind enough to be more explicit with the limitations for me and my son’s transportation. He informed the IEP team that I could not have anyone that is a teacher, teaching assistant, instructional assistant, coach or anyone who is a contracted employee transport my son unless they are employed by the transportation department of ACPS even after they are off duty. In his words this is the superintendent’s directive and a policy does not exist. This meeting was mutually recorded by both sides, that way the wording was very easy to recall for me. I still have my recorded copy.

With ACPS being the second largest employer on the ESVA I am absolutely sure I am not the only one who has people on their emergency pick up list that fit those criteria. This directive has put me in a very precarious situation. After the current transportation issue ends, what happens should an emergency arise? As parents do we not have the right to chose who WE trust to transport our children? Is our judgment in question by the current administration? How many lives will be disrupted by this “directive?” Are the school system employees who have children with friends who are students and carpool or shuttle the kids back and forth doing something that they are unaware is wrong? When are employees officially on their own time? Is this a case of administrative overreach?

If ACPS feels that the teachers, teaching assistants, Instructional assistants, and coaches hired to work with our children are trustworthy do they become less trustworthy when they leave the school doors? I feel this is absolutely not true.

As for the current situation, I have reached out to those in charge locally and received no response; therefore, I have reached to outside sources for assistance.

*Connie Burford
Bloxom, Virginia*
