After 37 Years and Thousands of Patients, Exmore Ophthalmologist To Retire

By Stefanie Jackson

Dr. John Foley, an ophthalmologist who is known for his longstanding career at his practice, the Eastern Shore Eye Center, in Exmore, is ready to retire after more than 37 years and 42,000 patients.

Foley was born and raised in Boston, where he lived for about 20 years. After graduating from college, he worked for Pan American Airways in the early 1970s.

He hadn't always aimed to be a doctor. Foley had planned to attend law school but that changed in 1975 when he experienced a minor eye injury while working on his farm. He was assisting someone welding a cattle guard and the flame's ultraviolet rays burned his eye, he explained.

He sought medical treatment and was impressed by how numbing eye drops and a patch over his eye provided "instant" relief. Foley thought, "I could do that," and the welding incident sparked his interest in pursuing a career as an eye doctor.

Foley attended the Virginia Commonwealth University School of Medicine, followed by a residency at a small clinic in Pennsylvania.

Where Is ESVA? Not on the Official Virginia History Ornament

By Carol Vaughn

Some Eastern Shore residents expressed concern this week after the peninsula once again was omitted from a Virginia map.

The map is a stylized depiction on the Virginia Museum of History and Culture's 2021 Official Virginia History Christmas ornament.

Eastern Shore Public Library Director Cara Burton noticed the Eastern Shore was omitted from the ornament. It is being offered for pre-order by the museum, which is in Richmond and is owned and operated by the Virginia Historical Society.

"Neglecting to include the Eastern Shore on a map of Virginia emphasizes the need to support the Shore's history organizations," Burton said Monday.

"It is why our library trustees, foundation, and Friends volunteers have pushed hard for the new ESVA Heritage Center at the new regional library in Parksley. We need to keep our historical records in the Shore as we know their value. If we repeatedly have to point out to other Virginians that there are two counties here, how might we also be excluded in the history books, not to mention the funding of our historical resources?"

He had intended to return to New England after his residency but discovered the frigidly cold northern winters that turned his hands blue might not create the best environment for an aspiring eye surgeon, and he considered staying in Virginia with its milder climate.

His colleagues at Eastern Shore Physicians and Surgeons, in Nassawadox, Dr. William Bernart and Dr. Drury Stith, played a significant role in Foley's decision to stay, conveying to him the great need for doctors in the rural area.

They also helped him obtain financing to start his own practice, and Foley's first office opened in 1984, across the street from the Northampton-Accomack Memorial Hospital.

He later bought and renovated a building on Broad Street in Exmore, which had been a Colonial grocery store in the 1950s and 1960s and later served as the cutting room for the shirt factory across the street, which is now the New Ravenna mosaic tile manufacturer.

Foley designed the layout of the Eastern Shore Eye Center on his Apple computer, and the new office opened in 1990, following the completion of the renovations.

When his business was at its peak, he had 16 employees. The first person he ever hired is still employed at Eastern Shore Eye Center, office manager Peggy Parks.

He is somewhat a rarity in his field as a practitioner of general ophthalmology. Most ophthalmologists today choose not to be general practitioners but specialists, Foley said.

He was motivated to become an ophthalmologist because he wanted to be able to provide surgical care for the eye. "The ability to operate on the eye is the ability to cure eye problems," he said.

Foley maintained a relationship with Northampton-Accomack Memorial Hospital over the years, which later changed its name to Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital. He was not a hospital employee but was on staff and usually worked there one day a week in the operating room. He also was always on call for emergencies.

He is thankful that he has been able to achieve good results for most of the thousands of patients he has treated over the years.

The most amazing recovery Foley has witnessed was that of a patient who arrived at the doctor's office with a nail in his eye. The man had been on a riding mower cutting grass when he ran over the nail, which was flung into a chain-link fence and bounced off the fence and into his eye.

Foley removed the nail and the cataract that was caused by the nail puncturing the eye's lens. He replaced the damaged lens with an implant and stitched up the wound; the patient's eye and vision were saved.

He has completed around 20,000 surgeries; about 1,500 of the surgeries were for glaucoma and the rest were for cataracts or other conditions.

Foley also has been a professor for Eastern Virginia Medical School for 36 years, giving lectures and supervising residents.

He was not the only accomplished doctor in his family; his brother, the late Dr. Michael T. Foley, was the physician-in-attendance for the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park for nearly 25 years.

Dr. John Foley's work has kept him busy over the years, but he always made time for his kids and kept weekends open to do things with his family. He and his wife, Karen Foley, have four children, John, Kate, Matt, and Tye, who enjoyed spending time on the water and growing up on the Eastern Shore.

Dr. Foley also coached Little League for 11 years in Nassawadox.

Having practiced medicine on the Shore close to 40 years, Foley has treated multiple generations of families. It's not uncommon for younger patients to tell him that he's taken care of an older family member, such as a great-grandmother. "I get that all the time," he said.

He even met his wife, now-retired educator Karen Foley (formerly Young), for the first time about 30 years ago when she was his patient.

The entire Young family received eye care from Dr. Foley.

Karen had been twice widowed when she ran into Dr. Foley, who was also single, at Food Lion just before Christmas in 2014, and they were happy to see one another again.

A few months passed before they were able to reconnect, but the couple finally went on their first date and hit it off.

Now they have been married five years and are looking forward to being retired together and traveling.

Among their retirement and travel plans is spending more time visiting their grandchildren, who are spread out on the East Coast as far south as Georgia and as far north as Maine. The Foleys also would like to visit family in Germany.

Dr. Foley wants to spend summers in Cape Cod and also hopes to visit the Virgin Islands. The couple already has made arrangements to travel to the Mediterranean and the Holy Land in January 2022.

Dr. Foley is currently working two days a week, and he will be fully retired in December.

The Wagner Macular and Retina Center, which has multiple locations in Hampton Roads, is acquiring Foley's practice and merging it with Seashore Eyecare, also in Exmore. Patients will be seen at the current location of Seashore Eyecare, on Main Street.

Foley has enjoyed well over three decades of providing eye care to generations of Eastern Shore families. "I have loved my practice and the people. ... I know almost everybody's first name and family histories," he said. "I couldn't imagine a better job."

Rural Health To Receive $848,194 From U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

By Carol Vaughn

Eastern Shore Rural Health System Inc. will receive $848,194 in federal money, according to a press release from Sens. Mark Warner and Tim Kaine.

The money comes from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

It is part of more than $28.5 million awarded to Virginia health centers to help them better serve vulnerable communities disproportionately affected by the COVID-19 pandemic.

It will help modernize, renovate, and expand health centers that have been overwhelmed by the pandemic.

"Health centers are vital to the communities they serve, and too often they are lacking the resources they need to provide the care Virginians need. These challenges have been exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic," the senators said, adding, "These funds will give care centers the ability to adequately treat patients and continue their lifesaving work during the global pandemic."

Additionally, the Virginia Department of Health will receive $17.3 million from the Ryan White Title II Formula Grants Program.

The funding was awarded through the American Rescue Plan Act.

Whitesville's Davis Center Celebrates Launch With Open House

By Carol Vaughn

The community celebrated the opening of the Davis Center in Whitesville with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and open house Monday.

Family members of the late Willie "Bill" Davis Sr., who operated a pool hall in the building, organized the event, after they announced plans a year ago to refurbish the 1960s era brick building, which was left to them upon Davis' death, for use as a community center.

Since then, the structure has undergone a stunning transformation.

Inside the Davis Center, there is Wi-Fi, a library, games, computer workstations, study areas, a snack station, and a conference room — all intended to provide needed resources to the community and a safe place for young people and adults to gather.

"When we came in 2018 and looked at it, it was covered with vines," said Nzinga Henderson, one of Davis' granddaughters, who led a tour of the building.

Still, an engineer said the structure was sound, making it a good candidate for renovation.

"This building was still standing for a reason," Henderson said.

Henderson, along with Aya and Ola Ofunniyin and their mother, Doreen Simmons, participated in Monday's celebration.

"We are so proud and excited and energized to show you-all all the progress and what this center is going to be for this community — a community that has long been forgotten — but we are here to revive it, restore it, bring back the energy that once was," said Ola Ofunniyin, before cutting a ribbon to ceremonially open the center.

She noted Whitesville has produced doctors, lawyers, Naval senior officers, and business owners, among other community leaders.

"We come from these streets and so it's time for us to have a new energy to change this block, to change the view of Whitesville — and that is what the Davis Center is here to do," Ola Ofunniyin said.

Whitesville, population around 210, is just south of Parksley. Likely named after Harry White, an early landowner, the community was developed by Lizzie Chadbourne after she purchased 50 acres, according to a Parksley walking tour booklet published by the Eastern Shore Public Library.

When Parksley was incorporated in 1904, the town limits did not include the Black community of Whitesville.

Whitesville at one time was a central location where Black Eastern Shore residents came for services and entertainment.

It had a Rosenwald elementary school, built in 1925, which operated until 1964. The building now is the meeting place for the International Brotherhood of Yahshua's Disciples, according to the booklet.

Parksley Recognizes Hamlin, Park's Play Equipment Gets Overhaul

Story and Photos by Carol Vaughn

The Town Council of Parksley Monday recognized outgoing Councilman Chris Hamlin for his service to the community.

Mayor Frank Russell presented a plaque to Hamlin in recognition of his contributions to the town.

In other action, the town has purchased a chipper for brush, at a cost of $7,500.

Resident Billy Ray Justis thanked the council for purchasing the chipper, saying, "That is the best thing that the town could have invested in."

Justis also praised public works employee George Duer.

Betty Farley announced she and Cathy Kababick are planning a meet-and-greet event for town council candidates Monday, Oct. 18, at 6 p.m., at the pavilion in the town square.

The Friends for a Better Parksley will offer a free Thanksgiving dinner on a takeout basis at the Parksley fire station social hall on Thursday, Nov.

25, from noon to 2 p.m. Organizer Jeff Stauffer is seeking volunteers to help with the dinner.

The council voted to spend up to $200 to purchase fall decorations for the main business street.

The Parksley town park benefited from a community service project completed by the Navy from SCSC Wallops Island earlier this month. Naval fire controlman Adam Parker, a Parksley resident, and about a dozen others volunteered their time to refurbish the park equipment.

Russell thanked Hamlin for arranging for the Navy personnel to do the work.

The town council at a work session later this month will discuss whether to impose a curfew on playing music at the park, after complaints were received about a group playing loud music Sunday nights until 9 or 10 at night.

Russell suggested 6 p.m. as a reasonable time to end music playing in the park on Sundays.

The council also agreed to discuss in the work session a transient occupancy tax ordinance related to homestay businesses, such as those found through www.airbnb.com

"We'll report back on it next month," Russell said.

Councilman Henry Nicholson gave an update on the town office renovations, saying the structure "is actually not as bad as we all thought."

Nicholson said in the center of the museum section of the building, "we've got a big belly" in the floor, caused by the sills at the end being jacked up to meet a wall that was added sometime in the past.

"It was a grader shed — it never had a wall," he said.

Several sills in the town office section had been damaged by termites, he said.

Still, the building as a whole is sound.

"The building has been there over 100 years," he said.

Parksley Mayor Frank Russell, right, recognizes Councilman Chris Hamlin for his contributions to the town.

The council voted to budget $100,000 for the repairs, with labor being done by town employees and volunteers. Nicholson said he thinks the project likely will come in under that amount.

The money will come from funds the town is receiving as result of the federal American Rescue Act Plan.

"I think we're going to have a nice, shiny pearl in our town when it's done," Nicholson said.

Russell thanked resident Brad York for working for two days on wiring for the mobile unit that is serving temporarily as the town office. The trailer was supposed to arrive with wiring ready, but it did not.

The council voted to hold a public hearing Monday, Oct. 25, at 6 p.m., to receive comments about replacing water meters in town with electronic models. The hearing also will be to receive comments on uses of the ARPA money coming to Parksley.

Councilman Ricky Taylor had made a motion to allocate $165,000 from the ARPA funds for the new meters, but he withdrew the motion after other council members suggested getting public input on use of the federal funds.

Councilman Mark Layne reported he met with Grayson Williams of the Accomack-Northampton Planning District Commission about the grant-funded downtown revitalization project.

Work on the Harvest Alleyway is about 75% complete and the band shell concrete has been poured. All work on those parts of the project should be completed by Dec. 19, Layne said.

A downtown business facade improvement project has been extended. There currently is no contract signed for those improvements. Once a contract is signed, the contractor will have 210 days to complete the work.

Notices have been sent to four property owners about blight under a town ordinance, according to town clerk Lauren Lewis. Two owners have responded with a time frame for repairs to be done.

The town is giving certificates for a free ice cream to town children who show good school progress reports, either at the town office or to Police Chief Keith Greer, Lewis said.

Greer purchased the certificates from the Club Car Cafe and has handed out more than 40 so far.

"Keith has gone to the Club Car and bought these certificates out of his own money and is doing this for the kids in town. That's what Keith is doing for our town kids," Taylor said.

Parksley will hold a trunk-or-treat event Saturday, Oct. 30, from 5 to 7 p.m., in the town square.

ton said.

Del. Rob Bloxom, who represents the Eastern Shore in the Virginia General Assembly, called the Shore's omission from the ornament "disappointing."

Tracy Schneider, vice president for marketing and communications at the VMHC, in an email Wednesday, said, "We were sorry to hear that the design of our 2021 ornament upset some residents of the Eastern Shore. Because it is a decoration, the design is not able to mirror the details of a topographical map but is intended to be a creative way to celebrate the holidays across our state. The trees on the right side jut out farther than the angle of the shoreline to represent the areas of the Chesapeake Bay and Eastern Shore. We are excited to feature this region in our upcoming signature exhibition, Our Commonwealth, opening Spring 2022, to ensure visitors know about the special history and culture of the Eastern Shore."

The description of the 2021 ornament on the museum website says, in part: "This year's ornament gathers the various regions of the Commonwealth of Virginia (Southwest, Northern, Central, Tidewater, and the Shenandoah Valley) together under a beautiful forest of evergreens, lavishly decorated for the holidays."

The ornament is priced at $22.95.

It is the fourth in a series of collectible ornaments the museum has offered featuring the history and culture of Virginia, according to a press release about the 2020 ornament.

No press release about this year's ornament was found on the museum website.

Last year's ornament depicted a landscape painting of the Blue Ridge Mountains by John Ross Key, from the museum's collection.

The regions will be part of a new exhibition coming to the museum in spring 2022 as part of renovations that are underway, according to the description.

The 5,000-square-foot installation will be entitled "Our Commonwealth" and will feature a regional exploration of the history and culture of Virginia.

The Virginia Historical Society is a private, nonprofit organization established in 1831, according to the 2020 press release, which said it is "the oldest cultural organization in Virginia and one of the oldest and most distinguished history organizations in the nation," with a collection of nearly nine million items.

Medical Assisting Program Brings Goals into Focus With the Help You Need

Submitted Article

"I want to be able to treat people like I would want to be treated when needing help," said Liliana Rosa, a student in YOUR Eastern Shore Community College's Medical Assisting (MA) Program.

The MA program prepares individuals as multiskilled healthcare workers in hospitals, physician offices, urgent care facilities, and nursing homes. It also serves as a common starting point for students with aspirations of becoming licensed practical nurses (LPN) and, ultimately, registered nurses (RN).

Liliana, of Machipongo, has her eye on an RN degree. Since high school, where she graduated from Northampton in 2017, she has maintained an interest in helping others.

It was at Northampton where Liliana met ESCC Career Coach Suzanne Henderson and Devin Allen, Access College Advisor. Both assisted her with applying for financial aid (FAFSA).

Henderson commented that Liliana "was very goal oriented, but she had an important lesson to learn—"it's ok to ask for help." And no one supports students better than ESCC.

Help came in the form of scholarship support for Liliana. "Student support at ESCC is how students' hopes and dreams are transformed into real careers," explained Henderson.

Now an LPN student, Liliana hopes to utilize the LPN to RN bridge program in 2022 to expedite her efforts.

To all goals there is a starting block. For those pursuing healthcare careers, the medical assisting program provides that and an abundance of financial support available through state initiatives and ESCC's own YES! Tuition Promise.

For information about these and other healthcare careers, contact YOUR Eastern Shore Community College at 757-789-1720 or studentservices@es.vccs.edu.

ESCC's RSVP Nurse Aide Program Changes Lives

Submitted Article

Sometimes the answers to life's challenges are as close as your local community college. The RSVP Nurse Aide Program has been an answer for many students.

Not only does the program make completers eligible to become certified nursing assistants (CNA), but a program grant provides funding for tuition, books, and childcare. Also, students can receive a grant when they complete the program.

Treionna Burton

Treionna Burton graduated from Nandua High School in 2016 but dropped out of Norfolk State University when she became pregnant and was dealing with additional challenges of family tragedy and the death of her grandmother.

An RSVP Nurse Aide program announcement on social media caught the eye of this working waitress and mother of a growing family, and provided a second chance to pursue a dream of helping others.

Treionna quickly learned of the support and guidance of ESCC team members Barb Rang and Amy Shockley. "They helped with gas cards, child care, and most importantly, were someone to listen. My instructor JoLynn Hart was there for me in every way possible."

Treionna graduated from ESCC in August. She now holds two positions utilizing her newly earned credential. Treionna is a CNA for My Voice, My Choice group homes, and she serves in the role of direct support personnel at Community Services Board.

ESCC's nurse aide programs are often the first step to other healthcare programs. Those who complete the RSVP program can then earn ESCC's career studies certificate in nurse aide. Many of ESCC's practical nursing (LPN) students first completed the CNA program. Graduates can also pursue the registered nurse (RN) program on ESCC's campus.

To learn how you can become a Certified Nursing Assistant, contact YOUR Eastern Shore Community College at 757-789-1720 or workforce@es.vccs.edu.

Sheriff Doughty Takes to the Pulpit for Law Enforcement Sunday

Story and Photos by Jim Ritch

Northampton Sheriff David Doughty drew hearty applause after delivering a strong sermon Sunday. He preached from the pulpit of First Baptist Church Capeville as part of its Law Enforcement Day celebration.

"I think I'm going to have to give you an A+," said a surprised Pastor Kelvin Jones.

Northampton Approves Expanding Borrow Pit at Sand Mine

By Stefanie Jackson

The Northampton County Board of Supervisors voted Tuesday night to approve a major special-use permit for landscaping contractor Gary Wagner to expand part of his business near Eastville, a borrow pit – an excavation site for digging out sand, gravel, or clay to be used as fill at a construction site.

The vote was 4-1, with District 3 Supervisor Oliver Bennett opposed. He was concerned about safety issues and other possible impacts to neighboring homes on Simpkins Drive.

Wagner previously was permitted to expand the borrow pit from about 10 acres to 18 acres in 2018. The new expansion would increase the borrow pit area to more than 50 acres.

Wagner introduced himself and his wife, Julie Wagner, as farmers who moved to the Eastern Shore about 40 years ago. He explained the history of their sand-mining enterprise and how it grew out of their first business, Ap-pleseed Nurseries.

Material from Wagner's open-pit sand mine has been used as fill for major construction projects in Northampton County, including the new YMCA near Cape Charles and Dollar General in Eastville.

The Northampton County Planning Commission had recommended approval of the SUP with a long list of conditions, but Wagner disagreed with several of them.

Planning Commissioner Janet Sturgis explained why the conditions were made and advocated for Simpkins residents.

She noted that the Wagner borrow pit had begun as a 5-acre area in 2004. After the latest expansion, the permit area will be about 10 times its original size.

"This is right in the middle of a community," and not every resident received notification of the project, she said. Wagner proposed an expansion, not a new project; therefore notification was made only to owners of adjacent property within 1,000 feet of the original permit area.

Sturgis said seven shallow wells near the Wagner property had been replaced in the last 10 years. The failure of shallow wells near the pit was "not unexpected," geologist Britt McMillan said in a Sept. 23 email to Sturgis.

Furthermore, the permit area is directly above the Eastville paleochannel, a circumstance that is "uncharted territory," she said, addressing Supervisor John Coker, who is also on the Eastern Shore of Virginia Ground Water Committee. (A paleochannel is an inactive river or stream channel that has been filled or buried by sediment.)

But Coker objected to Sturgis' speculation that digging into the ground above a paleochannel could have unwanted "repercussions."

"I've sat in those groundwater meetings for over three-and-a-half years, and I know that they don't understand anything about paleochannels ... so don't tell me about paleochannels," he said.

Before voting on the SUP, supervisors amended the planning commission's conditions that were deemed too restrictive.

They agreed with Wagner's suggestion that he should be required to replace dry wells in the immediate area only if it can be proven that the failures were caused by borrow pit operations and no other reason.

Wagner had disapproved of the condition that his 11-acre parcel, tax map number 68-A-115, should be used only to access his 40-acre parcel numbered 68-A-135. He wanted permission also to use parcel 68-A-115 for storage, which supervisors granted.

Furthermore, Wagner preferred not to use parcel 68-A-115 to access the new borrow pit area because it would mean heavy trucks would frequently pass by homes on Simpkins Drive.

Wagner's business is located south of Eastville, near the corner of Route 13 and Simpkins Drive. The parcel on which the nursery and borrow pit are situated is generally bordered by Route 13 on the west, the railroad on the east, and Simpkins Drive to the south.

There is a road behind the nursery that leads to the borrow pit. If the road could be extended through the existing borrow pit area and cross the railroad tracks north of Simpkins Drive, trucks would not have to pass through the residential community to access the new borrow pit.

However, Wagner first needs permission from Canonie-Atlantic, the private company that owns the railroad, to cross the railroad right-of-way at that point (which was noted in the planning commission's recommendation).

Wagner believes the Canonie-Atlantic board will agree to his request, but he could not guarantee Tuesday night that its members will decide in his favor.

Wherever the road is built to access the borrow pit, it will need to be 25 feet wide to accommodate two passing trucks; the planning commission had called for a 15-foot-wide road. Supervisors agreed to amend the proposal to state the road must be a minimum of 15 feet wide.

They also agreed to delete a condition that would have limited trucks to 25 daily round trips on the road.

Wagner disagreed with the planning commission's recommendation for a 100-foot-wide, opaque vegetative buffer on all sides of the new borrow pit area. Wagner agreed to put a 100-foot-wide buffer on the west, along the railroad right-of-way, where a public bike trail is expected to be built. However, Wagner's neighbors who own the adjacent parcels agreed a 50-foot-wide buffer on the other sides would be sufficient, and supervisors agreed.

Wagner also questioned the planning commission's condition that the railroad right-of-way must be bordered by a six-foot-high berm (a long, narrow mound of soil, usually covered by grass or other vegetation) that would act as a wall blocking the view of the mining operations from the bike path.

Supervisors specified that if a berm is required, its height should be six feet above the existing grade, not six feet above the rail bed, which is already raised.

The planning commission had proposed operating hours of 7 a.m. to 5 p.m., six days a week, with no operations on Sundays. Wagner preferred to retain the current operating hours of 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., six days a week, to make use of longer periods of daylight in the summer; the supervisors agreed to make that change.

They also deleted items that were deemed redundant, such as a requirement to produce certified mail receipts for letters notifying adjacent property owners within 1,000 feet of the boundary of the permit area. Wagner noted his proposal had been publicly advertised on multiple occasions.

Supervisor Bennett appeared disappointed that Wagner was not willing to include additional safety measures in the project, recalling a time when a local boy had drowned in a pond that was not enclosed by a fence.

Wagner said building a fence around his ponds would be "cost prohibitive" and that a determined child could simply climb over a fence. He did not dispute Bennett's story but asserted that such an incident would be uncommon, an "anomaly."

Bennett, who said he did not want to let down his constituents, cast the only vote against the SUP.

Wagner may proceed with the expansion of his sand-mining operation after receiving approvals from the Virginia Department of Energy, formerly the Department of Mines, Minerals and Energy, and any other related regulatory agencies.

Northampton OKs Rezoning for Mini Golf, Retail

By Stefanie Jackson

The Northampton County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday night approved the rezoning of four parcels near Cape Charles from town edge 1 to town edge-commercial general, allowing new commercial development on Route 13, near the new traffic light.

The new businesses that could open at the site include a barbecue restaurant, a mini golf course, and a retail space, such as a dollar store.

The applicant was Solitude ES LLC, owned by John Small, of Machipongo, for the rezoning of property that is already surrounded by other businesses, including the Cape Charles Food Lion and shopping center across the highway and the bank next door. Two additional parcels at the same site, also owned by Small, are already zoned town edge/commercial general and contain a restaurant and an ice machine.

Only one comment was received during a public hearing on the matter – a letter from the Town of Cape Charles, written by interim zoning administrator Katie Nunez.

She stated that the town could not fully support the proposed development without more details and the completion of a traffic impact study by the Virginia Department of Transportation.

Traffic was the top concern of Supervisor John Coker, who lives in and is familiar with the Cape Charles area. During the summer, traffic is heavy on the property to be rezoned, due to the presence of an ice machine that is frequented by visitors.

John Salm, the engineer working on the project, said that much of the chaotic traffic there is caused by two “uncontrolled entrances” composed of gravel. The entrance closest to the new traffic light will be closed, and the second entrance will channel traffic into the property.

He said the site is expected to draw 862 vehicle trips per day – not enough to trigger a VDOT traffic study, which would require 2,000 trips per day.

Salm added that the ice machine is currently being leased, but in the future it possibly could be moved farther back on the property, near the retail store.

He also confirmed that a stormwater management plan will be put in place to address possible runoff into the nearby creek.

U.S.C.G. Auxiliary Safe Boating Tips

Submitted Article

Getting wet in cold water is no fun and there is something you must commit to memory: the number sequence 1 – 10 – 1. Mark it down; memorize it.

When you first enter cold water, you will gasp reflexively; you can't help it. If you are wearing a life jacket you will gasp air, if not you might be breathing water. It will take you ONE minute to control your breathing (the first 1); then you will have 10 minutes of useful activity, like getting out of the water, reaching additional flotation, getting back on the boat. After that, you will become too weak to do anything and you will not regain your strength.

If you are wearing a life jacket you will now have one hour of consciousness but again only if you are wearing a life jacket. If you want to see proof of 1-10-1, the next boating skills class is Nov. 6 and 13. Contact Jerry Phillips at 757-442-5229 for details.

If you are a boater and come upon someone in cold water, do not lift them into your boat — you will cause heart failure if you do. Instead stretch them out parallel to the boat then roll them over the side so they are always horizontal — even if you need to use lines to help you keep them horizontal.

Local Aid Notices

- Chincoteague Bay: lighted buoys 8 and 12 are extinguished.
- Chincoteague Inlet: lighted buoy 8 is extinguished.

Announcements

A recruiting drive for the auxiliary and Sea Scout Ship is Saturday, Oct. 23, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m., outside of Tractor Supply in Onley. Scouts will be selling hot dogs as a fund raiser.

A Boating Skills and Seamanship course is offered Nov. 6 and 13 at Craddockville United Methodist Church, 8 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Both days are required. The $25 cost includes book and all handouts. Families sharing a book add $5 per person to cover handouts. Loaner books are also available for a lower cost. Contact Jerry Phillips at 442-5229.

OBITUARIES

Miguel Bizzotto

Mr. Michele Angelo “Miguel” Bizzotto died Oct. 4, 2021. Miguel did not even want an obituary, but agreed if it was kept short and to the point. Since he always refused to tell his age in life, we are honoring his wishes in death – he was ageless. He is survived by his wife, Colleen Cajetan Killeen; daughters, Kelly Killeen-Bizzotto Moore (Christopher), and Eleonora Bizzotto; sisters, Teresa Bizzotto and Angela Bizzotto Ortiz; daughter-in-law, Jacquelyn Cashwell Bizzotto; and numerous grandchildren. He is predeceased by his father, Luigi Ignacio Bizzotto; mother, Maria Lopez; sister, Azucena Ester Bizzotto; and son, Justin Killeen-Bizzotto.

Mr. Bizzotto

Funeral services will be conducted from the graveside at the Fairview Lawn Cemetery in Onancock Sunday, Oct. 17, 2021, at 3 p.m.

Flowers are appreciated, or please consider donating blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank (www.redcrossblood.org), or sending contributions to the Eastern Shore SPCA, P.O. Box 164, Onley, VA 23418.

Memory tributes may be shared with the family at www.williamsfuneralhomes.com

Arrangements are by the Williams-Onancock Funeral Home.

Lillie Mae Birch

Mrs. Lillie Mae Birch, 100, a lifetime and oldest resident of Chincoteague, passed away Oct. 8, 2021, at Riverside Hospital in Onley.

She was the daughter of the late Mollie Lunn and Asher Walker.

She was born at home and raised by her mother, Mollie Lunn, and later by her aunt and uncle, Clara and Charlie Da-isey. She had two brothers, Paul and Archie.

Mrs. Birch

She attended Chincoteague High School and graduated at grade 11, which was the highest at that time.

She married Arthur Birch on Aug. 20, 1939. They were married 59 years until his death in 1998.

Over the years, she worked at Bernstein's Shirt Factory, Tom's Cove Camp-ground, and the housekeeping service at NASA Wallops.

She was presented a proclamation on Sept. 7, 2021, by the Chincoteague mayor and council celebrating her 100th birthday. She also received a plaque from the Accomack Board of Supervisors on Sept. 21, 2021, also celebrating her birthday.

She enjoyed traveling, getting together with friends and family, and reading her Bible. She enjoyed being a member of Union Baptist Church for many years and later at Island Baptist Church. She received numerous awards for attendance. She clearly loved her church and its members. Her faith in God earned her the respect and affection of people of all ages and from all walks of life.

She is survived by her daughter, Darlene Floyd, and son, Ronnie Birch (Fran); grandchildren, Sharon Johnson (Dino), Rhonda Matthews (Aaron), and Chuck Crist (Missy); four great-grandchildren, Jessica Richardson, Derek Richardson, Todd Matthews, and Lillie Matthews; and two great-great-grandchildren, Aiden Richardson and Jack Richardson, all of Chincoteague.

Funeral services were held Oct. 13, 2021, at 2 p.m., with a viewing held an hour before at Island Baptist Church, Chincoteague Island, with the Rev. Larry Lilly and the Rev. Phil Benicoft officiating.

Services are entrusted to Salyer Funeral Home on Chincoteague Island.

Charlotte Ann Bolding

Mrs. Charlotte Ann Bolding, wife of the late J.T. Bolding, of Modest Town, passed on to her eternal home to be with her Savior Jesus Christ on Oct. 8, 2021. She passed away at home with family by her side.

Born Feb. 2, 1943, in Modest Town, a daughter to the late William Robert Young and the late Mabel Groton Young, she was the last home delivery attended by Dr. Parks. She went to Parksley High School and recently had a marvelous time celebrating her 60th class reunion with friends and classmates. After graduation, she began working at Metompkin Bank and Trust Company where she remained through many mergers until her health forced her retirement from PNC just months shy of 50 years of service. She truly adored her customers and said many times after retirement how much she missed them. Charlotte Ann had a green thumb and enjoyed tending to her flowers as well as traveling to many fishing tournaments with J.T. over the years. She was the first female member of the Eastern Shore Anglers Club's Cape Hatteras Fishing Tournament team. A devoted, lifelong member of Modest Town Baptist Church, she was the former children's Sunday School director, she led the choir for decades with her beautiful soprano voice, and she served as a trustee. Additionally, nothing brought her greater joy than gathering with friends and family, whether it was on the beach, at family dinners, or on countless trips to Ocean City, Busch Gardens, or the family-famous Williamsburg Pottery excursions.

Charlotte Anne is survived by her son, Robert Bolding, and wife, Penny, of Chincoteague, and daughter, Tammy Bolding Parks, of Modest Town; sister, Betsy Young Whealton, and husband, Howard, of Hampton and Chincoteague; grandson, Eric Bolding; and great-grandchildren, Angel, Jaden, and E.J. Bolding, all of Pocomoke City, Md.; sisters-in-law, Helen Talbott, of

Deborah Milliken Christie

In the afternoon on Thursday, Aug. 26, 2021, Ms. Deborah Milliken Christie, an angel to so many on the Eastern Shore, received her wings and was called home.

Deborah was born of Ray Denham and Jeune Thomas Denham in California. Deborah grew up in Denver, Colo., with her new father, Samuel Milliken, and Jeune, and attended University of Virginia (B.A.), Brandeis University (M.S.), and Johns Hopkins University (Ph.D.).

She is survived by her sister, Kimberly Peterson (Eric); stepdaughter, Cynthia Jones Mahoney; her cat, Nasty; the two "best dogs ever," Cody and Oliver; and a myriad of friends, all of whom Deborah took in as family. Deborah was an active leader and a go-getter in the community. In "retirement," Deborah enjoyed purpose, and consistent with her altruistic nature, served the local community through participation in many civic organizations and boards at one time or another. Among those were the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel

Ms. Christie

Commission, legislative aide for the second district Eastern Shore under representatives Scott Rigell and Scott Taylor, the Eastern Shore Public Library board of trustees, board member for the United Way of Virginia's Eastern Shore, executive director of the Wallops Island Research Park, Wallops Island Regional Alliance, Northampton County Chamber of Commerce, the Jerry C. Burkhead War Memorial in Parksley, and most recently served as the administrator for the Accomack County Economic Development Authority. Her influence was felt across many more boards and organizations.

Deborah didn't know any strangers and her vibrant smile and firecracker spirit brought energy to every room she entered. Deborah was always prepared to help and would always see things through, even against the odds. If the task was the right thing to do, she was all in. Deborah had told friends and family she was "ready and at peace with it" in the week before her passing, and true to form, passed peacefully in her home with her dogs and sister by her side. She will be missed by many and her legacy will continue to shape the Eastern Shore.

Family and friends will gather privately to celebrate Deborah's life.

Arrangements are by the Williams-Onancock Funeral Home.

William Louis Clark

Mr. William Louis Clark, 82, a resident of Cheriton, passed away Tuesday, Oct. 5, 2021, at The Citadel at Nassawadox. A native of Amherst County, Va., he was the son of the late Cager Clark and the late Weary Sorrells Clark. He was a retired farmer and truck driver.

He is survived by three sisters, Jean Spence, of Birdsnest, Nancy Kara, of Birdsnest, and Joanne Bunting, of Colorado; two brothers, Wayne "Gus" Clark, of Eastville, and Johnny Clark of West Point, Va.; and numerous nieces and nephews.

Mr. Clark

To honor his request, a private family service will be held at a later date.

In lieu of flowers, donations in William's memory may be made to SPCA Eastern Shore Inc., P.O. Box 164, Onley, VA 23418.

Anna Otilie Fabricatore

Mrs. Anna Otilie Fabricatore, 79, of Pungoteague, formerly of Stony Brook, N.Y., went to be with her Lord and Savior Wednesday, Oct. 6, 2021, surrounded by her family. Otilie was born Oct. 19, 1941, in Huntington, N.Y., a daughter to the late Charles and Marie Krebs.

At the age of 17, Otilie met the love her life, Henry Harold Fabricatore, to whom she was married on Nov. 23, 1963. Otilie and Henry were partners in every sense of the word and built a beautiful life together over the last 58 years. As the matriarch of the Fabricatore family, Otilie was famed as a homemaker extraordinaire and extreme crafter. Among her myriad of talents, she made dolls and dollhouses, was a master of gingerbread architecture, painter, chocolatier of Easter bunnies, and Halloween costume designer. Otilie stopped at nothing for her family, especially her children, and did so with great joy and resolution.

In 1962, Otilie obtained her Bachelor of Arts degree in home economics (cum laude), and in 1969, received her master's degree in education from Adelphi University. She taught home economics on Long Island, N.Y., for 15 years. In 1988, Otilie and Henry bought the Wachapreague Marina and opened a restaurant in the Little City by the Sea. Over the next 19 years, "Henry's," as referred to by locals, faithfully served fisherman, ESVA residents, and passersby with a meal they wouldn't soon forget – one that was perfectly crafted and approved by Otilie. Though retired from teaching, education remained a priority in her life, serving as director of tutoring with the Eastern Shore Literacy Council.

Otilie loved spending time outdoors, often birdwatching and enjoying her vegetable and ornamental gardens. She was a kind, gentle, thoughtful, and compassionate person, who adored all children and always showed empathy toward others.

In addition to her husband of 58 years, she leaves to cherish her memory, five children and their spouses, Otilie and Chad Austin, Henry Fabricatore and Jenny Andersson, Mary Fabricatore, James Fabricatore and Mara DAVIS, and Libby Fabricatore and Joe McLaughlin; sisters, Marie Osburn and Trudy Delmore and husband, Jack; brother, Charles Krebs, and wife, Barbara; six grandchildren, Jessica and Robert Redley, Seth Austin, George and Sarah Fabricatore, Branimir and Marco Fabricatore; three great-grandchildren, Archer, Robert, and Ella Redley; and many nieces and nephews. In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her sister, Margaret Krebs.

Visitation will be held at the Williams-Onancock Funeral Home Friday, Oct. 15, 2021, from 5 until 8 p.m. A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church, in Onley, Saturday, Oct. 16, 2021, at 11 a.m., with Father Michael Imperial officiating. Interment will take place at the Memorial Cemetery of St. John's Church, in Syosset, N.Y., Saturday, Oct. 30, 2021, at 10:30 a.m.

Flowers will be accepted, or memorial contributions may be made to St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church, P.O. Box 860, Onley, VA 23418, or to the Down Syndrome Advocacy Foundation, P.O. Box 12173, Hauppauge, NY 11788.

Billy Wayne Fisher

Mr. Billy Wayne Fisher, 78, husband of Mary Frances "Fran" Fisher and a resident of Parksley, passed away peacefully Sunday, Oct. 10, 2021, at his home while surrounded by his loving family. Born Sept. 23, 1943, in Marvell, Ark., he was the son of the late Henry and Josephine Fisher.

Billy spent a majority of his career driving for Perdue Farms. He was "old school" in every sense of the word, Billy was an "old school" truck driver for Perdue Farms.

Mr. Fisher

Billy had a great sense of humor; he was loved by many and will be truly missed by all his family and friends.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by his children, Rhonda English, of Holly Springs, N.C., JoAnna Rose and her husband, Christopher, of Clayton, N.C., Les Fisher and his wife, Oksana, of Chester, Md., Brooks Fisher and his wife, Akari, of Bradenton, Fla., Linda Burford, of Princess Anne, Md., Deborah Wright, of Temperanceville, Christine Michaud, of Pocomoke, Md., and Richard Michaud, of Biddeford, Maine; sister, Virginia Sovia, of Sevierville, Tenn.; grandchildren, Holly Labrosse, Brenna English, Alex and Jacob Rose, Matthew, Adam, and Emma Fisher, and Bryce, Aaliyah, and Bianca Fisher; and great-grandchildren, Tully Labrosse and Cody English. Other than his parents, he was predeceased by his brother, Eddie Fisher.

To honor Billy's wishes, family and friends will gather privately to celebrate his life.

Memory tributes may be shared with the family at www.williamsfuneralhomes.com

Arrangements are by the Williams-Parksley Funeral Home.

Stephen Kellam Fox

Mr. Stephen Kellam Fox was born on the family farm in Cobbs Station, on Feb. 4, 1949, a son to the late Cavanaugh Clemmons and the late Constance Press Fox. He attended Northampton County High School, graduating in 1967. He was awarded a full academic scholarship to Virginia Tech and received his Bachelor of Science degree in finance in 1971. Steve entered law school at George Washington University and received his Juris Doctor in 1975.

Steve began his legal career as an associate at Lewis Mitchell & Moore in Northern Virginia. In 1977, he joined the commonwealth's attorney office where he prosecuted felony crimes before the general district and circuit courts of Fairfax County. In 1978, Steve became an assistant county attorney for Fairfax County, representing the Board of Supervisors and its agencies. Steve entered private practice in 1980, focusing on criminal defense, general and commercial, civil, and land use litigation. He was a partner at Miles & Stockbridge, the predecessor to McCandlish & Lillard. Steve spent the last 20 years of his career as a solo practitioner in Fairfax and then in semi-retirement on the Eastern Shore of Virginia.

Steve was an active member of the Fairfax Bar Association, serving on the 10th District Grievance Committee and the Judicial Screening and Professionalism Committee. He served on several boards including Sunrise Federal Savings & Loan, Fairfax Symphony Orchestra, and Legal Services of Northern Virginia. He was a commissioner for Fairfax Redevelopment and Housing Authority and on the Board of Governors of the Virginia State Bar Litigation Section. Steve established the Northampton County High School Alumni Association Foundation and served as its president for 25 years.

Steve was a gentleman and a gentle man. He made friends wherever he went. It was typical for Steve to run into a friend or acquaintance in the most unusual places, like Heathrow Airport or a busy restaurant in Washington, D.C. He stood out, not because of his height, but because of his infectious smile. He was a teacher and a mentor to young colleagues and not so young colleagues. He was a patient and loving father to his son and "the three kids I picked up in the draft." Steve loved music, food, entertaining family and friends, and scotch with a big ice cube. He loved his life on the Eastern Shore.

Steve is survived by his wife, Catherine; and sons, Stephen (Tisa), Daniel (Stefanie), Matthew and daughter Megan (Miguel). He was a loving Grandpa to Fiona, Santiago, Alexander, and Francisco. He is also survived by his sisters, Constance (Stanley) and Andrea; brother, Lloyd (Grace); and a host of cousins, nieces, and nephews. He will be sorely missed.

Please consider a donation to The Stephen K. Fox Memorial Scholarship in care of The Northampton County Education Foundation (www.ncedufoundation.com).

Eda Elizabeth Grothouse

Mrs. Eda Elizabeth Grothouse, beloved wife, mother, and friend, died at her home in Craddockville, on Oct. 5, 2021, with her family by her side. She was 78 years young.

A member of the McCaleb family, Mrs. Grothouse grew up on the Eastern Shore of Virginia. In 1964, she graduated from the Johnston Willis Nursing Program and began her long and adventurous career as a registered nurse. Soon after graduating, Mrs. Grothouse joined the U.S. Air Force, where she eventually rose to the rank of captain in the nursing corps, which at that time, was the highest rank achievable by a woman in the U.S. military. Among her various responsibilities throughout her time of service, she oversaw the ICU units for severely injured troops returning from the Vietnam War.

During Mrs. Grothouse's military service, she met her husband, Lt. Col. Arthur Paul Grothouse Sr. After they were married, Eda and Art returned to the Eastern Shore to build a family. They were blessed with over 50 years of marriage and a beautiful family that included three children and four grandchildren. Together, they rebuilt Hedra Cottage, a historic 17th century home.

Mrs. Grothouse continued her nursing career on the Eastern Shore, working for many years at the hospital in Nassawadox, formerly Northampton-Accomack Memorial Hospital, and Shore Memorial Hospital. Near the end of her career, home health nursing became her passion, as she often said she loved being able to care directly for her patients. Following retirement, she spent her time volunteering for hospice and focused on other charity work. She was well known for her contributions and dedication to the community, people in need, and to her friends. In her free time, Mrs. Grothouse enjoyed her family, gardening, cooking, fishing, and traveling.

Mrs. Grothouse is survived by her three children, Christopher P. Grothouse with his wife, Linda, of Canyon Lake, Texas, A. Paul Grothouse Jr., of Germansville, Pa., and Dorothy E. Poley with her husband, Andrew, of Santa Barbara, Calif. She is also survived by her four grandchildren, Kyle Grothouse, Sean Grothouse, Andrew M. Poley Jr., and Lilyanna Poley. She is predeceased by her husband, Arthur Paul Grothouse Sr.; her sister, Nancy McCaleb; and her brother, Philip McCaleb.

A Memorial Mass will be held at St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church, 25236 Coastal Blvd., Onley, VA, on Friday, Oct. 15, 2021, at 11 a.m., with Father Michael Imperial officiating. Mrs. Grothouse will be laid to rest alongside her husband at Arlington National Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, contributions in Eda's memory may be made to the Eastern Shore SPCA, P.O. Box 164, Onley, VA 23418 (www.shorespca.com).

Janice S. Henson

Mrs. Janice S. Henson, 77, wife of the late Joseph Richard Henson and a resident of Staunton, Va., formerly of Mt. Nebo, Onancock, passed away Wednesday, Oct. 6, 2021, in Maryland.

Born Nov. 12, 1943, in Baltimore, she was the daughter of the late Rose Louise Cox Sewell and the late Col. Joseph Norville Sewell, U.S. Army, retired. Jan was a retired IRS agent, enjoyed her family, reading and watching mysteries, and solving crossword puzzles. She will also be remembered as a talented and generous embroiderer and quilter.

Mrs. Henson

Survivors include her two children, Dr. Richard A. Love and his wife, Dr. Maryann Love, of Tracy's Landing, Md., and Dr. Catherine Love Turlington and her husband, Peter Turlington, of Melfa; three stepsons and their wives, Joseph "Rusty" Henson Jr. and Gay Henson, of Marshall, Va., Dr. Kenneth Henson and Laura Henson, of Warrenton, Va., and Rob Henson and Jane Henson, of Alexander, N.C.; 12 grandchildren, Maria, Ricky, and Ava Love, Molly and Trevor Turlington, and Sam, Ben, Timothy, Joseph, Nicholas, Philip, and Matthew Henson; a sister, Cass Sewell Johnson, of Elverson, Pa.; and two nephews, Franklyn Johnson and Stephen Johnson and their families. In addition to her husband and parents, she was predeceased by two brothers, Joseph N. Sewell and Joseph Norville Sewell.

A private celebration of her life will be held at her home at a later date.

Donna Morgan

Ms. Donna Morgan, 75, of Belle Haven, went to Heaven to talk God's ears off on Oct. 8, 2021.

Her beautiful story began in Newport News, on May 8, 1946, when she was the third born child to Charles Eugene Morgan and Margaret Eleanor Taylor Morgan. She was a blonde-haired, blue-eyed girl who God blessed with the gift of gab and an extra dash of energy.

We are sure she's in Heaven filling everyone in on what we've all been doing since they passed. She had many loves but chatting about some good gossip had to be among the top. She loved hearing about everyone's lives, plans, thoughts, and dreams. She also liked to provide her opinion on those thoughts you shared whether you wanted to hear them or not.

Among her lifelong loves would be her children, especially her firstborn son, John, who was affectionately nicknamed "Pin number" because his birth year was used in every one of her passwords and PINs to every account she ever had (LOL). She also loved her grandkids, her family (especially her parents), and her first love, John E. Thornes Sr. She loved adventure, traveling, cheering on John at arm wrestling competitions, home decorating, yard sales, camping, a good cup of coffee, white chocolate macadamia nut cookies, political discussions, Dr. Phil, and her fur babies ... among many other things.

She is survived by her son, John Thornes Jr., and his wife, Beth, of Onancock; her firstborn daughter, Spring, and her husband, Angelo, of Wachapreague; and her baby girl, Amber Rose, and her husband, Richard, of Belle Haven. She has many grandchildren and great-grandchildren, who were lucky enough to witness the life of a really energetic, feisty, firecracker of a Granny/ Great-Granny, and they are: Megan, Taylor, and JJ Thornes, Ridge and Morgan Rose, Jamie Logan, Presley Howell, Cody and Paige DiMartino; and her two great-grands: Cooper Brunk and Elizabeth DiMartino. Donna is also survived by her sister, Iris Crockett, of Onancock; and two brothers, Charles E. Morgan Jr. and wife, Sherry, of Onancock, and Joseph C. Morgan and wife, Peggy, of Mel-fa. In addition to her parents, she was predeceased by her brother, Richard P. "Dickie" Morgan; and her brothers-in-law, Cecil Thornes and Willie Crockett.

Honoring Donna's request, there will be a private memorial service for family members only.

Donna would be adamant that in lieu of flowers or donations, please go buy yourself something. She thought everyone worked hard and deserved to spend a little money on themselves. So, if you were inclined to send flowers or make a donation, go out instead and buy yourself something and say, "Donna said I should." She would want everyone to go live their best life and make lots of memories.

Alice Mae Savage

Mrs. Alice Mae Savage, of Wallops Island, was called into eternal rest at TidalHealth Peninsula Regional in Salisbury, Md., on Tuesday, Sept. 28, 2021.

Born in New Church, Alice was the daughter of the late Frank and Mildred Morris. Alice was an employee of Perdue Foods and Tyson Foods combined, for more than 20 years. After retiring, she later worked at Tom's Cove, on Chincoteague Island.

On March 25, 1980, Alice was joined in holy matrimony to Marvin W. Savage. They enjoyed 41 years of wedded bliss until the time of her passing.

Private graveside services were held Saturday, Oct. 9, 2021, at Tabernacle Baptist Church Cemetery, Horntown, with the Rev. Richard Holland officiating.

Alice leaves to cherish her precious memories: her husband, Marvin W. Savage; one son, Craig Morris; one grandson, Craig Morris Jr.; three brothers, Edward Morris, Alvin Morris, and Clifton Morris; seven sisters, Shirley Morris, Betty Hall, Christine Collins, Dianne Duncan, Elnora Lewis, Teresa Collins, and Mildred Byrd; two sisters-in-law; two brothers-in-law; and a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives, and friends.

Arrangements are by the Cooper & Humbles Funeral Co., Accomac.

Mrs. Savage

Joyce Harper Shockley

Mrs. Joyce Harper Shockley, the wife of William E. "Bill" Shockley Jr. and a longtime resident of Seaview, near Cheriton, died Oct. 5 at her home from complications of Parkinson's disease. She was 74.

Born Jan. 13, 1947, in Norfolk, and raised in the city, she was retired from the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel, where she enjoyed many friendships with coworkers.

She was fully a child of Norfolk and fond of its conveniences, amenities, and anonymity. Rural life on the Eastern Shore gradually grew on her, and she appreciated its beauty, tranquility, and people.

She was an avid reader, enjoyed crossword puzzles, and was a practiced and talented seamstress. She liked spending time with her family. Her passion was doting on the many Boston terrier rescue dogs she and her husband saved and raised over the years.

Exact and straightforward, she had little patience for anything she regarded as slipshod or slapdash. She was famously unwavering in her beliefs and opinions, and was known to question the methods and reasoning of others. During conversations, it was best to be prepared and well-researched.

She was a lifelong Presbyterian and a member of Holmes Presbyterian Church in Cheriton.

In addition to her husband of 52 years, she is survived by two sons, W.E. "Ted" Shockley III and his wife, Amy, of Belle Haven, and Thomas H. Shockley and his wife, Pattie, of Seaview.

She was particularly proud of her grandchildren, McKay, Allison, and Jimmy Shockley, and enjoyed hearing about their successes.

She was predeceased by her parents, James T. Jr. and Doris S. Harper.

The family would like to extend its gratitude to Northampton County EMS, Cape Charles Rescue, her in-home caretakers, and everyone else who helped her in the last years of her life.

Mrs. Shockley

A private family memorial service will be held at a later date. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions can be made to the Eastern Shore SPCA, P.O. Box 164, Onley, VA 23418.

Charlie C. White

Mr. Charlie C. White, of Withams, departed this life to eternal life Oct. 4, 2021, at his residence.

Born in Withams, Charlie was the son of the late Charlie "Buddy" Abbott and the late Delois "Sis" White Washington. Charlie was affectionately known as "Wo-Wo" or "Woochie." After graduating from high school, he served in the U.S. Army. Charlie also worked at Holly Farms, Perdue, and his most recent employment was at Bel Art in Pocomoke City, Md.

Mr. White

In his mid 20s, Charlie met the love of his life, Barbara Rue-White, now deceased. The two were together for over 37 years and during that period were joined in holy matrimony.

Private funeral services were held Saturday, Oct. 9, 2021, at the chapel of Cooper & Humbles Funeral Co., Accomac, with the Rev. Richard Holland officiating. Interment was in the St. Joseph Holiness Church Cemetery, Atlantic.

He leaves to cherish his memories: his two daughters, Chela and Tiffany Rue; siblings, Rita Matthews, Stephen Byrd, Edward White, Valestine W. Northam, and Yvonne Norville; stepbrothers, Gregory Washington, Calvin Washington, Tony Washington, and Devon Washington; stepsister, Diane Washington; one uncle; three brothers-in-law; two sisters-in-law; and a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives, and friends.

Arrangements are by the Cooper & Humbles Funeral Co., Accomac.

SAVE OUR RAILROAD!

Commissioners, Please Pause Track Removal for 90 Days to Evaluate Operator's New Offer

On Monday, contractors will begin removing mainline railroad track that forms an economic artery of the Eastern Shore.

However, in recent weeks, an experienced short-line operator made an unexpected offer and fueled hopes of restoring the railroad to profitable operation.

He is initially offering to invest $100,000 in cash and $600,000 in equipment and rolling stock.

This seasoned operator believes there is sufficient demand from existing businesses and adequate hope for growth.

He believes the line can operate profitably.

The offer comes at an understandably awkward time for commissioners serving on the Accomack Northampton Transportation District Commission and Canolie Atlantic, who control the railroad right-of-way.

But the Eastern Shore needs these commissioners to pause their plans for 90 days and allow negotiation with the operator.

Too much is at stake to rush headlong into impairing our economic future, possibly forever.

Act today.

Sign the endorsement below.

Tell the commissioners to save our railroad!

Yes, I want to save the railroad!

I request that county commissioners on the Accomack-Northampton Transportation District Commission and Canolie Atlantic reconsider condemnation of rail service. Instead, kindly seek and accept offers of financial assistance that include rail-AND-trail. Furthermore, seek and accept interim uses of the rails, such as citizen-usable rail bicycles.

Random Facts About ... How the Football Got Its Shape

By David Martin

When we opened our internet tubes for cleaning this week, out came flying a prolate spheroid, also known as a football.

The football is sometimes referred to as the old pigskin because spheroid footballs and round soccer balls were originally inflated animal bladders, usually a pig's bladder, which, when inflated, assume a roughly spheroid shape. Inflated pig bladders had several drawbacks. They had to be inflated by human breath and then tied off to keep their inflation AND they frequently exploded, calling off the game until another pig bladder could be located, inflated, and tied off. Leather craftsmen, including shoemakers, began to fashion leather coverings for the bladders, making them more durable.

In the mid-1800s, shoemaker Richard Lindon, of England, had a brisk business making leather covers for pig bladders used in sports. His wife's job was the inflate the bladders for Lindon to cover, but Lindon eventually began using natural rubber to fashion the bladders. Lindon's wife died from infections she developed from blowing up diseased pig bladders. We don't know if that was inscribed on her tombstone, "Died of inflating infected pig bladders," but we hope not.

Lindon's first balls followed the shape of the inflated pig bladder and were spheroid, made from seven strips of leather sewn around the rubber bladder — resembling the American football. The pliability of rubber made it easier to shape, eventually enabling the perfectly round soccer ball. Lindon also used an ear syringe to inflate the balls, which meant they no longer had to be inflated by mouth.

The American football remained a prolate spheroid for several reasons. When made to spiral, the football can be thrown accurately at distance. The shape was easier to tuck under a player's arm and keep secure when tackled. Maybe most important of all, the American football, unlike the European soccer ball, becomes totally unpredictable when the football is loose to bounce this way and that on the ground. This randomness of the bouncing football adds an element of surprise to the game and can change a team's fortunes in an instant.

Quarterbacks make footballs fly by inducing a spin or spiral on the ball as it leaves the quarterback's hand. This is similar to rifling in a firearm's barrel, which induces spin on the bullet, enabling accuracy. Spinning objects are stable in flight due to angular momentum or gyroscopic inertia. Basically, this means that rotating objects resist changes to their rotation, allowing equilibrium in flight.

In the past decade, three quarterbacks have had their passes recorded as hitting 60 mph or faster: Patrick Mahomes, Logan Thomas, and Bryan Bennett. In 1983, Jim Plunkett, of the Raiders, threw a 99-yard pass — the longest on record. Just last month, a kicker broke the record for the longest field goal: Ravens' kicker Justin Tucker kicked one between the uprights at 66 yards, two yards longer than the previous record.

Since modern footballs are covered with leather from cattle, it might be more accurate to call a football the old cowskin. One source estimates a single cow hide can cover about 20 footballs. Each year, NFL teams use about 11,500 footballs for games or a herd of 575 cows. (Wilson Sporting Goods, which has the exclusive contract to produce footballs for the NFL, manufactures 700,000 footballs each year.)

Each Super Bowl team is issued 108 footballs, half for practice and half for the game, along with 12 balls for kickers. On the day of the big game, each team presents its 54 game balls to officials who attach a strand of artificial DNA to the laces of the game balls. As these Super Bowl footballs are donated to charity or used in sports memorabilia dealings, the DNA strand will mark the balls as authentic.

Fishing from the Shore

By Bill Hall

Speckled trout and red drum of all sizes are receiving the bulk of the local angling attention, while flounder are staging around the inshore wrecks as they begin their migration out of the local inlets and bays. Although the Chesapeake Bay rockfish season is in, the fish are not making much of an impact on the local fishing scene as there are only a few small fish hanging around the local creeks and marsh banks. Cooler water temperatures and bait migration will eventually push schools of larger fish out of the upper bay and rivers into the Virginia portion of the bay.

Upper Shore – Alan Ring, at the Sea Hawk Sports Center, reported rockfish in the southern Maryland portion of the Chesapeake Bay were still in their summertime patterns with the water temperatures still hovering around 69 to 70 degrees. The best action has been occurring for anglers casting along the marsh banks with jigheads with paddletails, Surface Walkers, and Mirrolures. Perch are hitting bloodworm baits as well as slowly retrieved Beetle Spin lures. Ring said speckled trout fishing along the upper Shore was not producing the expected numbers of fish, but Ring attributed that to the winds keeping anglers off the water. A few puppy drum are scattered along the shallows. Taylor blues and some larger rockfish are hanging around deepwater structures.

Chincoteague – Jimmy Vasiliou, at Captain Steve's Bait and Tackle, reported the fishing is great and sent pictures to prove it. Red drum from slot-sized puppies to trophy-sized 50-inch fish have been landed off the beach at Assateague. The ocean wrecks are producing large flounder, triggerfish, and black sea bass.

Captain Bob's Marina has closed for the season.

Wachapreague – Captain Lindsay Paul, at Trident Tackle, said not a lot of fishing had been going on, even though populations of flounder and speckled trout are still around. He had not heard of any offshore action. He added that the rail bird (marsh hen) hunting has been very good during the recent high tides.

Amanda Manzella, at the Wachapreague Inn, said that the "crappy" weather over the weekend kept a lot of anglers off the water.

Lower Shore – Jeb Brady, at Bailey's Bait & Tackle in Cape Charles, said the shallow water speckled trout and puppy drum fishery remains the preferred target for the majority of the lower Shore anglers. He reported the speckled trout action has been steadily improving, especially along the shoreline from Plantation Creek south. Hungars Creek was also cited as one of the areas that has produced some of the larger trout. The shop weighed in a 5-pound, 5-ounce citation speckled trout for Will Nickel. The fish was caught up in the vicinity of Onancock Creek. Schools of puppy drum have been hanging around in the shallows out of Cape Charles on the bayside and out of Oyster on the seaside. Flounder fishing on the ocean wrecks was described as awesome, with flounder pounders reporting limits of flounder measuring in excess of 20 inches. Gray triggerfish and black sea bass have been bycatches of the wreck fishing trips. A mixed bag of trophy red drum, sheepshead, and some late migrating black drum linger in the shadows of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel before their migration east and south.

Dez Louie, at Oceans East – Eastern Shore, agreed that the speckled trout and puppy drum are the season's targets of choice. He said that the bayside beaches have lots of bait schools passing through and the keeper-sized fish are being caught on a variety of soft plastics, Mirrolures, and cut mullet baits. The larger trout have been fooled with XL and XXL Mirrolures, while the larger slot-sized puppy drum are preferring fresh mullet and crab baits. Schoolie-sized striped bass are mixed in with the speckled trout schools. Louie added that a mix of sheepshead and tautog are hitting cut crab baits along the concrete ships off Kiptopeke as well as against the pilings and rocks of

The Osprey-Eyed Reader Contest

Last Week's Runners-Up

Nothing makes us happier than a happy baby. This happy baby is Ashlyn Marley, the 8-month-old daughter of Uniqua Wise, of Greenbackville.

Each week, our Philadelphia player, Delane Brown, sends us a picture of Karter. This week we have the privilege of seeing Karter resting.

October is the birthday month of Tessa Hawley, of Exmore, who is hoping for a Becca's Smith Island cake, "like these delicious ones from last year!"

This picture of Knowledge Kelley graduating from pre-K is labeled by his mom, Jasmine Davis, of Painter, as a "Proud parent moment!"

Sticks plus fire plus marshmallows equal smiles. James and Samuel, roasting marshmallows in the backyard, are the sons of Sarah Ross, of Chincoteague.

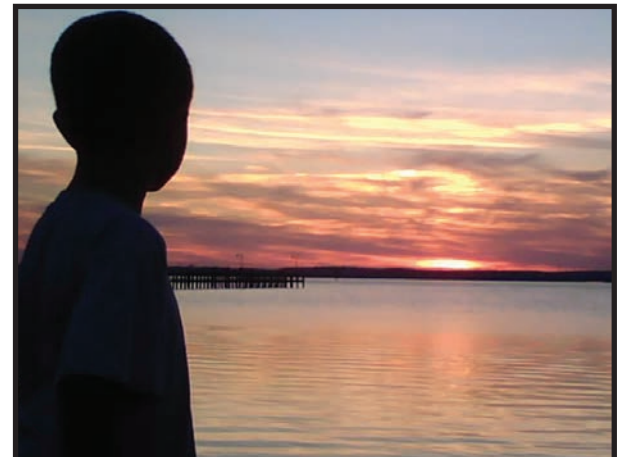

Last Week's Winner

Last week, several readers didn't make the cut because they found cakes where there were no cakes or at least where we did not place cakes. Finding cakes where no cakes exist happens in our minds all the time. But 72 readers were sufficiently osprey-eyed to find the cakes and become contestants. Of those, Christy Outten, of Horntown, was randomly selected to win her choice of a Becca's Smith Island cake.

When you get new earrings, what do you want to do? If you're Tera Taylor, of Greenbackville, you get a photograph to show them off.

Laura McDonough, of Chincoteague, said this is her "favorite sunset silhouette from the waterfront across from our carnival grounds." Ours too.

Last Week's Contest: Did Someone Say Cake?

Seventy-two osprey-eyed readers found delicious cakes on pages 17, 18, 27 (two; the second one was in the crossword puzzle), 31, 34, 36, and 45. Christy Outten, of Horntown, was randomly selected to win her choice of a Becca's Smith Island cake.

This Week's Contest: Hard Questions and Dangerous Deadline!

We're again asking you to answer four questions based on content in this edition of the Post. But hurry, because the deadline is noon on Saturday. Your entry should include the answers to the questions, the page number where you found each answer, and your full name and town. From among readers who answer all the questions correctly, one contestant will be randomly chosen to win a $25 gift certificate to the Onancock

Deli. See sponsor box on this page.

1. What caused the death of the wife of 19th century shoemaker Richard Lindon?

Yellow Jackets Victorious in Monday Night Thriller

Story by Adolphus Ames

The Northampton Yellow Jackets hosted the first of two home games this week on Monday, Oct. 11. They played the West Point Pointers, winning 26-20.

The first quarter was scoreless due to strong defensive play by both teams. Midway through the second quarter, the Pointers scored a rushing touchdown and made a successful 2-point conversion attempt to take an early 8-0 lead.

The Yellow Jackets came out with a strong rushing attack in the second half. Their first drive culminated with an 8-yard rushing touchdown by Dustin Splawn and a successful 2-point conversion attempt that tied the game. Midway through the fourth quarter, the Yellow Jackets were on top 20-14. West Point managed to punch the ball into the end zone with less than two minutes left in the game, but a bad snap on their extra point attempt left the game tied at 20.

On the following drive, Yellow Jackets running back Alex Courtney broke through a hole in West Point's defensive line for a long rushing carry that placed them in the red zone. With only 13 seconds left in the game, Splawn punched it into the end zone to give the Yellow Jackets a 6-point victory.

Courtney had 13 carries for 183 rushing yards, and one touchdown. Liam Flynn had five carries for 49 rushing yards. Jaylen Stevens had three carries for 34 rushing yards and one touchdown. Splawn had 15 carries for 103 rushing yards and two touchdowns.

Courtney had five tackles and eight tackle assists. Timothy Wilson had three tackles and five tackle assists. Stevens had three tackles and three tackle assists. Flynn had two tackles and one tackle assist. Tanner Feltes had one tackle and six tackle assists. Gavin Brittingham had one tackle and two tackle assists. Romano Onley had one tackle. Nykez Upshur, Devin Thornton, Blake Bonniwell, and Jaivon Burton each had multiple tackle assists.

The Yellow Jackets look to gain another home victory Friday, Oct. 15, at 7 p.m. They will host an undefeated Portsmouth Christian team.

Vikings Winning Streak Comes to an End

Story by Adolphus Ames

The Broadwater Vikings hosted the Virginia Episcopal Bishops last Saturday. They lost 30-20, snapping their three-game winning streak.

The Vikings opened the game in good field position thanks to a long kickoff return by Brayden Washington. A few plays later, quarterback Carson Savage threw a touchdown pass that gave the Vikings an early 6-0 lead. The Bishops first drive ended with an interception by Washington, but they climbed back in the game with a long touchdown pass midway through the second quarter.

With 16 seconds left in the second quarter, the Bishops scored a rushing touchdown and made a successful 2-point conversion attempt that placed them on top 14-6. Short on time, the Vikings pulled out a successful trick play. Savage tossed the ball to Washington, and Washington threw a long pass that landed directly in a wide receiver's hands in the end zone. At half-time the score was 14-12. In the second half, the Bishops outscored the Vikings 16-8.

As usual, the Vikings had a well-balanced passing and rushing attack. Savage went 25-35 on passing attempt for a total of 179 yards and two touchdowns. Rufus Abbott had two catches for 13 yards and one touchdown. Willie Holden had two catches for 45 yards and one touchdown. Justin Ethridge had eight catches for 100 yards.

On the ground, Sawyer Johnson had four carries for 20 yards and one rushing touchdown. Ethridge had five carries for 22 yards. Willie Petka had three carries for 20 yards.

Washington had five tackle assists, two interceptions, and one fumble recovery. Logan Hickman had five tackles, two tackle assists, and two interceptions. Ethridge had six tackles and three tackle assists. Garrett Miles had one tackle and six tackle assists.

The Vikings' next home game is Saturday, Oct. 23. They will host the Chincoteague Ponies at 2 p.m.

Court Postings

Accomack County Circuit Court

By Nancy Drury Duncan

Roquan Rogers, 23, of Exmore, was sentenced to 12 years in prison as recommended by an Accomack County jury.

The charges resulted from Rogers' involvement in a murder-for-hire plot masterminded by Evron Strand Sr., a man who was in jail awaiting trial on drug charges. Aided by a woman named Cynthia Harmon, Strand contacted a number of people in an attempt to find someone who would kill Nathaniel Johnson, a confidential informant used by the Eastern Shore Drug Task Force, who was set to testify against Strand at his December 2017 trial for drug distribution.

On the night of Oct. 31, 2017, Johnson and Dezeræ Smith were leaving a party at a home on Linhaven Circle near Painter. As they were walking to their car, shots were fired. Johnson was shot in the back and in the buttocks. Smith was shot in the foot. Johnson was flown to a Norfolk hospital. Both testified for the commonwealth, saying they saw Rogers fire the gun and identified him as the shooter.

A few weeks earlier, Johnson had testified in a drug case against Akeem Rogers, a brother of Roquan Rogers. At his August 2019 trial, Roquan Rogers was convicted of conspiracy to commit capital murder for hire, conspiracy to commit capital murder by a prisoner, and conspiracy to obstruct justice. The jury was deadlocked on nine other charges including attempted capital murder.

After the foreperson read the verdicts at Rogers' 2018 trial, the jury returned to the jury room to deliberate a recommendation for a sentence. After hours of deliberation, they returned with a recommendation of a total of 17 years for the three charges. After hearing the recommended sentence, defense attorney Curtis T. Brown polled each juror individually. One man said he did not agree with the sentence, which must be reached unanimously. Upon hearing this, Judge W. Revell Lewis III declared a mistrial on the sentencing phase of the trial.

The sentencing phase of that trial was redone in June 2021. A transcript of the trial was read to a new jury and all exhibits shown to them as they were to the original jury.

Commonwealth's Attorney Spencer Morgan read his questions to the witnesses and defense attorney Brown read his. The responses of witnesses to questioning by both attorneys were read by Northampton County Clerk of Court Traci Johnson. The reading took three full days to complete. After an hour and 15 minutes of deliberations, they recommended a total of 12 years in prison. At Thursday's sentencing, defense attorney Brown made a lengthy and impassioned plea for a shorter sentence for his client. He said Judge Lewis should not follow the jury's recommendation, saying Roger's fellow conspirators did not receive such hefty sentences.

Judge Lewis did follow the jury's recommendation. He sentenced Rogers to six years for conspiracy to commit capital murder for hire and five years for conspiracy to commit capital murder by a prisoner and one year for conspiracy to obstruct justice. Rogers has been in jail since his November 2017 arrest. The time he has already served counts toward his sentence.

Geronimo Lopez Romero, 41, of Greenbush, entered into a plea agreement with the commonwealth.

Under the terms of that agreement, a felony charge of hit-and-run was amended to leaving the scene of an accident, a misdemeanor, in exchange for his guilty plea. He pleaded guilty also to failure to stay in his lane and driving without a license.

On Feb. 23, Lopez Romero's car sideswiped another car. He did not stop. The driver of that car was able to get his license plate number. The damage to the car he hit was $4,300. He has paid that amount in full, said defense attorney Carl Bundick.

Judge Lewis sentenced him to 12 months in jail, all suspended, for leaving the scene of an accident. He ordered him to pay a $100 fine for driving without a license and $100 for failure to maintain his lane.

Kenneth Corneal Birch Jr., 51, of Saxis, pleaded guilty to four counts of stealing checks, four counts of forgery, and four counts of uttering or passing those checks.

On Jan. 30, 2020, Birch's employer reported that a check he wrote to Birch had been altered. He told police a check he wrote in the amount of $100 was changed to $400. Three other checks were stolen, forged, and cashed, two in the amount of $100 and one in the amount of $200. When his crimes were discovered, Birch apologized to the victim and told him he needed the money to help his mother who has cancer.

His attorney, Brandon Matthews, said his client had a drug problem which led to his crimes. He asked the judge to grant bond so Birch could help take care of his mother. He said Birch has been in jail since February 2020. Judge Lewis denied bond, saying he was concerned what Birch might do if released. He continued the case for sentencing on Oct. 28.

David Joseph Fisher, 25, of New Church, pleaded guilty to burglary and malicious wounding.

On Feb. 28, a deputy was called to the Pine Ridge mobile home park in Melfa. The man there reported that Fisher came into the house and attacked and stabbed him. He said the woman he was with was formerly in a relationship with Fisher.

The defendant came inside through a window over the kitchen sink and found a knife nearby, said Commonwealth's Attorney Morgan. The resident and the woman hid in the bathroom. Fisher got to the man and stabbed him. The man was taken to a hospital. Fisher's wallet was found at the scene, Morgan said.

Judge Lewis ordered a presentence report and set Fisher's sentencing for Jan. 13, 2022.

In a plea agreement with the commonwealth, Pamela Lynn Dix, 58, of Parksley, pleaded guilty to burglary and grand larceny. A charge of destruction of property was not prosecuted.

Adjudication on the case will be delayed for two years and six months. If full restitution is made, the charges will be dismissed.

On March 10, a woman who bought a house in Painter at a foreclosure sale reported her property was broken into and items taken.

She told police she went to the property and found Dix and others loading items from the house onto a flatbed trailer. She said they had taken the front door, a sink, light switch covers, and ceiling fans and changed the locks on the doors. She said the value of the items was $6,750.

The Boston Road house was previously owned by Dix, who lived there until March 3, 2020, said defense attorney Thomas Northam. He said she lost her home as a result of a divorce and bankruptcy. She thought she could remove her personal effects and items she bought for the home.

Northam said Dix and her sister continually checked to see if the property had conveyed and thought it had not. "On March 10, she thought she still owned the home," said Northam. He said she brought items to replace those she was taking and told the court she was at the house in "broad daylight and made no attempt to hide what they were doing."

After hearing the details of the case, Judge Lewis accepted the plea agreement and told Dix she must pay full restitution of $6,750 to the homeowner by April 11, 2024. "If it is not paid, you will be found guilty of these two felonies," he said.

Accomack County Indictments

By Carol Vaughn

A grand jury meeting in Accomack Monday, Oct. 4, indicted Frederick Marvin Barnes Jr., 34, of Exmore, on charges of first-degree murder, attempted first-degree murder, second-degree murder, attempted second-degree murder, use of a firearm in the commission of a murder, use of a firearm in the commission of an attempted murder, brandishing a firearm, recklessly handling a firearm, and carrying a concealed weapon while under the influence of alcohol, all in connection with a July 3 incident in Deep Creek, in which Brenda Iline Barnes, 75, of Exmore, and Dean Herbert Reid, 53, of Parksley, were slain. Barnes also was charged with attempting to murder Christina Green.

The Accomack County Sheriff's Office received a report Saturday, July 3, at around 8:53 p.m. of two people shot at a residence on Deep Creek Road, according to Accomack County Sheriff Todd Wessells.

When deputies arrived on the scene, they found Reid and Brenda Barnes unresponsive.

The victims were pronounced dead at the scene.

Kimiko Tenallie Dickerson, 41, of New Church, was indicted on charges of murder and arson, in connection with an incident April 15.

According to the criminal complaint filed by a Virginia State Police agent, there was a structure fire at 31098 Bishop Road in New Church on April 15.

Virginia State Police and the Accomack County Sheriff's Office responded to the fire.

A man, identified by Bureau of Criminal Investigation agents as Delbert Dickerson, 59, was found dead at the residence, where he lived.

Kimiko Dickerson, also a resident of the home, was arrested and charged in connection with Delbert Dickerson's death.

Xzaviyor Snead, 19, of Painter, was indicted on a charge of the first-degree murder of David McCain and use of a firearm in connection with the June 15 slaying of David McCain.

Also indicted were:

- Amanda Lynn Bare, 24, of Bloxom, on charges of assault and battery of a police officer in connection with a March 28 incident.
- Kevin Lee Lovett, 51, of Stockton, Md., on a charge of attempted malicious wounding in connection with a June 13 incident.
- Korris Vontel Scarborough, 32, of Melfa, on a charge of abduction in connection with a May 5 incident.

- Joshua Michael Sorber, 26, of Wallops Island, on a charge of malicious maiming in connection with a July 6 incident.
- Jaquan Rkese Jones, 21, of Accomac, on multiple charges: malicious maiming, robbery, and larceny from the person in connection with a Feb. 17 incident.
- William Andrew Fairbanks, 23, of Chincoteague, on two charges: assault and battery of a police officer and attempting to escape the custody of a police officer, in connection with a July 4 incident.
- Jacob Paxton Carl Watson, 19, of Earleville, Md., on charges of rape and object sexual penetration in connection with a July 21 incident.
- Tina Lynn Thornton, no age or address given, on a charge of possession of cocaine in connection with an April 10 incident.
- Christopher Antonio Smith, 49, of Onancock, in a charge of failure to register as a Tier III sex offender in connection with a July 30 incident.
- Russell C. Robbins Jr., no age or address given, on multiple charges: aggravated sexual battery, sodomy, attempted rape, indecent liberties, and child endangerment in connection with incidents between Jan. 1, 2016, and Jan. 1, 2018.
- Keshawn Lamar Coston, 30, of Painter, on charges of felony eluding of a law enforcement officer, cemetery property destruction, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon (two counts), possession of ammunition for a firearm by a convicted felon, possession of methamphetamine, and possession of a firearm while in possession of a controlled substance in connection with incidents May 10 and June 2.
- Danny Chris Rasmussen III, 34, of Oak Hall, strangulation of another and attempted abduction in connection with a June 29 incident.

Witness Signatures Required on Absentee Ballots

The Virginia Department of Elections wants to remind voters that witness signatures are required on all absentee ballots being cast in the 2021 General Election. If a general registrar finds after examining a returned absentee ballot envelope that the witness signature is missing, the voter will be notified within three days after receipt in the registrar's office that the ballot requires modification. The voter will have until noon on the third day after the election (Nov. 5) to correct their ballot in order for it to be counted.

A voter may return their absentee ballot by delivering it to:

- The USPS or a commercial delivery service (such as FedEx or UPS). All absentee ballots include pre-paid postage through the USPS;
- A drop-off location listed on their county or city's official website;
- The Office of the General Registrar in their county or city; or,
- Any polling place within their county or city on Election Day.

Completed absentee ballots must be postmarked by Election Day and received by local registrars by noon Friday, Nov. 5. If a ballot is personally delivered, it must be returned to the general registrar's office or drop-off location by 7 p.m. on Election Day.

Voters who have requested an absentee ballot can track their ballot here: <https://v2.ballotscout.org/virginia/search/state>

If a voter is concerned that they do not have enough time to return their ballot by mail, they are encouraged to personally deliver their ballot to their local general registrar's office, a ballot drop-off location, or vote in-person.

Rosenwald School Online Fundraiser

The Woodson Center and the Cape Charles Rosenwald School Restoration Initiative are launching a major push to raise $2.5 million to restore a 1920s-era Rosenwald school in Cape Charles. The brick, four-classroom schoolhouse educated African American children during legalized segregation and was the heart of the Black community in Cape Charles for nearly four decades.

A livestream fundraising kickoff will be held Saturday, Oct. 23, at 7 p.m. Featured speakers include Bob Woodson, founder and president emeritus of the Woodson Center; Stephanie Deutsch, author of "You Need a Schoolhouse: Booker T. Washington, Julius Rosenwald, and the Building of Schools for the Segregated South"; and descendants of Booker T. Washington and Julius Rosenwald.

To watch the livestream, go to www.rosenwaldschoolcapecharlesfundraiser.org. An RSVP is required on this site.

Flu Shots

The CDC is urging people to roll up their sleeves again – for a flu shot – warning that this year's flu season may come earlier and be more severe since many people went without a flu shot last year. Eastern Shore Rural Health System continues to offer drive-through flu shot clinics for community members from 9 a.m. to noon at Atlantic Community Health Center Oct. 16; Onley Community Health Center Oct. 23; and Eastville Community Health Center Oct. 30 and Nov. 6. Call in advance to make an appointment.

Domestic Violence Awareness Month

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month and in light of that, Eastern Shore Coalition Against Domestic Violence wants to bring awareness to the issue of domestic violence on the Shore, highlight how survivors can get help, and let people know how they can get involved.

ESCADV also provides literature about domestic violence and sexual assault in English, Spanish, and Creole, as well as pens and bracelets with the hotline number (757-787-1329) on them. If you'd like materials to place in your business, office, or organization, email Outreach and Volunteer Coordinator Jon Bulin at jbulin@escadv.org.

If you or someone you know is experiencing domestic violence, call ESCADV's 24-hour crisis hotline at 757-787-1329 today.

Library Basket Fundraiser

The Eastern Shore Public Library is holding a basket drawing fundraiser to raise money for children's library services. There are 17 baskets and each basket is valued at over $150. Tickets are $5 each and purchasers must put a basket number on the ticket to win. Tickets may be purchased at www.shorelibrary.ourraffle.org or call 757-787-2500. The drawing will be Friday, Dec. 3.

Al-Anon Meeting

The Al-Anon meeting will take place every Wednesday, at 7 p.m., at Franktown United Methodist Church, 7551 Bayside Road.

Happy Birthday Colton

10-19-14-10-26-19

Happy Birthday to our little angel in Heaven. You would be 7 years old on Oct. 19. Our lives were forever changed when you left us, now going on two years ago. We'd give anything to be able to see your face, to see your smile, to hear your voice, to be able to hug you again. It never gets any easier, and we are forever heartbroken. Until the day we meet again, you are always missed and never forgotten. You are forever loved, Colton.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEES' SALE 11436 SCARBOROUGH NECK ROAD BELLE HAVEN, VIRGINIA 23306

In execution of a Deed of Trust dated December 20, 2007, in the original amount of up to $1,200,000.00, recorded as Instrument Number 200706958 in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Accomack County, Virginia, default having been made in the payment of the debt therein secured, and being instructed to do so by the party secured by the Deed of Trust (the "Noteholder"), the undersigned Substitute Trustees, any of whom may act, will on November 3, 2021, at 2:00 p.m., by the front main outside entrance to the building housing the Accomack County Circuit Court, 23316 Courthouse Avenue, Accomac, Virginia 23301, offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder the following real property ("Property") with improvements thereon:

All those certain lots or parcels of land situate near the village of Davis Wharf, Pungoteague Magisterial District, Accomack County, Virginia, on both sides of the public road leading from Davis Wharf down Scarborough's Neck, containing in the aggregate by estimation Eighty-Two Acres (82 A), more or less, and described as follows:

Parcel 1: All that certain tract or parcel of land situate on the North side of the public road running from the Davis Wharf road down Scarborough's Neck, and bounded as follows: on the East by the lands of James Turner formerly owned by Arthur Orme, by the land of Leonard A. Sturgis designated as Tract "C" on a plat made by Fred E. Ruediger, C.S., dated September 21, 1917, marked "The Sturgis Farm on Occahannock Creek, near Davis Wharf" and by the center of a road shown on said plat separating Tracts "B" and "C" on said plat; and on the North and West by the land owned by the heirs of Forrest M. Davis, deceased.

Parcel 2: All that certain tract or parcel of land situate as aforesaid on the South side of the public road running from the Davis Wharf road down Scarborough's Neck, and bounded as follows: on the North by Tract "C" on said plat owned by Leonard A. Sturgis and said public road running from the Davis Wharf road down Scarborough's Neck; on the south by Occahannock Creek, the land of Edward M. J. Buniak, et ux, formerly owned by E. Polk Kellam, and the land of Anne Vieweg formerly owned by Lloyd B. Edgerton and Hazel M. Edgerton; on the West by the land of Edward M. J. Buniak formerly owned by E. Polk Kellam, and the land of Anne R. Vieweg formerly owned by Lloyd B. Edgerton and wife, and the western edge of what is known as the Sturgis Wharf Road; on an the East by the center of a branch emptying into Occahannock Creek and the center of a twelve foot (12 ft.) road between the herein conveyed land and the land of Leonard A. Sturgis designated as Tract "C" on said plat.

Tax Map No. 11700A000003400

A deposit in the form of a cashier's check of $50,000.00 will be required of all bidders at the time of sale, except from a bidder on behalf of the Noteholder or its subsidiary or affiliate. The Noteholder or any subsidiary or affiliate thereof may apply the outstanding amount of the debt under the Note as a credit to its bid.

The deposit, without interest, is applied to the purchase price at settlement. Settlement will be held on or before fifteen (15) days after sale; time being of the essence. Upon purchaser's default, the deposit shall be forfeited and the property may be resold at the risk and costs of the defaulting purchaser. After any such default and forfeiture, the Property and any and all personal property applicable thereto may, at the discretion of the Substitute Trustees, be conveyed to the next highest bidder on the Property whose bid was acceptable to the Substitute Trustees.

The Property and all personal property applicable thereto shall be sold "AS IS" and "WITH ALL FAULTS." Neither the Substitute Trustees nor the Noteholder, nor their respective agents, successors, and assigns, make any representations or warranties with respect to the Property including, without limitation, representations or warranties as to the structural integrity, physical condition, construction, workmanship, materials, habitability, compliance with applicable zoning regulations, fitness for a particular purpose or merchantability of all or any part of the Property or personal property applicable thereto. The purchaser recognizes and agrees that any investigation, examination, or inspection of the Property and personal property applicable thereto being sold is within the control of the owner or other parties in possession and their agents and not within the control of the Substitute Trustees, the Noteholder, or their agents, successors or assigns.

Conveyance of the Property shall be with special warranty and shall be subject to all existing housing, building, zoning and other code violations, if any, subject to all critical area and wetland violations, if any, subject to all environmental problems and violations which may exist on or with respect to the Property, if any, and shall be subject to all recorded and unrecorded liens, encumbrances, security interests, easements, rights-of-way, covenants, agreements, conditions, restrictions, leases, occupancy agreements and mechanics and materialmen's liens, to the extent any of the foregoing may lawfully apply to the Property being sold, or any part thereof, and take priority over the liens and security interests of the Deed of Trust.

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Property will be sold without representation or warranty as to the environmental condition of the Property or the compliance of the Property with federal, state, or local laws and regulations concerning the purchase or disposal of hazardous substances. Acceptance of the deed to the Property shall constitute a waiver of any claims against the Substitute Trustees, the Noteholder, and their respective agents, successors, and assigns, concerning the environmental condition of the Property.

Risk of loss or damage to the Property and personal property applicable thereto shall be borne by the purchaser from and after the strike down of the bid at the foreclosure sale. The purchaser shall pay all closing costs, including the preparation of the Substitute Trustees deed and all taxes and recording costs assessed thereon including, but not limited to, the grantor's tax, settlement fees, title examination charges and title insurance premiums. Real estate taxes prorated to the date of the foreclosure will be paid by the Substitute Trustees. Purchaser shall be responsible for all real estate taxes due on the Property from and after the date of the sale. The Substitute Trustees will not deliver possession of all or any part of the Property being sold.

The Substitute Trustees reserve the right to amend or supplement the terms of sale by verbal announcements during the sale, to modify the requirements for bidders' deposits, to reject any and all bids, to withdraw all or part of the Property from the sale prior to the commencement of bidding, to postpone the sale, and to conduct such other sales as the Substitute Trustees may determine in their discretion.

At the time of sale, the successful bidder shall be required to execute a memorandum of sale (the "Memorandum of Sale") which shall include, by reference, all the terms and conditions contained herein.

The form of Memorandum of Sale is available from the Substitute Trustee upon request and will be available at sale time.

Immediately upon delivery of the deed for the property by the Substitute Trustees, all duties, liabilities, and obligations of the Substitute Trustees, if any, to the purchaser with respect to the Property shall be extinguished.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING

THE ACCOMACK COUNTY BOARD OF ZONING APPEALS WILL HOLD A PUBLIC HEARING ON WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 2021 AT 10 A.M. IN THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS CHAMBERS, ROOM 104, 23296 COURTHOUSE AVENUE, ACCOMAC, VIRGINIA TO AFFORD INTERESTED PERSONS THE OPPORTUNITY TO BE HEARD OR TO PRESENT WRITTEN COMMENTS CONCERNING THE FOLLOWING:

A. VAR-000226-2021: Payne Poultry, LLC. – Tax Map # 42-A-27

A continued hearing to request the following variances from the requirements outlined in Section 106-232 of the Accomack County Poultry Ordinance, to use the property as a confined poultry operation in accordance with Ordinance Section 106-232. The confined poultry operation has not produced chickens since June 2018 and is no longer a non-conforming use.

Variances or relief from the Board of Zoning Appeals are needed for the re-use of the property as a confined poultry operation. The property is located at Tax Map # 42-A-27 located at 32080 Nocks Landing Road, Atlantic, VA and is zoned Agricultural.

Original variance request:

1. A variance of 150 feet pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-232(f)(5)(c), which states “The minimum setbacks for any portion of a confined poultry operation shall be as follows: 200 feet from any property line.”
2. A variance of 129 feet pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-232(f)(5)(f), which states: “The minimum setbacks for any portion of a confined poultry operation shall be as follows: In agricultural zoning districts: 500 feet from incorporated towns or residential zoning district boundaries, improved subdivisions of ten or more lots, and mobile home parks or travel trailer parks with ten or more units, except where tunnel fans are pointed toward the incorporated town or residential zoning district boundary, improved subdivision of ten or more lots, and mobile home park or travel trailer park with ten or more units, in which case the minimum setback shall be 600 feet.”
3. A variance of an estimated 298 feet from the northern poultry house pursuant to Accomack County Code

Section 106-232(f)(5)(a), which states: “The minimum setbacks for any portion of a confined poultry operation shall be as follows: 500 feet from any existing dwelling on an adjacent property, except where tunnel fans are on the end next to the dwelling, in which case the minimum setback shall be 600 feet.”

Additional variances needed:

1. Two variances pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-232(f)(5)(a), which states: “The minimum setbacks for any portion of a confined poultry operation shall be as follows: 500 feet from any existing dwelling on an adjacent property, except where tunnel fans are on the end next to the dwelling, in which case the minimum setback shall be 600 feet.”
 - a. Approximately 130 feet from the dwelling located at 32020 Nocks Landing Road.
 - b. 340 feet from the dwelling located at 32124 Nocks Landing Road.
2. Four variances pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-232(f)(5)(b), which states: “The minimum setbacks for any portion of a confined poultry operation shall be as follows: 400 feet from any existing business on an adjacent property.”
 - a. 345 feet from the building on Parcel # 42-1-B.
 - b. 370 feet from the building on Parcel # 42-A-100
 - c. 100 feet from the building on Parcel # 42-4-C1
 - d. 150 feet from the building on Parcel # 42-4-C2
3. A variance of 180 feet, from the northeast corner of the manure shed affecting three (3) properties, pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-232(f)(5)(c), which states: “The minimum setbacks for any portion of a confined poultry operation shall be as follows: 200 feet from any property line.”
4. A variance of 67 feet pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-232(f)(5)(d), which states “The minimum setbacks for any portion of a confined poultry operation shall be as follows: Two hundred feet from the center of U.S. Route 13, measured from the center of the northbound or southbound lanes, whichever is closer. One hundred twenty-five feet from the center of state or county maintained roads, other than US Route 13, or 150 feet from state or county maintained roads, other than US Route 13, if the tunnel fans directed towards the road.”
5. A variance of 389 feet, from the Southwind Subdivision which effects six (6) properties, pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-232(f)(5)(f), which states: “The minimum setbacks for any portion of a confined poultry operation shall be as follows: In agricultural zoning districts: 500 feet from incorporated towns or residential zoning district boundaries, improved subdivisions of ten or more lots, and mobile home parks or travel trailer parks with ten or more units, except where tunnel fans are pointed toward the incorporated town or residential zoning district boundary, improved subdivision of ten or more lots, and mobile home park or travel trailer park with ten or more units, in which case the minimum setback shall be 600 feet.”

6. A waiver of the vegetative buffer requirement pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-232(g), which states: “Landscaping. A landscaping plan shall be submitted to the zoning administrator demonstrating a vegetative buffer suitable for the visual screening of the confined poultry operation. A vegetative buffer may not be required if sufficient existing vegetation exists as determined by the zoning administrator.”

As an alternative to the variances listed above the Board of Zoning Appeals may grant relief from Section 106-232(j) to re-activate the previous non-conforming use.

B. SUSE-000239-2021: Anita Coburn – Tax Map # 78-A-111

A hearing initiated by Anita Coburn pursuant to Accomack County Code Section 106-53(14) which allows for the use of travel trailers, located outside of travel trailer parks, which are to be occupied for habitation. Mrs. Coburn would like to use a travel trailer for habitation on the property while a residence is being built. The parcel is at Tax Map # 78-A-111 located between 25296 & 25386 Parksley Road, Parksley, and is zoned Agricultural.

Public hearing related materials are available for review at the Building and Zoning Office at 23296 Courthouse Avenue – Room 105 – Accomac, Virginia or <http://www.boarddocs.com/va/coa/Board.nsf/Public> on the Friday prior to each meeting date.

Hit the Pause Button on Track Removal

By John Paffrath

The proposed rails-to-trails bicycle path running the length of the Eastern Shore would be an ideal — although very expensive — addition to what is now a railroad right of way. The bicycle path alone will cost an estimated $139 million to construct and occupy only about 10 feet of the 75-foot wide right of way.

Combining rails AND trails was previously rejected by the Accomack-Norhampton Transportation District Commission (ANTDC). The commission continues to reject rail-and-trail, largely because neither of two railroad operators it approached would step up to run the freight operation.

Now, however, an experienced railroad operator has made an initial offer of $100,000 in cash and $600,000 in equipment and rolling stock to rehabilitate our track and start freight service. This operator made this offer based on his assessment of only the freight potential on our line.

Freight service only begins to tap the line's potential.

New York, Philadelphia, and Norfolk Railroad Resurrection Ltd., a charitable organization, and many Eastern Shore citizens believe that multi-use service, based upon sound operator experience, mixing self-propelled passenger cars, or streetcars, tourist trains, and freight service, will be vastly more profitable than prior rail ventures. Moreover, NYP&N RR and the rail operator are agreed to provide bicycle path maintenance and cyclist assistance.

Unfortunately, the offer comes at a critical juncture. On Monday, contractors will commence final removal of the track.

We ask that ANTDC and Canonic Atlantic pause this track removal immediately. A 90-day delay could avoid destruction of an historic and revenue-capable resource.

During the pause, a combined team of rail experts will audit the track. Proper estimates of necessary repairs will result, providing citizens and commissioners with real numbers.

NYP&N RR staff estimates that repairing the existing track and replacing a half-mile of mainline previously removed near Bloxom will cost between $250,000 and $500,000.

Initially, cars would roll slowly, only up to 10 miles per hour, but the line would be open for business.

Why so little cost? Crews would use equipment pledged by the operator, plus track materials that have been offered to NYP&N RR.

Some may scoff at this amount, since estimates exceeding $27 million have previously been suggested. In truth, the condition of the track is far better than the "excepted" rating that has been applied in a broad-brush manner to the entire line.

The requested delay will serve the additional purpose of allowing estimates of shipping by local firms to be reaffirmed. Perdue Farms recently emailed us their interest in shipping up to 250 cars per year. This would be in addition to 1,700 cars previously estimated by local companies, farmers, and merchants.

Removing track will sever an economic artery of the Eastern Shore. Some say that the land would be "banked" and could someday returned to use as a railroad. That would only come at the cost of millions of dollars and isn't likely.

In the meantime, how many jobs will be lost?

Commissioners, hit the pause button. Citizens, tell your commissioners to do so. John Paffrath is treasurer of New York, Philadelphia, and Norfolk Railroad Resurrection Ltd.

ESVBA Isn't the Fastest

Dear Editor:

Your article states "The ESVBA currently provides the fastest internet speed on the Shore, according to the BroadbandNow website, as stated in the application."

The BroadbandNow website does indeed say ESVBA offers speeds up to 2,000 Mbps in my area (<https://broadbandnow.com/Virginia/Cape-Charles?zip=23310>), but when you click on the ESVBA plans radio button, you find the fastest plans offered are 100 Mbps.

This is a typical bait-and-switch tactic that seems to be the ESVBA modus operandi for doing business, as has been demonstrated over the past decade of broken promises.

Spectrum offers 200, 400, and 1,000 Mbps plans. What is more telling is that I have actually gotten friends using Spectrum to run speed tests on their computers at home and they say they are actually getting the speeds Spectrum advertises.

After researching both companies, I am hoping we can get Spectrum service in my neighborhood.

Give Rail Group a Chance

Dear Editor:

I was pleased to see the article in last week's Post about the pair trying to save the railroad. I hope these two men are successful in their effort.

Three years ago when the supervisors wanted to abandon the rails, I went to all of the meetings. At the time, Spencer Murray said the steel in the rails was too brittle to use. Now the steel is "very good" quality (obviously, since rails were removed in Bloxom to repair a siding in Hallwood), and he is in a hurry to cash in on them.

The article states sale of the rails will offset the cost to remove them. It does not, however, address where the money to put in Rails to Trails bike path will come from ... if ever. A bike path will be expensive to build, a railbike path is already there if they just leave the rails in place. There are a million bicycle paths in this country and to draw tourists you need an attraction in addition to the path. I don't think Route 13 on one side and soybeans on the other are that attraction but a railbike path is its own attraction and all of the hardware needed is right there!

If they can bring back railroad use so much the better. The railroad did not fail because of lack of customers, it failed because it gave such poor service that its customers had to find other transport.

The article states they are seeking protection for the right of way for broadband and ANEC and Hampton Roads Sanitary District proposed forced main. What they are not telling you is that sewer lines are not an allowable use under Rails to Trails.

Why be in such a hurry to destroy 150 years of Eastern Shore history? Let these guys have a chance with the railbike (I will try it) and if they are successful with the trains, to run a tourist train. I will be the first person to buy a ticket.
